BRITISH MISUSE U.S. LEND-LEASE, SAYS SENATOR

Give It Away and Take the Credit.

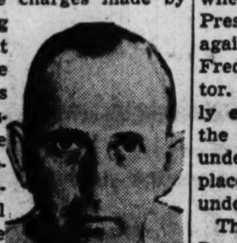
Protection of American interests in the post-war world was demanded yesterday by three national leaders—Sen. Richard B. Russell (D., Ga.), Sen. Albert B. Chandler (D., Ky.), and former President Herbert Hoover. All attacked the problem from divergent viewpoints, but all had one primary objective: realism in American thinking on lend-lease, bases built by the United States overseas, and an integrated foreign policy. The stories on Sen. Chandler and former President Hoover will be found on page 9; that concerning Sen. Russell follows:

RUSSELL'S REPORT

BY JOHNSON KANADY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—Confirmation of the charges made by world girdling senators that American made lend-lease goods have been mishandled by the British came today as Sen. Richard B. Russell [D., Ga.] made public his report on the trip.



Sen. Richard B. Russell.

Russell, an administration stalwart and chairman of the traveling committee, ignored attempts which have been made by the New Deal to hush the controversy aroused by the reports of the five senators given in secret sessions of the senate.

He read his "secret" report in full in open senate session, deleting only those references which would give aid to the enemy. He pulled no punches in censuring the administration's diplomatic efforts as they relate to the war and post-war planning, and blasted the attempt by New Deal agencies abroad to establish what has been termed a world-wide WPA.

Bears Out Suspicions.

Russell's reading of his report bore out unofficial versions of the secret sessions which led to attacks on the five senators by English politicians and newspapers.

Opponents of New Deal policy found in the report confirmation of unofficially expressed suspicions of the five senators that American interests, both now and in the post-war world, are being neglected in favor of the interests of other nations.

To the report Russell appended a rebuke to Prime Minister Winston Churchill of England for commenting on "advice from abroad." He extended his sarcasm to all Britons who have criticized what Russell termed "the expression of opinion made in good faith in the parliamentary bodies of a democracy."

Adds to Charges.

The report added detailed indictments to the general criticism of the British and the New Deal administration which leaked out from the secret sessions.

Among the highlights of Russell's expressed opinions were:

1. England has given American lend-lease goods to Turkey and Russia without making clear the source, thus establishing good will for England at the expense of the United States. In like manner, American lend-lease food has been used by England to feed refugees without credit being given to this country. Russell said the United States should "keep a closer check on the expensive tools of war that we are dealing out on such a gigantic scale under lend-lease arrangements."

Asks U. S. Keep Bases.

2. The United States faces exhaustion of its oil reserves unless petroleum deposits in other parts of the world are utilized. Russia now has refineries and should supply a larger share of high octane gasoline for war.

3. Arrangements should be made

Mine Strikes Again Sent to Roosevelt

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28 (AP).—The war labor board tonight referred the spreading mine strikes to the White House—a step which may lead to government seizure and possibly to penalties against John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers.

The action was taken at the end of a day bringing these developments to increase the threat of a general collapse of bituminous coal production:

1. Lewis in effect rejected the WLB's proposed settlement of the coal wage dispute. He said the WLB formula would reduce basic pay rates. A WLB spokesman replied that Lewis' arithmetic was wrong; that figuring overtime, the formula increased the pay rate.

2. The strikes spread to scores of additional mines with many of those walking out attributing their action to the WLB decision.

Unions Face Penalties.

If the government takes over the mines, as it did earlier this year when strikes were referred to the President, the question of penalties against the union would be one for Fred M. Vinson, stabilization director. He is empowered under recently enacted laws to withhold from the union all rights and privileges under working agreements and to place in escrow union dues collected under the "check-off" system.

The WLB tonight awarded 80,000 Pennsylvania anthracite miners a wage increase of 32.2 cents a day and granted them free tools and mining equipment estimated to be worth between 20 and 25 cents a day. [Details on page 12.]

More than 15,000 bituminous miners quit work during the day—boosting the total of idle in the unauthorized strike to over 60,000—even before Lewis made public his reaction to the WLB's suggested wage compromise.

Calls It Wage Cut.

The miners' chieftain set forth his views by making public the following telegram to district presidents of the United Mine Workers:

"In order to allay confusion indicated by many inquiries I advise as follows: In rejecting the negotiated Illinois agreement and recommending the substitution of its own formula, the war labor board is asking the mine workers of the nation to accept a reduction in their basic hourly rate.

"The existing basic hourly rate is $1 per hour for seven hours' work, or $7 per day.

"The war labor board proposes a rate of $8.12½ for a work day of eight and one-half hours, or an hourly rate of 95½ cents per hour."

Underground Travel Issue.

The current scale of $7 for a seven hour day is figured on time spent by the miner at his working place within the mine. Many miners, however, must spend an hour or more in underground travel before reaching their working places. The Illinois agreement to which Lewis referred called for $8.50 for an eight and one-half hour day, figured from the time the miner entered the mine until he emerged above ground.

The WLB promptly disputed Lewis' analysis. A spokesman said:

"The difficulty with Mr. Lewis' statement is with his mathematics. He leaves out travel time as working time when he calculates the present rate of $1 an hour and he includes it as working time when he calculates what he calls the board's rate of 95½ cents."

LAND NEAR KEY ENEMY BASE IN NO. SOLOMONS

Halsey's Men Chase Foe Into Hills.

Discredit 'Attack'

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 28 (AP).—A telegram sent to Mexico City by the mayor of Tapachula, on the Mexican-Guatemalan border, advising that shots had been heard there, caused a rumor here tonight that foreign airplanes and a warship had attacked the western coast of Mexico, but there was no confirmation. Jose Altamirano, government information chief, said his office knew nothing of such an incident, but said he would investigate. Altamirano said that possibly peasants in the frontier area might have heard shots during maneuvers and become alarmed.

[The Mexican embassy in Washington and the United States war and navy departments likewise said they were unadvised.]

ALLIED HDQ. IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Oct. 29 [Friday].—(AP).—American forces of Adm. William F. Halsey, thrusting toward Japan's last Solomons holdings in front of Rabaul, achieved surprise landings at dawn Wednesday on the two Treasury Islands of Mono and Stirling in the face of mortar fire and chased the defenders into the hills.

At South Pacific headquarters of Adm. Halsey, a spokesman said today the landings 30 miles south of Jap held Bougainville Island were under direct command of Rear Adm. Theodore S. Wilkinson of Rosslyn, Va. Wilkinson sent this message to the landing forces: "Well done by all hands. It was a splendid Navy day show."

Air Umbrella Aids Landings.

Adm. Halsey's spokesman said the landing parties were provided with a powerful air umbrella thruout the operation. Returning pilots told of watching small boats and large landing craft move unimpeded from larger ships to the beaches of the two northern Solomon Islands.

The forces neared the islands under cover of darkness and went ashore at dawn with the aid of a smoke screen and rain squalls. The landings were finished under a screen of shells fired by a naval task force without air opposition.

The enemy mortar fire on the beaches was knocked out in a short time by the landing parties and casualties were slight, the spokesman said.

Mono, the larger island, is seven miles long and five miles wide. It is heavily wooded and hilly, the land rising to more than 1,100 feet in some areas. There is a plantation on Stirling, which is four miles long and less than a mile wide. The islands are separated by Blanche harbor, a fair one for small craft.

Bomb Other Bases.

It was the first offensive move in that sector since the last Japanese were routed in the first week of October from the central Solomons, including Vella Lavella, 45 miles southeast of Mono.

Airacobras, meantime, downed six enemy bombers and six fighter planes in the Finschhafen, New Guinea, area, today's bulletin said.

Off Ubili, New Britain, Liberator bombers scored a direct hit on a destroyer and left it in flames.

FLOGGING OF BOY BY COURT STIRS BRITISH INQUIRY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Herbert Morrison, minister of home security, today told the house of commons an inquiry will be made into the scandal which arose when a high court denounced the flogging of an 11 year old boy in Hereford and his removal by court order from the care of his parents for seven years.

Morrison said his investigation will cover the conduct of prosecutions by the police and of the proceedings of juvenile courts.

Protests against flogging have become so strong that Ireland's ministry of justice has remitted sentences imposed on four boys who were ordered birched for housebreaking and theft.

RCAF Flyer Admits Killing Wife

AN ACCOLADE FOR GRANDFATHERS

Tells How He Beat Heiress in Bedroom

New York, Oct. 28 [Special].—His stoicism broken after 16 hours of questioning, Wayne Lonergan, 26 year old Canadian air force cadet, signed a confession late today that he strangled and beat to death his heiress wife, Patricia, 22, in the bedroom of her luxurious apartment Sunday morning.

His admission solved a murder case with a background of millions of dollars, an estranged husband and wife going their separate ways and all night parties, all in a setting of noted New York night clubs and exclusive Beekman Hill.

Lonergan was quoted as having said he killed his wife during a quarrel in which she accused him of perversion, he charged her with intimacies with other men, and she refused to allow him to see their 18 month old son.

Night of Drinking.

A composite of authorities' reports of events he described at the scene of the slaying was as follows:

After a night of cafe society dining and drinking, in which Lonergan and his estranged mate participated in different parties, the flyer went to his wife's three floor apartment about 8:45 a. m. Sunday. His main purpose, he said, was to see his son.

"He knocked on his wife's door and she admitted him," Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan related. "She apparently had been in bed, and after admitting him she returned to bed."

The ensuing conversation, in part, took place between the couple, according to the confessed slayer:

Lonergan—I understand you are the belle of El Morocco [one of New York's swankiest night clubs].

His wife—Your behavior hasn't been so good, either.

Lonergan—Where is the baby?

His wife—He's in bed. Don't go in.

Lonergan—Well, I want to go in!

"Come Back Later."

His wife—No, don't go in. You'll disturb him. Come back later and see him.

Lonergan—I can't. I have a luncheon date with a girl.

His wife—Come to lunch with me.

Lonergan—I can't. This is a previous date.

His wife—I'm amazed. I can't control my men.

Then, as Lonergan was about to leave, his wife added—You're not going to see the baby.

Furious, the story continued, he picked up a heavy, antique brass candlestick and struck her on the head as she lay in bed.

Candle Holder Breaks.

"The candle holder broke when he hit her," Hogan said the confession disclosed. "Altho stunned, she got out of bed and seized him, scratching his face. He struggled with her and choked her. Then he hit her with another candlestick and left her on the bed."

From there, Lonergan went to the apartment of a friend, John Harjes, a member of an international banking family who had given him permission to use the place during the owner's absence. He removed his blood spattered uniform and donned one of Harjes' suits and was served breakfast by Harjes' butler.

With his uniform wrapped in paper, he rode an eastbound bus to the East river and hurled the

Parolee Held for Bedroom Slaying Quiz

Lubbock, Tex., Oct. 28 [Special].—James C. Thomas, an ex-convict bank robber, now on parole from the Texas penitentiary, was arrested last night in Galveston and brought here today for questioning in the bedroom slaying Tuesday of Dr. and Mrs. Roy Hunt in their home in Littlefield.

Texas rangers, who are assisting Sheriff Sam Hutson, said Thomas was held as a parole violator. Previously the sheriff disclosed he was working on the theory the man who committed the double murder was a killer hired for the job.

Described by Daughter.

The killer was "a big man with a mask on," the police were told by the daughter of the slain couple, Jo Ann Hunt, 5 years old, who said she surprised the intruder in her parents' bedroom, and that he shoved her into a closet after dousing her with a liquid that smelled like gasoline. The liquid probably was chloroform, the sheriff said.

Federal bureau of investigation records showed Thomas was sentenced to three years in Texas penitentiary for theft in 1917. In 1931 he was sentenced to 25 years in Lincoln [Neb.] State prison for bank robbery and served 10 years of the term. In 1941, while he was free on bond on a robbery charge, he fought a gun duel with a special guard at a country home near here, and was sentenced to five years in prison for assault to murder.

Paroled Last May.

Thomas was taken to prison to serve this sentence last March 1, but was paroled May 13 in order to receive surgical treatment on his leg, which was wounded in the duel with the guard.

Eighteen months ago Dr. Hunt was shot and seriously wounded. A medical school classmate, Dr. William R. Newton, was convicted of this crime and sentenced to seven years in prison. He is at liberty on appeal, and his wife, indicted on the same charge, was to have been brought to trial next month. The Newtons told police they were at their home in Cameron, 445 miles from Littlefield, on Monday night and Tuesday.

Stimson Unaware of Any Change for MacArthur

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28 (AP).—Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson said today that as far as he knows there has been "no change regarding the status" of Gen. MacArthur, Southwestern Pacific commander. Stimson's comment at a press conference was in reply to a question about the policy of retiring officers of the rank of major general and above who reach the age of 64, unless they have particular qualifications. MacArthur will be 64 Jan. 26.

GIRLS JAM ENTRANCE FOR PEEK AT GABLE; FIND MRS. ROOSEVELT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—A rumor that Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, wife of the President, was bringing Capt. Clark Gable of the army air forces and formerly of the movies to the social security building today impelled hundreds of girl clerks—and some elderly women—to pack the main floor entrance.

The crowd picked up the cry, "Clark Gable is coming, Clark Gable is coming," and brought more girls hurrying down escalators and elevators. Their gayety turned to disappointment when Mrs. Roosevelt appeared without Gable.

Mrs. Roosevelt hurried to a meeting of the women's advisory committee of the war man power commission, where she told of her experiences on a tour of south Pacific combat zones. She told the committee American soldiers will have difficulty adjusting themselves when they return home after the war.

Puts Waukegan in Place —and It's Not Caribbean

City Clerk John E. Bowers of Waukegan received a letter yesterday from Pvt. Vernon H. Scheskie, 26 years old, whose home is at 1517 Catalpa avenue, Waukegan. The letter, mailed from an island in the Caribbean, said: "I have received your notice that my city vehicle license has not been paid. If you can arrange it so I can use the vehicle tag, I'll promise to buy a spare one, and also next year's in advance."

Rules Wife's Home Savings Are Husband's

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Money saved by a wife out of her housekeeping allowance or from payment made by lodgers belongs to her husband, the British Court of Appeal ruled today.

The court dismissed an appeal by Mrs. Dorothy Ursula Blackwell against a previous Oxford County court judgment awarding $412 in the Oxford Coöperative society to her husband. All three Court of Appeal judges agreed in dismissing the appeal.

Lord Justice Rayner Goddard took the view that if a wife were allowed to keep money saved from housekeeping expenses she might skimp on meals.

"Who Is Her Employer?"

Justice Goddard countered the argument that housekeeping is a skilled occupation and a wife is entitled to make a profit by asking: "If so, who is her employer? I would be very sorry to lay down that a wife is her husband's servant. . . . It would be a dreadful thing if it were held that money saved by a wife belonged to her. It would mean every husband in a working class household would be tempted to stint his wife as much as he could."

Justice Arthur Luxmoor also shuddered at the thought. "If we were to decide that," the justice said, "I can imagine what an uproar there would be. We cannot upset a law which has been settled for years."

Feminists Aroused.

The Court of Appeal decision aroused the ire of feminist organizations, who contend it was based on outdated notions of masculine superiority and revealed the feudal basis of the husband-wife relationship in English law. The Married Women's association, which is keenly interested in Mrs. Blackwell's case, intends to carry an appeal to the house of lords.

Altho violently opposed politically, the Communist Daily Worker and the conservative Daily Sketch, found themselves in the same camp in support of the housewife. The Daily Worker said: "Women today are doing every job under the sun, sometimes a lot better than men." The Daily Sketch insisted alteration of the law "must be effected by parliament."

TRIAL BOARD'S AID PLEDGED IN POLICE PURGE

Gaming Jury Votes to Indict 15 More.

BY JAMES DOHERTY.

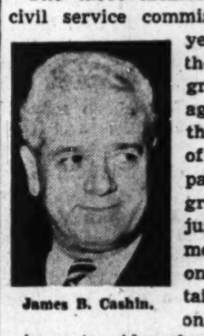
The three members of the city civil service commission appeared yesterday before the anti-gambling grand jury and agreed to aid in the redemption of the police department. The grand jury had just voted indictments naming one police captain and 14 others on charges of conspiracy to aid and abet the operation of gambling houses. More indictments are expected today.



James B. Cashin.

The jurors were winding up a hectic month's session during which they indicted nine gambling gangsters charged with the murder of Martin [Sonny Boy] Quirk, a regional boss of the Guzik gambling syndicate.

Today the jury is to hear Judge Oscar Caplan of the Racket court, a branch of the Municipal court. Last night it heard Village President George Stedronsky of Cicero and told him the village had better select a chief of police free from the influence of the Guzik gang who would not permit gambling.

Two Sat in McCormick Case.

The civil service commissioners, who act as a trial board for police accused of derelictions of duty or unbecoming conduct, are Walter L. Gregory, chairman, who is vice president of the Palmer House; William F. Clarke, dean of the De Paul university law school, and James B. Cashin, Negro attorney.

Gregory and Clarke are Democrats. Cashin is a Republican. Gregory and Cashin were on the commission last spring when Police Capt. Martin E. McCormick and three policemen who served with him on the morals squad were restored to duty. The late John P. Harding was then chairman of the commission.

A history of the McCormick case, in brief, is as follows:

Capt. McCormick and Sergeants Fred Trauth, James Kehoe, and Tom Lee were charged with inefficiency, neglect of duty, and the making of false official reports. State's Atty. Courtney prosecuted them. A city civil service commission, then headed by Joseph B. Geary, found them not guilty.

Disregarded Opinions.

This decision was protested by the Chicago Crime commission and many civic agencies. A special committee, of which Federal Judge William J. Campbell was chairman, found that the civil service commission decision was improper and that the policemen should have been discharged as they were proved guilty. Mayor Kelly then appointed a new commission of Harding, Gregory, and Cashin.

Courtney and Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes both gave opinions that it would be legal to retry the four policemen. But the new trial board decided otherwise, and without notice ordered the four policemen restored to duty.

What Gregory Told Jury.

Chairman Gregory's examination regarding the McCormick case was said to have proceeded as follows:

Q.—What was the reason for the decision not to retry McCormick and the three policemen? A.—We reached the conclusion a second trial would be illegal.

Q.—Why didn't you tell the state's attorney you were going to make such a finding? A.—I thought the state's attorney was notified. I am surprised to learn he was not.

Q.—Was your decision dictated from any unnamed source? A.—No, it was our own decision.

Q.—How was it that you acted contrary to legal opinions by the state's attorney and the corporation counsel? A.—I acted on a legal opinion—not a written one, however—from my personal attorney, Mr. Whipp.

Q.—Who wrote the opinion re-dered by your board? A.—I don't know who put it together.

Q.—What was the basis of the theory that double jeopardy was involved? A.—It was the lawyer's opinion that the policemen couldn't be tried by the civil service board for the same reason that a person once found not guilty of a criminal charge may not be tried the second time for the same offense.

Q.—Why didn't the commission make its own investigations of the McCormick case and of other instances in which police were charged with dereliction of duty, in view of the statute which says the civil service commission shall make such inquiries? A.—We had believed that Allman was doing a good job in running the police department and we didn't see any reason for stepping in.

Q.—Didn't you ever have any information on how inefficient the police were against gambling. A.—Not till I read about it in the newspapers. It was our policy to presume that all the city department heads were doing a good job and we did so presume.

Discipline Was Lacking.

Q.—But do you now think differently? A.—It appears that discipline was lacking in the department.

Q.—The mayor passed the blame to Allman who passed it to the captains and to the civil service commission, and now you pass it back to Allman. Who is there to protect the public against such inefficiency? We are now calling the commission's attention to lax police work in several districts. A.—This is the first time a complaint has been made to us.

The interviews with Commissioner Clarke and Cashin were short and to the point.

Courtney told all of them, and the grand jury, that when McCormick escaped punishment, other police captains were emboldened and were convinced no one would be discharged if gambling was tolerated. After McCormick was restored to duty, Courtney charged, handbooks reopened all over the city.

John Williams, named in one of the true bills reported yesterday, ran a gambling house at 3227 West 63d street, three blocks from the police station where Capt. Malone was in command.

Those said to have been named in the new true bills and the charges, were:

Capt. Malone, charged with malfeasance in office.

Capt. Malone, Policeman George Gore, head of the detectives at the Chicago Lawn station, and Williams, charged with conspiracy to aid and abet the operation of a gambling house.

Sgt. David Berkson and Deputy Sheriff Chester Wiktorski, both of the county highway police, charged with conspiracy along with a number of alleged gamblers.

Cicero Plot Charged.

Constantinos Mologonsis, alias Sam Romano, alleged keeper of a gambling house at 4730 Cermak road, in Cicero, and known as the Rock Gardens; John Zito, alias Joseph Randall; John Demetrius Stathakoz, alias Frank Sessa, and Paul Denora, charged with conspiracy. They were arrested in what was termed a fake raid by the county police on Oct. 7.

Amato Mongelluzzo, Mike Caruso, alias Al Plumer; Emil Langstein, Harold Wisema, Anthony Wisema, Anthony Marfisi, and Everett Torode, charged with conspiracy. They were arrested by state's attorney's police shortly after the county police had arrested Mologonsis and the four named with him.

Other indictments naming county highway police of higher rank are expected to be voted by the jury before it adjourns.

Police Commissioner Allman suspended Capt. Malone and Policeman Gore as a result of their indictment. The sheriff's office had suspended Sgt. Berkson several weeks ago. Captains Walter Healy of the Hyde Park district and Tom Connelly of Summerdale were suspended earlier in the inquiry.

Which other captains Allman is going to suspend and when, as he promised the grand jury Wednesday, was an unanswered question. Allman held a press conference, but said nothing about carrying out the shakeup pledges he and Mayor Kelly made.

It was said Judge Caplan was to be asked about a gambling raid in which Policeman Harry Goelz of the commissioner's office was slugged by gamblers.

CAPT. FRANK MALONE.

Capt. Frank M. Malone of the Chicago Lawn station, home district of County Clerk Michael J. Flynn, 13th ward Democratic committeeman, is a chunky, quiet mannered man, who served in both the Spanish-American and first World wars.

He joined the department in October, 1906; became a sergeant in November, 1913; a lieutenant in 1924, and a captain in 1939. He has received one creditable mention. His present suspension is his second. He was suspended by Commissioner Allman from July 23 to Aug. 19, 1941, after police from Allman's office raided a handbook in Capt. Malone's Sheffield avenue district.

He is 60 years old and lives with his wife and two daughters at 5827 West End avenue.

CAPT. WALTER HEALY.

Capt. Walter F. Healy of the Hyde Park station, tall, slender, graying, and alert in manner, has been a member of the department since February, 1915. He became a sergeant on Feb. 6, 1923; a lieutenant on Feb. 6, 1931, and a captain on Nov. 6, 1940. He has the reputation of being a good captain to work for.

His record as a policeman includes two extra compensations for meritorious service and 10 creditable mentions. This is his first suspension.

In 1940 he took over the Chicago Lawn station and was moved to Hyde Park the next year.

He is 55 years old and lives at 8313 South Ada street with his wife and their daughter, June.

CAPT. TOM CONNELLY.

Capt. Thomas E. Connelly, red haired and Irish, was appointed a patrolman in June, 1922. Twelve years later he became a sergeant and his rise thereafter was rapid. He was a lieutenant in 1936 and a captain in 1938. For a time he served as a guard for Mayor Kelly.

His record includes six extra compensations and 15 creditable mentions. He won THE TRIBUNE'S hero award in 1938 for saving a fellow policeman's life in a gun duel with a desperado.

In 1925, while still a patrolman, he was commended for shooting and killing a bandit. He has been in command of the Summerdale station since July, 1942.

He is 45 years old and lives at 7949 South Wood street.

OPA OVERRULES JUDGE ON FOOD RATION PENALTY

Decides 'Evil Intent' Has No Bearing.

Judge Fred Egan of the Superior court of Hammond, Ind., who volunteered to act as presiding officer in an office of price administration hearing and recommended leniency for nine food merchants charged with overdrawing their ration banking accounts, was overruled in summary fashion yesterday by W. M. McFarland, OPA's Chicago hearing commissioner.

Judge Egan, after hearing the evidence against the nine owners of markets, restaurants, and taverns had recommended one day suspensions in two cases, brief suspensions in several, and suggested that orders be stayed or not issued in the others.

Disregarding the Indiana jurist's experience in weighing evidence in hundreds of court cases McFarland issued a statement in which he indicated that because Judge Egan was hearing his first OPA case, he had been in error in his refusal to assess penalties where no intent to violate OPA regulations was shown.

Rules Out Intent.

McFarland said: "Carelessness, whether it be direct or by failure to provide competent help, can divert scarce commodities to unessential uses just as much as can be done by evil intent. In time of war, no one can be allowed to handle these scarce commodities who is not in a position to comply with the war time regulations.

"Even tho all these respondents are honest and had no evil intent, if their repeated violations are to be completely condoned, then the ration banking provision of the regulation might as well be abandoned."

Instead of leniency McFarland ordered the nine to suspend all dealings in rationed commodities for 15 days. He did concede that if the nine bring their ration accounts into balance within two days their business will be suspended only for the two days, but otherwise they are barred from handling any rationed commodities for the full 15 days.

Establishments Affected.

The suspension order is against these respondents: Al's Quality market, 21 Pulaski road, Calumet City; Ackerman's market, 437 Indiana avenue, Hammond; O'Donnell's restaurant, 5639 Hohman avenue, Hammond; Bob's tavern, 103 Plummer street, Calumet City; Blue Top restaurant, Highland, Ind.; Morry's Black Oak market, 7294 Black Oak road, Hammond; John P. Goranowski's grocery, 417 155th street, Calumet City; The Indiana cafe, 745 Ridge avenue, Munster, Ind., and The Hohman Soda bar, 5231 Hohman avenue, Hammond.

When informed of McFarland's ruling Judge Egan said: "When I heard the cases I acted as a presiding magistrate and knew that my ruling and determination were subject to review by the hearing commissioner."

He added he had no comment to make on McFarland's decision and said that in any event it would not deter from hearing similar cases in the future if they were brought before him.

CAPT. BOETTIGER, F.D.R. SON-IN-LAW, ON ITALIAN FRONT

WITH THE 5TH ARMY IN ITALY, Oct. 27 [Delayed]—(AP).—Capt. John Boettiger, publisher of the Seattle Post-Intelligencer and son-in-law of President Roosevelt, has been serving as a liaison officer on this front since landing with the first American troops at Salerno.

Boettiger, a former Chicago Tribune reporter, was the only AMG officer to cross the beach with combat teams on the day of the original landing. He went ashore charged with the job of organizing transport for AMG [allied military government] so that it might start its administrative work without delay. Boettiger's party ran into powerful resistance and it was impossible for him to do the job assigned to him, but he stayed ashore.

German artillery worked up and down the beach and there were bursts from machine gun nests as well as aerial bombing and strafing. Boettiger thumbed a ride in a jeep and in a thousand yard drive he and the driver had to jump to cover five times because of bombs and shells. It was several days before the situation permitted him to go about rounding up vehicles and during this time he spent nights in the open and had another close call when Germans launched a counter-attack in his sector.

POLICE DESTROY SLOT MACHINES AND PIN GAMES

Sixty slot machines and pin ball games, known on police inventories as "gambling devices" and representing an estimated cash value of more than $10,000 on today's open market, went under the ax yesterday and were reduced to an almost worthless pile of junk. The broken metal and copper wiring of the machines will be salvaged.

Half a dozen detectives under the direction of Capt. Michael Naughton of Commissioner Allman's office, who had seized the machines in a series of raids during the last year, smashed the boxes in the basement of police headquarters. Twenty-six of the "one armed bandit" type were seized when police raided the lake steamer City of Grand Rapids. Several others were found when police raided the Winner Sales company, 3400 Armitage avenue.

DEFENSE BLASTS FINGER PRINT IN MARIGNY'S TRIAL

Opens Fire as the Justice Admits Evidence.

NASSAU, Bahamas, Oct. 28 (AP).—A finger print went into the records against Alfred de Marigny today, but his attorneys sought to soften the impact on the jury trying him for the murder of Harry Oakes by raising two doubts about the evidence.

Hoarse and excited, Chief Defense Counsel Godfrey Higgs shouted questions in the Bahamas Supreme court room until he brought out that no one can point to the exact spot on a bedscreen from which the disputed print was taken.

Then he turned upon Capt. James O. Barker to question the qualification of the Miami, Fla., detective who introduced the finger print—the crown's principal evidence in an effort to prove De Marigny beat and burned his millionaire father-in-law to death the night of July 7-8.

Marigny Grimaces, Smiles.

The usually impassive De Marigny, somewhat flushed because of a cold, grimaced when Chief Justice Oscar Bedford Daly ruled that the print was admissible. Then he shrugged, settled back on his bench in the prisoner's cage, and smiled.

After pondering the question overnight, Daly held that it was up to the jury to decide the weight of the evidence and whether the print exhibited by Barker actually was lifted from the bedscreen which witnesses have said stood in the bedroom of the British baronet at the time of the slaying.

Thus he set a precedent for British courts. Attorneys said it is the first time a jurist has ruled in the British empire that a print lifted onto scotch tape or adhesive rubber is good evidence.

Higgs had asserted there are no fingerprints on the screen now and that the evidence is inadmissable because there is only Barker's uncorroborated word to support it.

Not Certain About Site of Print.

Cross-examining Barker, Higgs motioned to the figured screen which stood near the bench and asked about pencil marks that ringed an area.

"I cannot definitely say," Barker replied, "that the right [little finger] print came from the part marked on the panel with the blue pencil. But I can say that it came from the top of the panel."

He added that he and Frank Conway, New York police finger print expert, examined the screen again a week ago "and found we are unable to say with certainty this is where the print came from."

Barker said he drew a black pencil mark around the area Aug. 1 and initialed it, along with the date of July 9—the day after Oakes' body was discovered by Harold G. Christie, a house guest at his estate, Westbourne.

"Then until Aug. 1 there was nothing on that screen to indicate where the print came from?" Higgs demanded.

"Nothing but my memory," said Barker.

Raises Another Uncertainty.

"Yet on the 3d day of August in magistrate's court you swore an oath you marked that area on the screen with a pencil, and it is now within the area marked with a blue pencil and initialed and dated 8-3-43?"

"I did."

"You marked this area in blue in Magistrate's court and said this is where the print came from?"

"I did."

"Why?"

"I am not sure now."

Higgs suggested Leonard Keeler, Chicago criminologist and defense investigation expert, had demonstrated that the print could not have been found in the marked area.

"I didn't know that," the officer replied.

Attacking Barker's qualifications, Higgs asked:

"After five months as a clerk in the Miami identification bureau, you were made superintendent?"

"That is correct."

Calls Himself an Expert.

"Is it customary to appoint a man with so little experience as superintendent?"

"No, sir."

"Do you consider yourself a finger print expert?"

"I think I am."

The officer testified that Christie twice had been examined, without result, for burned hairs. Yesterday he told of finding singed hairs on the hands and arms of De Marigny, adding that he believed any one in the bedroom at the time of Oakes' slaying would have tell-tale burns.

"Did you find a single legible print of Harold Christie?" Higgs asked.

"I found none," replied Barker.

"You found none of Sir Harry?"

"No, I found none."

Discuss Marks on Wall.

Higgs turned his questioning to some marks on the bedroom wall and suggested they were made by a small hand. When the question arose whether his hands are large or small, De Marigny smilingly held his hand above the prisoner's cage and Justice Daly asked Barker:

"What do you say, Capt. Barker?"

"He has a large hand," the witness replied.

"Did you exclude the possibility of accomplices?" the attorney asked.

"I did not exclude, or did I advance the theory that the attacker had accomplices," said Barker.

SEEK RELATIVES TO AID HUNT FOR PISANO SLAYER

Police yesterday turned to a search for relatives of John Pisano, former juke box chain operator, in the hope that they might furnish a clew or motive to his slaying. Pisano, who was 50 years old, was found shot thru the head three times by two different caliber guns in his automobile parked at 2515 Congress street Wednesday morning.

Capt. Thomas Harrison said he was seeking a woman named Ann, referred to as a friend in a letter found in the slain man's room in the Alcazar hotel, 3000 Washington boulevard. Also being sought was a man known only as Al, who police said they learned, worked as a repairman for Pisano. It was hoped, police said, that these associates might shed some light on the murder.

Pisano's body, dead more than 12 hours, was found by a school girl. In his pockets police found more than 20 keys used to open juke boxes. A copy of his income tax form revealed he had paid taxes for the operation of 22 of the music boxes. His body was identified by Tony Pesciotta, 5036 Congress street, a former partner.

CHICAGO GUNNER GETS AWARD FOR FIVE MISSIONS

A survivor of two of the biggest raids made thus far on Germany—those on Muenster and Schweinfurt—Staff Sgt. Reece Donley, 20 years old, a tail gunner on a Flying Fortress, has written his parents that he has received an oak leaf cluster for five missions. He previously had received the air medal.

Sgt. Donley, a graduate of Senn High school, is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmo G. Donley, 1308 Granville avenue.

Staff Sgt. Robert J. Hardcastle, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Hardcastle, 335 Powell avenue, Waukegan, was reported missing in action over Europe since Oct. 14, the date of the big raid on Schweinfurt. His parents received the news in a war department message yesterday.

The Hardcastles had received earlier in the day a letter from their son, dated Sept. 30, at a recreation camp in England.

STOLEN AUTO CLEW IN SLAYING OF CADET NURSE

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Oct. 28 (AP).—Blood-stained rocks, a stolen automobile, and a description of a man furnished possible leads tonight in the search for the slayer of Lucille E. Lawrence, 19 year old Vassar hospital army cadet nurse.

Her body, the head and face virtually pulverized, was found yesterday in a field 150 feet from the hospital. Dr. Howard P. Carpenter, Dutchess county deputy medical examiner, said her head apparently had been bashed against rocks protruding from the field. Dr. Carpenter reported preliminary examination disclosed no evidence Miss Lawrence had been raped.

The automobile, reported stolen Tuesday night from a parking place near the hospital, was found abandoned today near Peekskill, N. Y. Schwartz said two soldiers were last seen in the car and the destination of one was known.

TRIB-BUNA SAVES FOOD, FEED, OIL, SENATORS AGREE

Accomplishment Lauded by Gillette Committee.

BY HAL FOUST.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—Members of the Gillette committee lauded the Chicago Tribune tire test project today as they inspected Trib-Buna rubber which has carried a passenger car and a light truck the equivalent of five transcontinental tours.

"Your experience gives promise of American freedom from foreign rubber monopolies," said Sen. Guy M. Gillette [D., Ia.], committee chairman. "It strengthens my conclusion that American rubber requirements in the future will be supplied to a large measure by the synthetic industry in which the taxpayers have invested 650 million dollars in plant equipment.

Made from Sulphite Waste.

"You have demonstrated that good tire rubber can be made of farm surpluses and forestry wastes without tapping our irreplacable reserves of petroleum. You have demonstrated that forestry wastes as a source for rubber raw material should be developed to conserve petroleum and for full use when farm surpluses are exhausted."

The Trib-Buna was manufactured under the same formula as the government's standard Buna-S synthetic except that the main ingredient, butadiene, was converted from alcohol salvaged from waste sulphite liquor at the Tribune's Canadian wood pulp mills.

"Your process saves food, feed, and petroleum," said Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.]. "I recall that the war production board refused to grant you priorities for the construction of your alcohol plant. You are to be congratulated on the accomplishment of your war enterprise without government assistance."

Canada, U. S. Offered Process.

"In my state we have a special interest in this sulphite liquor alcohol process as introduced to the western hemisphere by THE TRIBUNE," said Sen. George D. Aiken [R., Vt.]. "We make woodpulp in Vermont. If we can make alcohol at the same time it would raise our bid for scarce man power and equipment. The woodpulp industry would have a better chance to maintain production of newsprint."

Col. Robert R. McCormick, editor and publisher of THE TRIBUNE, has offered the entire woodpulp industries of Canada and the United States the benefit of experience in design and operation at his pioneer sulphite plant.

Love Fraud Defendants Arraigned

Mrs. Rose Hastings and her divorced husband, Ross Hastings, in court at La Crosse, Wis.

Deny Guilt

La Crosse, Wis., Oct. 28 (AP).—Ross W. Hastings, 30 year old itinerant tree surgeon; his former wife, Rose, 26, and Owen McCabe, 25, pleaded innocent in County court today to charges of swindling Mrs. Dean Ladd Kidder, wealthy 60 year old widow, of $6,385.

Judge Leonard Roraff ordered the three held under bond of $5,000 each pending preliminary hearing Nov. 6. They were charged with obtaining money under false pretenses and conspiracy to defraud after kidnaping charges against the two men had been quashed.

Shortly before the court appearance Hastings was served with annulment papers filed by Mrs. Kidder who charged her marriage to Hastings at Pekin, Ill., last Friday was based on fraud. They were married a few hours after Mrs. Rose Hastings obtained a divorce. Meanwhile Chief of Police H. F. Rick filed a petition with the County court asking a guardian for Mrs. Kidder to tie up all of her funds for her own protection.

MINTS TURNING OUT 5 MILLION PENNIES DAILY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—The treasury, which has expressed concern over the scarcity of pennies, reported today mints are turning out the new steel and zinc pennies at a rate of more than 5 million a day and can't keep up with the demand.

With Christmas coming and record holiday sales in prospect, the penny shortage is critical, treasury officials said. The mints produced 156 million pennies last month and will equal or surpass this figure in October, officials said.

They said there is no plan to recall the steel pennies. Mints will continue to make them until Jan. 1, when production of a copper alloy penny, made largely from salvaged shell casings, is scheduled to begin. Meanwhile officials said they are considering another "empty the piggy banks" campaign to get old pennies back into circulation.

BAKERY FIGHTS FEDERAL BREAD SAMPLE CHARGE

John E. Devereux, attorney for the New Process Baking company, at 2883 Hillock avenue, which is charged with giving away bread in violation of food distribution administration regulations, contended at a hearing yesterday that the bakery gave bread to only the United Service organizations and charities that asked for it. He said the company did not give samples as a sales promotion stunt and also denied an FDA charge that excessive sugar was used in making the bread. Richard F. Roche, attorney for the department of agriculture, who presided at the hearing at 208 South La Salle street, said he will submit the evidence to the department in Washington, D. C., for a decision.

1944 Auto Applications to Be Accepted Nov. 6

Motorists may apply for their 1944 Illinois automobile license plates, beginning Nov. 6, it was announced yesterday by the office of Secretary of State Edward J. Hughes. The new plates will have cream numerals on a coffee brown background. Passenger car plates will be constructed of fiber.

NEW SYNTHETIC RUBBER METHOD SLASHES TIME

Linwood, Pa., Oct. 28.—A new way to make synthetic rubber—which in pilot plant tests is credited with producing rubber "in a matter of minutes instead of hours"—has been developed by the Houdry laboratories here.

Chemists of the laboratories say that, whereas the standard process of the rubber industry for making the synthetic product requires 12 hours, the new process in experimental tests conducted so far "produces rubber in but a fraction of an hour."

They say the pilot plant stage has been completed and that the process now is "ready for commercial development."

Have Tires on Road.

Sufficient rubber already has been produced by the process, they report, to make a number of tires that are being road tested.

One of the tires, a chemist declared, has been used on a taxicab and "went 7,000 miles before it failed—and then it was the carcass that gave way and not the synthetic rubber."

The usual ingredients—butadiene and styrene—are used in the Houdry process. But the method of operation is different. Standard processes employ a "batch" operation for mixing the butadiene and styrene to produce the milky white rubber latex. In such an operation various batch units are operated in series to "simulate" a continuous production of latex.

Now Continuous Performance.

In the new technique, they say, production of the latex is actually a continuous performance with "a decided saving of time." Only one main piece of equipment is required, they relate—a cylinder into which the butadiene and styrene are fed at one end and the latex comes out at the other end, like toothpaste from a tube.

An official of the federal rubber director's office in Washington said that the Houdry experiments have been under study for some time and the results to date are "interesting."

The experiments were carried on under the direction of Eugene J. Houdry, French-American engineer who also developed a process which is now widely used in the production of 100 octane aviation gasoline.

DEMANDS THAT NAVY PURCHASE OIL FIRM'S RIGHTS AT ELK HILLS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28 (AP).—Congress should require the navy department to purchase, by condemnation if necessary, holdings of the Standard Oil Company of California in the Elk Hills [Cal.] oil reserve, Rep. Jerry Voorhis [D., Cal.] told the house today.

Contending no other solution would protect the Elk Hills oil, subject earlier this year of a congressional investigation, Voorhis said: "This congress ought to require such a policy to be followed."

Noting that the navy and Standard Oil of California were continuing operations under an interim agreement, Voorhis, who first protested the now canceled original Elk Hills contract, said two courses could be followed:

1. Turn the Elk Hills reserve over to the Standard Oil company, which now owns one-third of it, to be operated under a contract, or

2. Purchase by the navy of the company's share. The federal government now owns two-thirds of the reserve.

ALPACA LINED HUNTING SUIT

Coat, $30—Trousers, $22.50

Here's a great two-piece outfit for all cold-weather sports—warm enough for a duck blind or a wind-sled—yet light enough for skeet—smart enough for field trials. The inside reason for its versatility is a light, but exceedingly warm lining of 100% Alpaca wool covered by tan, wind-proofed cotton poplin, Zelan-treated for resistance to moisture. Other features: windcuffs; a no-draft, elastic belt (inside coat); a hood that can be converted into a large collar; bird-shooter trousers with front-leg shell pockets.

REDS SEIZE KEY ROAD JUNCTION IN 12 MILE DRIVE

Flank Vital Krivoi Rog on Three Sides.

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP).—Russian troops, racing westward to close a Dnieper bend trap on hundreds of thousands of Germans, today reached the last road to Perekop, escape hatch leading out of the Crimea, with the capture of a highway hub in the heart of the Nogaisk steppes.

Another Red army battling the Germans inside the bend veered 35 miles northwest of besieged Krivoi Rog to capture Marianovka, thus cutting the last north-south railroad available to the enemy east of the Bug river, a Moscow bulletin recorded by the soviet monitor disclosed.

Russia's southern "desert army" gained 12 miles during the day and overran 30 villages, including one only 27 miles southeast of Nikopol, German-held manganese center on the Dnieper river just inside the bend. Here the Russians were 175 miles southwest of Kharkov.

Claim Nazis Speed Retreat.

The captured highway junction 46 miles west of Melitopol was the big prize of the southern sweep. It controls the road leading 60 miles southwestward to Perekop, thru which the Germans must flee if they abandon the Crimea. At this point the Reds were 250 miles west of Rostov.

Moscow dispatches said the disorganized German flight had reached the dimensions of a rout. Quantities of abandoned German war gear littered the paths of the Russians driving toward a junction with other Red armies inside the bend.

Inside the Dnieper river elbow, the Russians tightened their noose on Krivoi Rog, industrial center vital to German plans to withdraw safely southward toward the lower Bug river, probably the next major German defense line now that the Dnieper has been shattered.

Fall of Krivoi Rog Near.

The Russian swing to the west and northwest of Krivoi Rog disclosed another soviet attempt to cut all German communication lines in the heart of the Dnieper elbow, and to bag even more German troops in lower Russia. The number of enemy troops has been estimated at 1,000,000, and Berlin broadcasts have acknowledged their peril.

The fall of Krivoi Rog itself seemed near, but Russian dispatches said the Germans were fighting desperately, not only to save themselves there, but to hold open an escape route for all enemy troops fleeing from the Dnepropetrovsk area in the northwest and beyond the lower Dnieper.

A Spanish correspondent in Berlin spoke of "a Red avalanche" at Krivoi Rog, and a radio commentator on the German controled Paris station describing the Russian drive across the Nogaisk steppes said the "soviet offensive with brutal force, is speeding along like a shellburst."

Gain in White Russia.

One German radio commentator admitted there was no longer any question of a continuous axis line around Krivoi Rog, and Moscow dispatches said that the rail center had become a bottleneck where soviet airmen had shattered long lines of freight cars loaded with equipment.

Six hundred miles to the north a fresh Russian drive into upper White Russia gained from three to five miles and captured more than 80 villages, including one 25 miles northwest of Vitebsk.

German general headquarters on the south Russian front has been withdrawn to Odessa on the Black sea, dispatches from the continent reported.

TEST EFFICIENCY OF NAZI ROCKETS AGAINST PLANES

Army Also Studies 'Silver Fire.'

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28 [Special].—Some of the new German weapons designed to combat allied precision bombing, including rocket guns, aerial bombs, and "silver fire" have been under careful study and their efficiency analyzed, the war department announced today.

On the ground, the rocket principle has been adapted to anti-aircraft guns, whereby a powerful shell is projected high into the air. In the air, the rocket system apparently has been developed against armament of interceptor planes.

Firing Not So Accurate.

Rocket guns have been attached under the wings of ME-109s and 110s and on JU-88s, as adjuncts to the regular armament of cannon and machine guns, it was said.

Use of rocket guns is not new, except by aircraft against other aircraft, officials said. Rockets have been used by Russian flyers against tanks and ground installations.

German flyers now are keeping their planes outside the fire range of American bombers and are lobbing rockets at formations. But the rocket firing has not been as accurate as that of cannons or shells.

Clusters Fire Planes.

Nazi planes hovering above American bombers have been dropping aerial bombs equipped with a time fuse. They also have tried the plan of dive bombing American formations, releasing the bomb while still out of range of the bombers' guns, with the momentum and gravity carrying the missile to the target, it was said.

As to "silver fire," pilots of flying fortresses have reported massed clusters in front of their formations. One cluster struck a fort and the burning material set the plane afire. It later exploded. The clusters are white discs, probably of phosphorus.

GERMAN UPHEAVAL WITHIN FORTNIGHT REPORTED POSSIBLE

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP).—A Reuters [British news agency] dispatch datelined "inside Europe" said today that it was learned from an authentic source that "far reaching changes may be expected inside Germany within the next fortnight and they will affect the entire war situation." The dispatch, credited to a special correspondent whose name was not given, said "the worst is feared officially regarding the Russian offensive, where the position for the Germans is becoming more desperate. This has necessitated drastic internal emergency measures. Important discussions are already proceeding in this connection, probably in Munich."

Some Issues Reported Settled at Moscow Parley

MOSCOW, Oct. 28 (AP).—Secretary of State Cordell Hull, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, and Foreign Commissar Vyacheslav Molotov began the 10th session of the three power conference today amid reports that some of the most important questions have been settled in an atmosphere of "so far so good."

GERMANS BAR SWEDISH 'SAFE CONDUCT' SHIPS

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 28 (AP).—Germany notified neutral Sweden today that "military dispositions in the Skagerrak" necessitated a halt of Swedish "safe conduct" ship traffic between Goteborg, Sweden, and the Americas.

[This traffic, previously approved by both London and Berlin, normally consisted of about five steamers a month plying between Goteborg and ports outside the German zone of control, chiefly in South America. The vessels brought to Sweden foodstuffs, oils, fats, wool, and other materials.]

Berlin's notice came in a period of tension between Sweden and Germany which reached a new crisis last week when a German fighter plane shot down a Swedish passenger plane off the Swedish coast.

Meantime, the Swedish press carried a report saying Nazi troops had established a tight blockade along much of the Norwegian-Swedish border.

YANKS WIN MORE HIGH GROUND ON VOLTURNO FRONT

Move Into Massed Fire of Nazi Artillery.

BULLETIN.

New York, Oct. 28 (AP).—The British radio said tonight that a BBC reporter had reported that "allied naval units have shelled Gaeta, a port 30 miles north of Naples. The bombardment was carried out in daylight in conjunction with allied aircraft," said the broadcast. "The targets were troop concentrations and transport columns."

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Oct. 28 (AP).—Defying a steady rain and deadly concentrations of German artillery, Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's American troops have driven the enemy from more important high ground along both sides of the upper Volturno river as they push doggedly toward the Nazis' powerful new mountain defense line.

"Our progress is satisfactory," an allied bulletin said today in reporting the capture of Riardo, 11 miles northwest of Capua, by Clark's troops and the continued success of Gen. Bernard L. Montgomery's 8th army in throwing bridges across the Trigno river on the Adriatic end of the battle line.

[The Nazi controled Rome radio said the allied armies had passed to the offensive after several days of active reconnaissance thrusts and that "this is the bitterest fighting experienced on this front" since Salerno. The broadcast said shock troops, supported by tanks, in an attack preceded by a violent artillery barrage, were attempting to envelop the German lines and open the way to Isernia, a road junction 52 miles north of Naples. "Americans with strong tank formations tried to take San Felice, but failed," it said.]

Nazis Mass Artillery.

The Germans have massed great concentrations of artillery and huge mortars to defend their mountain line running from Mondragone on the Tyrrhenian sea to Vasto on the Adriatic.

In forcing new crossings of the Trigno river near its mouth and "firmly securing" their bridgehead won last week-end, Montgomery's forces braved what was officially termed "extremely accurate" German artillery fire. The enemy's cannon fire also was intense farther inland, where 8th army units drove into the towns of Torella del Sannio, nine miles northwest of Campobasso, and Mafalda, seven miles northwest of Montecilfone.

Air Operations Restricted.

Other 8th army troops advanced a mile and a half to capture Castelmauro, six miles southwest of Palata.

Air operations were greatly restricted yesterday by the weather, tho allied fighters and fighter-bombers attacked enemy gun positions at Gaeta and patrols were flown over the battle areas. No planes were lost.

[Thursday's German war bulletin said "heavy fighting is in progress in south Italy on both sides of the Volturno river. Repeated British-American attacks were frustrated. Local dents made by the enemy were ironed out or sealed off in a counterthrust. From the remaining sectors of the front, with the exception of some vanguard actions, there has been only an unsuccessful enemy attack on the coastal railway northwest of Termoli." The Berlin radio, in a broadcast recorded in London, said that Montefalcone and Montemitro, also had been abandoned by the Germans.]

EISENHOWER SEES HIS FIRST SHOW; PATTON IS GUEST

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

ALGIERS, Oct. 28.—Gen. Eisenhower took time off last night to go to a show for the first time since he came to North Africa almost a year ago.

He saw the second performance here of "Yard Bird Review," formerly called "Hey Rookie," and brought Lt. Gen. George S. Patton Jr., commander of the American 7th army, along with him. Backstage he told the cast:

"You are entertaining soldiers. You are not fighting with machine guns—but your job is just as important. As long as you are doing your job well—and you are doing it extremely well—you will be rendering a service and a great one to your fellow soldiers and your country." He added that Patton would see what could be done about taking the show to Sicily.

SKATES STOLEN FROM LOCKER.

Two pairs of men's ice skates, valued at $80, and men's clothing, valued at $44.50, were taken from the guards' locker room of the Chicago arena, 333 East Erie street, yesterday.

HINT NAZIS TRY FOR STALEMATE IN ITALIAN WAR

See Enemy Effort to Gain Negotiated Peace.

BY JOHN THOMPSON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Oct. 28.—The major influence in German strategy now seems to be the hope of making the allied advance in Italy so costly that a stalemate will result and bring about a chance to negotiate a settlement of the war in Europe, many military and political observers here believe.

They say this appears to be the explanation of the continued bitter German resistance in Italy while the war is going against the Nazis on so many fronts. These observers' reasoning goes something like this:

The German general staff must be aware that rising allied war production has tipped the scales against Germany, and is being felt more and more thru the allies' growing air strength and the weight of allied weapons and man power on the ground.

Time as a Nazi Weapon.

The Germans' best weapons now become time and allied casualties, these observers assert. If the Germans can stall the allied advance in Italy or make it costly in lives, the Nazis believe they will find the British and Americans receptive to a negotiated peace.

Unless the Germans are thinking along these lines, their continued bitter resistance against mounting odds is not that of intelligent military men, but the resistance of desperation, the observers assert. They are not unmindful that the fanatical Nazis around Adolf Hitler are prepared to pull down Europe in flames if the Nazi dream of world conquest fails. But the observers believe that the German military leaders will be in the saddle before then.

The observers are aware that the Germans, tho hoping for a stalemate, may want to take the offensive against the allies in Italy if the opportunity offers. A successful counter-attack would be an advantage from a military standpoint and also good material for Nazi Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels.

Lack Strength at Present.

It is doubted that the Germans have sufficient strength in their present mountain line to attempt a major counter-attack, but the steady building up of combat troops, drawn apparently from reserves in France and southern Germany which had been destined for the Russian front, eventually may provide the man power to undertake such an action.

Some observers think that if some such counter-blow is planned, it will not be undertaken until the fighting reaches terrain more suitable for tank maneuver and until enough planes can be withdrawn from other fronts to compete with the present allied superiority.

Meanwhile, it is believed the German strategy will be an effort to make every allied gain as costly as possible, to tire out the allies' combat troops by ceaseless fighting, and to play for time until snow comes to aid the German defense already well dug into the Apennine crags.

But the allied leaders may have other ideas on the subject.

RATION BUTTER IN NEW ZEALAND TO AID BRITISH

[By Wireless to the New York Times and The Chicago Tribune.]

WELLINGTON, N. Z., Oct. 28.—New Zealand became a creamless and butter-rationed land today as the supply ministry moved to restrict consumption of those foodstuffs to maintain supplies to Britain. The weekly butter ration was set at 8 ounces a person and consumption of cream was prohibited.

"We must eat less butter, so the British people may continue receiving the pitifully small quantity they now are getting," the ministry declared. "Every pound saved means another pound for Britain."

REPORT 4 BRITISH WARSHIPS SHELL GERMANS ON KOS

BODRUM, Turkey, Oct. 27 [Delayed] (AP).—Four British destroyers bombarded the Dodecanese Island of Kos on the night of Oct. 17-18, according to information reaching this Turkish port on the Aegean sea.

The attack supplemented repeated allied aerial bombardments visible on the Turkish coast.

[Thursday's German war bulletin said "German heavy aircraft, with telling effect, bombed military targets on the island of Leros," which is held by the British.]

Allied Planes Raid Kos.

ALLIED HDQ., Algiers, Oct. 28 (AP).—The middle east air force, again active over the Aegean, caught Germans disembarking from a big Junkers-52 air transport at Kos, yesterday, an indication the enemy was reënforcing that Dodecanese air base, and again bombed Antimacchia air field on Kos. The harbor at Porto Maltesana on Stampalia in the Dodecanese and the barracks on Gavdos Island south of Crete also were bombed.

CONSIDER ROME 'HOLY,' PONTIFF PLEADS, REPORT

BERNE, Switzerland, Oct. 28 (AP).—A report that Pope Pius has sent notes to all belligerents asking that Rome be considered a holy city and spared from fighting was printed today in the Neue Zuercher Zeitung, Zurich newspaper.

[The pope has requested German authorities to place sufficient Italian police in Rome to keep crowds from plundering art collections of the churches in case the city becomes a battle zone, a Rome dispatch to the Handels - Ock Sjoefartstidning of Goteborg, Sweden, said yesterday.]

NAZI ARMORED FORCES DRIVE ON JUGO-SLAV FOES

Partisans Again Accuse Mihailovitch Army.

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP).—Guerrillas of the Jugo-Slav government and the Partisans of Gen. Josip [Tito] Broz again traded charges of treachery and treason today while German motorized and armored troops smashed into the hilly strongholds of Jugo-Slavia in an effort to wipe out both their forces.

The Bari radio, controled by Italy's Marshal Badoglio, reported a broadcast by the Jugo-Slav freedom station declaring that the first court-martial held by the red starred Partisans of Tito had sentenced 17 persons to death on charges of collaboration with the Germans.

The Partisan bulletin broadcast from the Free Jugo-Slavia radio, announced that the "well known Montenegrin Quisling and former Jugo-Slav Gen. Djukanovic and 30 officers," who were fighting on the German side, were captured in an action in Montenegro.

King Peter Expresses Regret.

The information bureau of King Peter's government in Cairo issued a statement which expressed regret at the "unfortunate schism" between the two patriot forces and for the first time charged the Partisans with "treachery," citing dispatches from Gen. Draja Mihailovitch, the government field commander.

The statement said Mihailovitch forces had suffered "inevitable sacrifices fighting the communal battle of the united nations" and that the Partisans too "have been fighting bravely against the oppressor," but it charged the Partisans with engaging in a systematic campaign of vilification of Mihailovitch in their accusations of treason and collaboration with the Germans.

The Partisan bulletin indicated the Germans were waging two large scale offensives, one in Bosnia in the north and the other in Montenegro in the south near the Albanian border. Heavy attacks against liberated territory were repelled in both places, the bulletin said.

Nazi Tank Unit Cut Off.

At Novo Mesto, 38 miles west of Zagreb in Croatia, a German tank unit was cut off from its infantry support and many Germans were killed and wounded, while in Slovenia, numerous motorized attacks were turned back, it was stated.

Behind the German lines the Partisans claimed to have broken thru and destroyed the big textile factory at Skofja Loka, 19 miles northwest of Ljubljana, and derailed a military train.

In the south battles were fought at Kolasin and Berani, about 15 miles north of the Albanian frontier.

Confirming Jugo-Slav reports of a German offensive for the first time, a Berlin broadcast said "communist bands" were being mopped up in the Ljubljana-Zagreb-Gospic triangle in the north and claimed the capture of Brod, Gottschee [Kocevje] and Crnomelj. All these towns are 30 to 40 miles east and northeast of Fiume on the Italian border.

Cairo reports said that in southern Serbia, Herzegovina, and Montenegro—Mihailovitch's particular theater—a whole section of the railway in the Drina valley was in the hands of guerrillas operating between Uzice, 80 miles southwest of Belgrade, and Visegrad, 30 miles west of Uzice.

Stock of Scotch Brings $440,000 at Auction

GLASGOW, Scotland, Oct. 28 (AP).—A stock of Scotch whisky brought $440,000 at auction today. The same stock, said a man who knows, would have brought about $12,000 a year before the war. One buyer estimated the spirits would have to be sold to bar trade at 40 cents per nip—very high for these parts.

YANKEE AERIAL HAMMER POUNDS NAZIS' ITALY LINE

Blast Quarter Mile 'Area 8 Hours.

BY WILLIAM STRAND.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

WITH ALLIED AIR FORCES IN ITALY, Oct. 26 [Delayed].—For eight hours today American dive bombers poured explosives on scores of strong German artillery and machine gun positions blocking the allied advance up western Italy.

The attack was one of the most devastating and concentrated of the war, the explosives being concentrated in a quarter mile square area by screaming planes which plummeted toward their targets in vertical dives at approximately 400 miles per hour.

Out-Stuka the Stukas.

If nothing else, the action demonstrated the lengths to which the allied forces must go to dislodge the Nazis from their well fortified positions. German prisoners report their Stuka dive bombers in head-on frontal dives never produced anything as terrifying as these vertical bombing dives.

The men of the A-35 Invader dive bomber squadrons on today's raid are the ones who drove the German defenders of Troina, Sicily, out of their defenses after a day and a half of a similar, tho less concentrated, assault. After today's attack every one, ground crews, commanding officers, and pilots alike, were even prouder of their outfit.

The devastation among the enemy was not spread by bombs alone. As the Invaders pulled out of their dives they strafed the Nazi positions with deadly fire from their six 50 caliber machine guns and then headed for home.

Chicagoan at Base Near Front.

Commenting on the raid, a Chicagoan, Maj. John C. Stern of 3300 Belle Plaine avenue, said:

"This is what the guy over the hill started; now let him try to stop it."

Among the men at this advanced base within easy range of the front line artillery is Lt. Daniel E. Holland of Nashville, Tenn., who said his ambition is to have a job on THE TRIBUNE as a cartoonist with his former teacher, Joe Parrish.

ALGERIA COAST BLACKOUT TO BE DIMOUT ON NOV. 1

ALGIERS, Oct. 28 (AP).—Reflecting the improved allied military position in the Mediterranean, Algeria's coastal blackout will be lifted and a dimout substituted on Nov. 1. Algiers was last raided late in August.

With the Mediterranean virtually cleared of enemy shipping, the Northwest African coastal air force has transferred its activity largely to the Adriatic. Numerous losses have been inflicted in the past few weeks on German shipping creeping from port to port on the Italian and Jugo-Slav sides of that sea.

On the Dalmatian coast many German garrisons can be supplied only by sea and air because of poor roads and guerrilla activity. The Germans are using Italian vessels manned by Italians under German guard for most of this shipping.

Kendallville, Ind., Oct. 28 [Special].—Harold Wawaka, 22 month old son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wawaka, died in a hospital today of burns and inhalation of fumes, according to a finding by Coroner John Hall. While at play David, 5, a brother, placed a comic book on a burning oil stove, flames from which ignited Harold's clothes.

RUSSIAN ENVOY IN BRITAIN ASKS FOR A 2D FRONT

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 28.—Russia's new ambassador to Britain, Fyodor Gusev, today reiterated Russia's demand for a second front in the west. He told a lord mayor's luncheon in Mansion House:

"At the present time when the enemy is passing thru a serious crisis, having suffered heavy defeats in the soviet front and in northern Africa and after the military and political collapse of Italy, he is looking for an outlet from this crisis and is endeavoring to prolong the war to postpone his ultimate defeat. Close collaboration among Britain, the soviet union and the United States and their joint military blows against the enemy from the east and west can considerably hasten the destruction of the Hitlerite army and can shorten the period of the war."

BRITISH MISUSE U. S. LEND-LEASE, SAYS SENATOR

He Charges They Give It Away; Take Credit.

to retain air bases which the United States has built on foreign-held territory. Sen. Russell laid particular emphasis on the bases which were granted in the destroyer deal, the Iceland and Dakar bases, and the New Caledonia base.

4. There is a widespread idea forming that the United States is preparing to look after all the needs of the world. Expectations of allies and occupied enemies in regard to post-war rehabilitation are too high. Russell recommended that civilian agencies spreading this gospel be scrapped.

5. The army, navy, and marine corps are well fed, well equipped, healthy, run efficiently, and possess excellent coördination. Our forces become stronger day after day.

Warns Against Optimism.

6. There must be no relaxation of effort in this country or among the fighting forces. Germany still provides real competition, and the Japanese war will be long and bloody. Optimism in congress or by the public should be kept down.

Russell said he was making the report public to "clear the atmosphere and make plain my own views." He criticized the accounts which have leaked out on the secret sessions, terming them "fragmentary and somewhat garbled."

This did not temper his censure of British reaction to the senators' report, however.

"If any officials of the British empire, or the British press or people are offended, it is regrettable," he said, "for no offense was intended. But I would not have this statement construed anywhere as an apology for my position.

Unduly Sensitive.

"If offense be found, I must say in all candor that our British allies have become unduly sensitive if an American citizen and senator cannot discuss the operation and policies of his own government, of which I am a part, without raising a storm of furor and resentment thruout the United Kingdom and the empire. . . ."

The senator then pointed out that the tour in question was made by Americans who took the American viewpoint, and told his listeners that American considerations were first in his mind. This statement was interpreted by some as a reminder to his administration colleagues to put American interests foremost.

"What I saw was thru American eyes," he said. "I weighed, observed, and reported as an American who properly holds the future welfare of these United States above all other considerations. I would regret if any word of mine should cause dissension or ill-feeling between the United States and any of our allies, but if that word be necessary to protect our legitimate interests, either during this war or in the post-war world, I would still feel duty bound to speak.

Chides British for "Advice."

"The chain which binds the united nations together is frail indeed if there are links which cannot stand the expression of opinion made in good faith in the parliamentary bodies of a democracy. To those few who hold that it is impertinent for an American to discuss the part played by the British in this war, I would point to the restraint and poise shown by the American people when officials of the British empire tell us what is expected of us as a proper standard of conduct."

He recalled in this connection that Gen. Jan Smuts prime minister of South Africa, recently told the people of the United States that they [the Americans] are expected to furnish in large measure the men for the attack on France.

"Gen. Smuts' statement did not evoke any great public resentment and outcry in the United States," he said, and added: "The President did not send a message to congress commenting with thinly veiled sarcasm on advice taken from abroad.

"Come to Pretty Pass."

"I have not seen in the American press caricatures of Gen. Smuts denouncing him for making a public statement as to what he considered the obligation of America in the performance of its duty to the common effort. I have not heard any member of congress becoming unduly excited.

"We have come to a pretty pass if a citizen of the United States cannot support with whole-hearted devotion the cause of his own country without subjecting himself to the charge that he is anti-British or anti-Russian."

Russell complained about criticism of Adm. William G. Standley, recently retired ambassador to Russia, for his public statement in Moscow that the Russian people are not fully aware of the aid the United States is providing them. Standley, Russell said, was "pilloried" for the statement.

Cites Russia's Complaint.

"The American people have before them each day the achievements of the Russian armies," Russell said. "The Russian government has not hesitated to complain frequently and publicly of our failure to open a second front when and where Russia wants it instead of when and where our own military experts think advisable.

"The American people have expressed no resentment of this criticism, and it is inexplicable to me that a suggestion that the masses of the Russian people should have knowledge of our efforts to aid them is likely to cause disunity between comrades in a fight involving the fate and freedom of both the people of the United States and of Russia."

Russell also referred to Standley during the reading of the report itself, holding him up as an example of an American statesman whom present American diplomats could well emulate.

U. S. Policy Kept Secret.

Asserting that British officers and civilian officials are aware of the British policy—military, diplomatic, and commercial—Russell said that men representing the United States in similar capacities are not as well informed of policy.

"If our nation has a definite policy which extends longer than six months after the conclusion of the war in any of the far flung lands in which American troops are fighting and American dollars are being spent, I was unable to find any one among our officers abroad who could define it," Russell said.

"We cannot afford to rely upon even so splendid an ally as the United Kingdom to protect all our interests, or there will be invariable conflict and confusion after the war.

Work to No Purpose.

"Our civilian agencies abroad are numerous, but too often they are either working at cross purposes, or, worse to relate, in some cases have no apparent purpose. Our post-war interests are being neglected, and we stand to get very little or no return from our immense expenditures."

Sen. Russell suggested the army, rather than civilian agencies, be invested with control of relief of occupied territories, and that such relief be at a minimum so that individual initiative will not be stifled in such countries.

"I was very much concerned to note that for some reason many of the most recent of our allies and our late enemies have great expectations as to what they are to receive from the United States in rehabilitation," he said. "It is very unfortunate that their expectations are so high."

Doubts Wisdom of Civilians.

He asserted he seriously questions "the wisdom of delegating to a civilian agency the responsibility of handling relief and rehabilitation abroad," adding that there is a belief abroad that this country will take care of post-war reconstruction.

Such a civilian agency, he said, is likely to generate bitterness by failure to fulfill excessive hopes or prove a more expensive undertaking "than the American people should be compelled to finance."

This remark was interpreted by some as a slap at Vice President Henry A. Wallace's plan for feeding the world, which has been called the "quart of milk a day" plan.

There should be no misunderstanding that the United States is going to embark on a long term program of relief, Sen. Russell said.

"Let them know they have to work out their own destiny," he said of foreign nations.

Hits Lend-Lease Handling.

Russell's dissatisfaction was not confined to post-war planning by civilian agencies, but also extended to the administration of lend-lease. He not only critized the administration, which he said had not kept an accurate check on uses of lend-lease goods, but he also criticized Britain, charging that it gave goods to Turkey under subterfuge.

The English, he said, have emphasized that they have given huge quantities of war supplies to Turkey as "very effective propaganda to gain the good will of 250 million Mohammedans of the world."

"Much of this military equipment transfered by England to Turkey is American-made and American-financed equipment," he said, "and was transfered to England under lend-lease. Every sensible American realizes that we will not be paid in full for all the material of war which we have advanced to our allies under lend-lease. No one really expects it.

Criticizes U. S. Policy.

"In my judgment, however, it is a very poor policy to permit lend-lease equipment, paid for by the people of the United States, to be used to buy good will even for our closest friend, when good will is such an important commodity. If it is good business for England to get credit with Turkey and the friends of Turkey for helping that nation in time of danger, it would seem to me to be worth something to the United States."

Russell said that the English have done similar things with lend-lease goods transfers to Russia, and that lend-lease food handled by the British food commission has been used to feed refugees and other hungry people of the world.

"I doubt that the recipient is always aware of the fact that the United States was the true benefactor," Russell commented.

Scoffs at Lease Basis.

The 99 year lease arrangement with great Britain under which the United States received air bases on British held islands off the American coast was disparaged by Russell.

"This is not any 99 year country," he said. "Where would we be today if Jefferson had handled the Louisiana purchase on any such basis, or if our rights in the Florida or even the Alaska purchase had been subjected to any such limitation?"

If it is to our advantage to develop such air bases now, he said, there is no reason why future generations, "who will still be paying for this war," should be denied the protection which the bases afford.

Sen. Russell also emphasized the protective qualities of air and other bases on Iceland, Dakar, and the Pacific islands, particularly the French held island of New Caledonia.

NEW CALEDONIA ISSUE

Russell's proposal that the United States permanently acquire the Island of New Caledonia recalled in congressional circles the emphasis which Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, placed on the value of the island in his recent biennial report.

Millions of dollars have been spent by the United States to fortify the island, a French possession, and Sen. Russell contended perpetual rights to the island, or at least to the fortifications, are due this country because of aid given and planned for France.

Russell, as did Gen. Marshall, emphasized the strategic importance of the island in maintaining a route to Australia, and declared permanent possession of it would be a "realistic step" toward preventing another bloody Pacific war.

Now a Strong Fortress.

Gen. Marshall, in his biennial report, told of the great efforts expended to turn the island into what Russell today called an "all but impregnable fortress."

"In view of the enemy's capabilities thruout the Pacific and our untenable position in the Philippines," Marshall said in the section of his report dealing with the period shortly after Pearl Harbor, "The major efforts of the United States were directed toward a rapid concentration of defense forces along our route to Australia, the creation of an effective striking force on that continent, and the distpatch of material aid to the forces of our allies in the East Indies.

"Accordingly, Hawaii was strengthened, additional islands along the South Pacific air-ferry route were garrisoned, and a large force was provided for the defense of New Caledonia."

Gen. Marshall added that the time gained by the heroic defense of the Philippines was utilized to dispatch more men to New Caledonia and Australia.

Useful After Wake's Fall.

Gen. Marshall referred to the value of the island earlier in his report when he said that the fall of Wake Island necessitated the immediate development of an alternate trans-Pacific route which included Christmas Island, Canton Island, Fiji, and New Caledonia. This route, the general pointed out, came into use in January, 1942. Soon after that the fall of Sumatra terminated deliveries via Miami, Brazil, equatorial Africa, and India thru Sumatra to Java and Australia, a route which had been used while the New Caledonia route was being developed.

"While this sudden reversal of a movement half way around the earth demonstrated the mobility of the airplane, it also demonstrated the lack of mobility of air forces until a lengthy process of building up ground service forces and supplies had been laboriously completed," the general said.

Russell also touched on the measures which have been taken to fortify New Caledonia and the construction which has been done there by United States forces. He said that in his opinion the establishment of the base, and permanent utilization of it, would save much of the expense of fortifying Guam.

Safety in Control.

"So long as it is in friendly hands . . . No enemy from the west can with safety attack either North or South America without reducing it first," Russell said.

"American boys will soon by dying to free the soil of France from a foreign invader. We are now equipping French divisions in North Africa with American arms, that they may join in the fight for the liberation of France.

"We are supplying the French people in North Africa with petroleum, clothing, and many other articles thru lend-lease. When the motherland of France is freed from the German invader we will undoubtedly spend huge sums for relief and rehabilitation in France. It is not too much to ask that for the sake of the future defense of America we be given some rights in an island which means nothing to the defense of France, but may be vital to our own defense."

Denies It's Imperialism.

Ownership of the island would save much of the expense of fortifying Guam, Russell said. He advocated that negotiations be entered into "at the earliest possible date, looking to the acquisition, by fair and just arrangements, either of title to all of New Caledonia or perpetual rights in and to the bases and facilities we have constructed."

"I know there are those who will hurl the charge of imperialism at such suggestions and claim that they are in derogation of the Atlantic Charter," he said. "I do not think there is anything imperialistic about it. Call it what you will, it is a realistic step to prevent another generation of Americans, who will undoubtedly still be paying for the present war, from being compelled to pay again in blood and treasure, taking these islands back from enemies who may obtain them if we follow the policy of take-and-abandon after this was is over."

SEN. RUSSELL KNOWN FOR HIS EFFICIENCY IN BATTLING BUROCRACY

Sen. Richard Brevard Russell, 46 years old, entered the senate in 1933 with an outstanding record behind him as governor of Georgia.

During his regime, which began in 1931, he placed the state on a pay-as-you-go basis, and cut the number of bureaus and departments in the state government from 102 to 25. He inaugurated uniform bookkeeping systems in all state departments and demanded efficiency and economy in the conduct of all state business.

The son of a chief justice of the Georgia supreme court, Sen. Russell is one of a family of 18 children. When, as speaker of the house in the Georgia legislature, he decided to run for governor, he toured the state in a small automobile and was elected by an overwhelming vote, despite opposition of veteran politicians.

He was born in Winder, Ga., Nov. 2, 1897, and attended school in Powder Springs. He was graduated from the state university in 1918.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.

CHANDLER ASKS FOR 'REALISM' IN POST-WARPOLICY

Utopian Dreams Imperil U.S. Safety, He Says.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Versailles, Ky., Oct. 28.—Sen. Albert B. [Happy] Chandler [D., Ky.] said tonight that America must adopt a "realistic policy" instead of utopian dreaming in its dealings with allies to protect world peace after the war.

Sen. Albert B. Chandler.

The senator, discussing conclusions he had reached on his 42,000 mile round the world trip to inspect battle fronts with four other senators, declared it is time for America to do some plain talking.

Especially important, he said is the matter of getting permanent possession of air and naval bases the United States has built in other lands with lend-lease funds, and retaining them for national defense. The war in the Pacific is the most pressing problem, he maintains, declaring Japan and Germany should be treated as of equal importance.

Bigger Draw than Candidates.

Chandler, who is in Kentucky making speeches in the closing week of the campaign for state officers to be elected Nov. 2 is drawing larger audiences than the candidates. He is greeted everywhere with hearty backslaps and shouts of "Happy."

After his meeting tonight in Frankfort the senator amplified some of his views, steering clear of matters of a confidential nature.

"America has two aims," he said. "One is to defeat its enemies at the earliest possible moment and the least possible cost of life; the second, to establish a just and realistic peace to prevent recurrence of war.

"We must coöperate with our allies, but on a realistic basis, and we should have understandings with them now instead of waiting until the war is won. Our allies are nothing if not realistic—the British, French, and Russians.

Diplomatic War Is On.

"Today there is a diplomatic war going on under cover between the allied nations for the control of international trade after the war. So far as the negotiations are concerned they consist of providing for a termination of our right to the use of air bases and harbors that we have constructed at great cost, coupled with the reëstablishment of control over vital commercial areas after the danger of bombing becomes remote.

"My view is that we must talk plainly to our allies now. We must have them realize that our policy is realistic in our dealings with them.

"Prime Minister Churchill is a strong and brilliant representative of the British empire, but he is a realistic man. In a speech after the battle of Egypt last year he said: 'We mean to hold our own. I have not become the king's first minister in order to preside over the liquidation of the British empire.'

Candor Applauded.

"Mr. Churchill speaks for Britain and we applaud his candor. Our officials should deal as realistically. Russia implies that it has not expended millions of lives in order to turn back to other nations conquered areas which she considers necessary to her safety and wellbeing.

"I hope President Roosevelt will say for the United States that we have not committed this nation, after expending thousands of American lives and billions of dollars of lend-lease funds, to withdraw again from strategic defense areas."

Chandler said his views may arouse cries of "imperialism" from critics.

"But here is the answer," he said. "Take and abandon. That has always been our policy. In the past we have taken territory in self-defense or in the defense of our allies, and our boys have been killed in the undertaking; then we have abandoned the territory when the trouble is over, and some one else has taken it.

Must Hold to Bases.

"This time it is important that we take and hold the bases necessary for our own defense. In the take and abandon policy, in trying to be fair, the United States has returned possessions to former owners, which frequently were small nations which could not defend them. Then a big, aggressive power comes along, takes the place and uses it against us. I say we'd better keep them this time."

Chandler says that after the war, as a matter of national defense, the United States must occupy Iceland and other bases established in Labrador, Newfoundland, Dakar, in the Casablanca area, in New Caledonia, Samoa, Christmas Islands, Guadalcanal, the Aleutians, and other places to keep defense lines clear.

"The Americas, with 21 nations and 250 million population," he said, "and the Pacific area with more than 400 million people around the western rim, are within our national sphere of influence. On the trip, I talked with generals, admirals, soldiers, sailors, marines, flyers, all ranks of fighters. The army and navy strategists are generally agreed it is necessary for us to be able to defend this area, to be certain that we can defend continental United States."

Chinese Situation Critical.

Turning to Japan, Chandler said one of his conclusions from the round the globe tour, is that the war in the Pacific is a most pressing problem. The situation in China he deemed critical.

"Gen. MacArthur," he said, "is on the offensive, but is limited by supplies and equipment and requires more support.

"I believe," he said, "it is important to get bases in Siberia and hold them, but it is of great importance that we hold the bases in China, and the failure of the British to make an India-Burma-China offensive places them in danger."

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 28 (AP).—A daughter was born today to Mrs. Robert Young, wife of the film actor. The child was named Elizabeth Louise. The Youngs have two other daughters, Carol Ann, 9, and Barbara Queen, 5. Mrs. Young, the former Betty Henderson, was married to the actor in 1933.

JUDGE DESORT SCENTS FRAUD IN OLD DIVORCE

Judge Rudolph Desort, inquiring into charges that a divorce which he granted in Superior court 9 years ago to Olga D. Kilgallon from John Kilgallon, a New York broker, was obtained thru fraud, yesterday ordered the principals to appear Nov. 15 to show cause why they should not be cited for contempt.

The case was brought to Judge Desort's attention by Thomas E. Shea, a New York attorney, who said that Mrs. Kilgallon was claiming a share in his brother's estate on the ground she was his common law wife. Shea hopes, by establishing fraud in the divorce, to have the decree vacated and thus eliminate her claims against the New York estate.

Elliodor Libonati, friend of the court, and John Phillips, assistant state's attorney, who investigated after Shea told Judge Desort his own inquiries indicated Mrs. Kilgallon was not a bona fide resident of Chicago in 1934, as she claimed, said their investigations substantiated Shea's report. She was a registered voter in Nassau county, New York, in 1934, they said, and Kilgallon, who allegedly treated her cruelly on two occasions in Chicago, had testified in a New York court that he had not been in Chicago in 20 years.

STEAL $1,000 WAR BONDS.

HOOVER OPPOSES U. S. LEGAL TIES WITH BRITAIN

Asks Collaboration, but No Amalgamation.

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 28 [Special]. —Declaring himself impressed with the lack of reality in current peace discussions, Herbert Hoover tonight proposed that leading victorious nations collaborate in pooling their control but that America shun legal ties with Great Britain as not only unnecessary but dangerous.

"I am one who believes collaboration and coöperation between Britain and the United States is the first necessity for peace," he said. "But collaboration does not require amalgamation."

The former President spoke before a meeting of the combined civic clubs of Kansas City and broadcast over a national radio network of the Mutual Broadcasting system.

Pacts Often Produce Wars.

Observing that never has a military alliance produced peace altho many have produced war, Hoover said:

"One of the suggestions which has been advanced is some sort of legal ties between the United States and Britain. The proposals include common citizenship, common currency, free trade, and military alliance.

"Would not such an act at once raise the fears of all other nations that this is a step to world mastery by the English-speaking people and thus generate organized opposition among the other 90 per cent of the human race?

"Moreover, will not such a marriage involve us in all the problems of the British empire, and conversely, will not the British empire be plagued with all problems of the United States?

Must Adopt New Ideas.

"Would not the inevitable discussion about these relatives by marriage lead to many frictions and ultimately to bitter divorce?

"For common ground in national thinking, we should discard all proposals of military alliances as an instrument of peace."

Asserting the world had failed for 5,000 years to make a lasting peace, Hoover said he is convinced the old formula of peace making must be abandoned and a new approach to the gigantic problem adopted, but "we must stick to reality."

"In the field of realism, it should be obvious to all Americans that many of the united nations have already proclaimed nationalistic objectives for which they are fighting.

"Mr. Stalin has not hesitated to indicate with positive frankness territorial expansion for Russia over previously independent peoples. Mr. Churchill has stated categorically that the Brtish empire will not be liquidated notwithstanding critics in the United States. Mr. Chiang Kai-shek has been unhesitating in stating that China will restore her ancient boundaries with all foreign squatters evicted. Holland says she will recover her colonies.

Dangerous to Peace.

In the belief these evidences of intense nationalism, "which always is hardened by the furnace of war," will become a great danger to peace, Hoover said:

"I suggest that planners of peace incorporate into their thinking the idea that nations will maintain their full independence and their full sovereignty. And it is only upon such a common ground that we must and can build a lasting peace."

Another "unreality" in some of the national discussions, Hoover continued, is the belief peace has arrived when firing ceases and a treaty is signed. Peace, he said, does not even begin for years afterward.

"I suggest for American thinking that we must accept the fact that a period of disturbing years must inevitably elapse after the next victory over our enemies."

He proposed a transition period, instead of a long armistice and general peace conference, a period of a few years under the leadership or trusteeship of the leading victorious nations which would collaborate in control but he warned that such a world-wide authority "should be the last phase of a peace, not the first."

SELL MARSHALL'S REPORT.

LONDON, Oct. 28 (AP).—Gen. George C. Marshall's report covering the rapid development of the United States army from July, 1941, to June, 1943, was presented to the British public in the form of a 40 cent pamphlet placed on sale today.

HITS OLD WORLD WRONGS HIDDEN IN GLOBAL RULE

Hoffman Fears Tyranny in Super-Government.

Internationalists are seeking to "reforge the shackles of feudalism and restore the injustices and tyrannies of the old world from which Americans freed themselves by the Declaration of Independence," Rep. Clare E. Hoffman [R., Mich.] declared last night at an anti-world government rally sponsored by the Citizens USA committee.

Rep. Clare Hoffman.

Addressing an audience in the auditorium of the Engineering building, 205 West Wacker drive, Rep. Hoffman declared. "The proof that we were right in declaring our independence and standing upon our own feet is found today in the fact that all other nations, under all other systems of government, turn to us for help."

Hoffman said "no socialism, no communism, no system of fascism has contributed to what we are today."

Cites History of Alliances.

"History discloses, from the very beginning, that nations of the world have had alliances, treaties, and agreements, all formed to end war, and each and all have failed to prevent war," Hoffman said. "Yet here in America, where we have had the now hated policy of isolationism, there has grown up a people and a nation superior to every other people and every other nation.

"A world police, a world army, with American soldiers under the control of officers of an international union, would be required to suppress rebellion wherever it might raise its head, to carry on a war to prevent war—and that indefinitely, to the end of time.

"That is the plan of the internationalists; of those who talk of something we all desire—world peace—but who ignore the selfishness of man, experiences of the past, the realities of life, the desires of rulers of other nations over whom we have no control."

Raps New Deal Purges.

Hoffman charged the New Dealers "seek to purge from public life, from every public office, every individual, every organization, who does not agree that they, and they alone, are capable of governing this country; who does not agree with every crackpot idea they may have."

"Either we are and will continue to be a free and independent people," Hoffman warned, "or we will become a part—and a part only—of a united states of the world; a super world government which, thru its chosen representatives, will tell us what to do and when to do it."

EVER SIP A $2,000,000 OLD FASHIONED?

● Here's the recipe below! We call it a $2,000,000 "dream of a drink"—because that's what Fleischmann invested in grains, skill and research before we released one golden bottle of this rich, luxurious, straight bourbon whiskey. We make it in limited amounts. We have to—it's so delicious!

FIRST, GET FLEISCHMANN'S BOND THEN DO THIS!

1 Place ½ level teaspoon of granulated sugar in Old Fashioned glass! Add 2 or 3 dashes of Angostura bitters, and just enough water to dissolve the sugar!

2 Muddle thoroughly. Add ice cubes; and 1½ oz. of smooth, delicious Fleischmann's BOND! Then stir!

3 Twist strip of lemon peel over top and drop rind in drink! Garnish to suit with Maraschino cherry, a slice of orange, or a strip of pineapple!

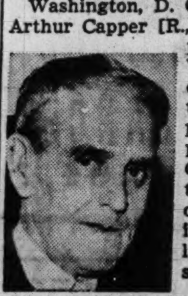
CAPPER WARNS OF BLANK CHECK PEACE DANGERS

Backs Connally Proposal as It Stands.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—Sen. Arthur Capper [R., Kas.], who supported Woodrow Wilson's league of nations after the World war, pledged his support today to the Connally resolution for American participation in post-war collaboration to preserve the peace.



Sen. Arthur Capper.

The veteran of two World war peace debates attacked an amendment sponsored by Sen. Claude Pepper [D., Fla.] and 13 other senators. Sen. Capper charged its proponents are seeking to empower the President to speak with full authority of the senate at the peace conference.

"I do not want such broad blank check powers delegated to the President," the Kansan said. "This is no reflection on the man who now holds the office. I would not be willing to vote for extending such powers to any President."

Against Satellite Status.

Replying to arguments of senators who have complained that Churchill, Stalin, and Chiang Kai-shek will be able to speak for their governments with authority that the Connally resolution will not give the President of the United States, Sen. Capper said:

"It is neither desirable nor necessary—thank God—that the United States become a dominion in a super-state or a satellite to some other nation or group of nations in order to obtain coöperation or participation in the interest of world peace."

The amendment Capper opposes would broaden the Connally resolution, according to the Connally resolution supporters, along the line demanded by the internationalists.

Debate Limitation Refused.

With the fifth day of debate beginning tomorrow, Sen. Tom Connally [D., Tex.], chairman of the senate foreign relations committee and the man from whom the resolution takes its name, sought in vain today to speed action by limiting debate.

The Texan asked unanimous consent to confine addresses on the subject to 15 minutes beginning tomorrow. Sen. John A. Danaher [R., Conn.] blocked the move. Connally has been asking speedy approval to establish American intention as to peace while the Moscow conference is still in session.

Sen. Harold H. Burton [R., O.], one of the sponsors of the original Ball-Burton-Hatch-Hill peace resolution for a league of nations and an international police force and one of the 14 senators now supporting the Pepper amendment, resumed his argument for the amendment today.

McKellar Adds His Protest.

During Sen. Burton's address, Sen. Kenneth McKellar [D., Tenn.] protested that the Pepper amendment would require that dominions be accorded the same standing as independent governments. Without mentioning Great Britain by name, Sen. McKellar said that one of the reasons for the defeat of the Wilson league of nations was the fear that "one great nation" would have five votes, by this system, to one for the United States.

The Connally resolution provides that the United States join with free and sovereign nations to preserve the peace. The Pepper amendment provides for American participation "with the other united nations and such free and sovereign nations as may be admitted."

Draft Charges Against Band Member Dropped

Draft violation charges against Dominic Quagenti, 24 years old, a member of Borrah Minnevitch's band, were dismissed yesterday by United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker on motion of Edward J. Bradley Jr., an assistant United States attorney. Bradley explained that Quagenti, who allegedly had failed to notify his New York draft board of a change of address, had cleared up his delinquency.

BRITAIN PLEDGES DEBATE ON INDIA; SHIPS WITHHELD

Reveal Famine Talks Exclude Gandhi.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 28.—After L. S. Amery, British secretary for India, had informed the house of commons that India's famine needs were not yet regarded as holding priority over war shipments, Prime Minister Churchill promised today that the Indian food situation will be debated on the third day of parliament's next series of sittings.

Food Offered by Australia.

Amery admitted it was true, however, that Australia and other dominions were eager to supply food to India "if the very great difficulty of the shipping situation could be overcome."

Amery reported he has no reliable figures on famine deaths for the whole of India, but said that between Aug. 15 and Oct. 16 about 8,000 persons had died in Calcutta from malnutrition and that conditions in southeast and southwest Bengal were worse. Imports of foodstuffs into Bengal are at the rate of 2,400 tons daily, he continued. Altho there is no available data on imports to India from overseas in terms of weekly arrivals, three ships carrying nearly 20,000 tons of food already have arrived in India, he said.

No Talks with Gandhi.

Amery disclosed that altho Indian conferences on food began to be held as long ago as last December, neither Mohandas K. Gandhi nor other All-India congress leaders have been invited to take part. Congress leaders for four years have "deliberately rejected responsibility for provincial government and have since embarked on a policy of irresponsible sabotage of the war effort," Amery asserted. He added that he saw no reason, therefore, to consult with the Congress leaders.

TESTIFIES BUND TROOPER CHIEF PRAISED NAZIS

The fall of France so exhilarated Carl August Vogl that he allegedly boasted: "England is next, then comes the United States." The reputed oral reaction of Vogl was given yesterday by Frank Pannier, 2215 Montrose avenue, a government witness, at Vogl's denaturalization trial before Judge William J. Campbell, in federal District court.

Vogl, who is 41 years old, and lives at 2250 Berteau avenue, headed the uniformed section of the defunct German-American bund in Chicago. The government, thru Francis J. McGreal, an assistant United States attorney, is attempting to revoke his citizenship and that of eight other bund members on the ground they were really loyal to Hitler.

Pannier, a tavern owner, testified that he also heard Vogl say: "America needs a Hitler." He told Vogl to go back to Germany, he said. Vogl testified his wife, Anna, is in an internment camp for dangerous enemy aliens, and with her their small daughter, Marie, 9. After this testimony, Judge Campbell took Vogl's case under advisement.

BRITAIN HAILS U.S. SENATE BILL ON POST-WAR AID

Think Parley Seeks Way to Appease Russia.

BY LARRY RUE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 28.—The Connally resolution on post-war collaboration being debated in the United States senate today was hailed by Britishers as a go-ahead signal for President Roosevelt to enter into post-war commitments.

Regret was expressed that the resolution, which merely announces an intention to take part in international collaboration, seems to be the most which Britain and Russia can expect from the United States at present. However, the influential London Times said it was hoped the measure will be passed "by a majority sufficiently impressive to enable the administration to go forward along the path of international coöperation without harassing doubts as to the sympathy of the senate."

Want U. S. Policing Aid.

There was keen disappointment also that the resolution does not pledge the use of American forces as part of an international police force. These disappointments, however, were mitigated by reports from New York that straw polls seem to favor such a police force in which British and United States navies would operate under a combined chief of staff in London.

"The chief advantage of this plan [of policing] from the American viewpoint," wrote C. V. R. Thompson, the Daily Express' New York correspondent, "is that no legislation would be necessary. President Roosevelt, as commander in chief of the armed forces, could order it."

Seek Russian Formula.

As regards the three power parley under way in Moscow, there is a strong feeling here that the so-called successful progress of the conference is based primarily on the hope that a hair splitting formula can be evolved which will give Russia what it wants in the interests of strategic necessity—as former War Minister Leslie Hore-Belisha put it today—"in discharging her share of the pacificatory role" after the war.

Such a formula, moreover, must not give the appearance that the allies are betraying the rights of small nations which figured so prominently in the Atlantic charter and the pre-war talk against aggression, it was understood.

Yet, Hore-Belisha admitted in his speech to a Rotary International conference in London, it may be necessary for states bordering on Russia "to qualify some aspects of their sovereignty."

NO FURTHER CUT IN GAS THIS YEAR, MIDWEST TOLD

No change in gasoline rations is foreseen for the rest of this year, W. W. Vandeveer, midwestern director of the petroleum administration for war, said yesterday.

"Next year, in spite of the fact we will be refining more crude oil, there is a considerable possibility we may not be able to make as much automotive gasoline because of the necessity for producing more 100 octane and more 80 octane all purpose military gasoline," he said.

Vandeveer gave as his authority a statement by Ralph K. Davies, deputy petroleum administrator for war.

"The quality of automotive gasoline may suffer somewhat, altho this is not a certainty," Vandeveer added. He said he was speaking of the supply for 1944.

"If military plans now being considered are put in force the public, country-wide, will have a lower grade of gasoline. Unhappily, therefore, all we can tell the motorists is that there is no likelihood they will be able to drive their cars with freedom this year or next."

Vandeveer pointed out that the PAW at the request of the office of defense transportation certified the amounts of gasoline available for civilian use: Middle west, 395,000 barrels daily; east coast, 350,000 barrels; southwest, 127,000; Rocky mountain district, 30,000, and Pacific coast, 120,000.

VETERAN OF 50 BOMBING FORAYS HOME FOR VISIT

Staff Sgt. Arthur B. Raymond Jr., a member of The Chicago Tribune black press crew until shortly after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor, was hailed yesterday by his Tribune associates when he stepped off a train, completing a journey from North Africa, where he was the ball turret gunner aboard a Flying Fortress.

Sgt. Raymond, who wears the air medal with 11 clusters for having completed 50 bombing missions—during which he shot down three Germans planes—will spend his furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Raymond Sr., in their home at 113 Harrison street, Oak Park. He started home from Algiers a month ago.

Bags Plane on First Mission.

Sgt. Raymond shot down his first plane last Feb. 26 while on his first combat mission against a small island north of Sicily. He shot down his second on May 10, over Sicily, and the third on Aug. 19, over Italy.

On his way home from the fighting front, Sgt. Raymond met and spent some time with Jack Thompson, Tribune war correspondent in Algiers. Arriving home yesterday, the first thing he did after greeting his parents and office associates was to make a dinner date for last night with Miss Margaret McDonough, editor of "The Trib," house organ of THE TRIBUNE.

"You can't imagine," Raymond said, "how wonderful it was to get 'The Trib.'"

Solomons Veteran Home.

Marines who captured and held Henderson field on Guadalcanal for six weeks had what Maj. Robert A. Nicholson described yesterday as a "hell of a time," but, with support of the navy and army, finally cleared out the Japanese.

Maj. Nicholson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Nicholson, 218 Ellis avenue, Wheaton, is 27 years old and has been on active duty with the marine corps since 1939. He was commissioned in the reserve in 1937, after being graduated from Washington and Lee university. His wife and 10 months old son live at 525 Forest avenue, River Forest.

Maj. Nicholson, as communications officer on the staff of Rear Adm. R. K. Turner, commander of amphibious forces in the South Pacific, established the first radio station on Guadalcanal, using converted captured Japanese equipment.

Part of Task Forces.

Last Nov. 12 to 15 Maj. Nicholson was aboard a ship forming part of the task force which defeated the Japanese fleet. Last February he took part in the seizure of Russell Island. Capture of Mona Island Wednesday, Maj. Nicholson said, indicated to him that the next objective of the South Pacific forces will be Bougainville Island.

Strategic value of small islands which American forces have been taking in the South Pacific, Maj. Nicholson said, lies in the fact that they provide operational bases for tank and troop landing ships, which have a limited range of movement.

Maj. Nicholson, who was sent home to recover from recurring attacks of malaria, said he frequently met Clay Gowran and Robert Cromie, Tribune war correspondents, in the Solomons. Gowran also is home to recover from tropical illness.

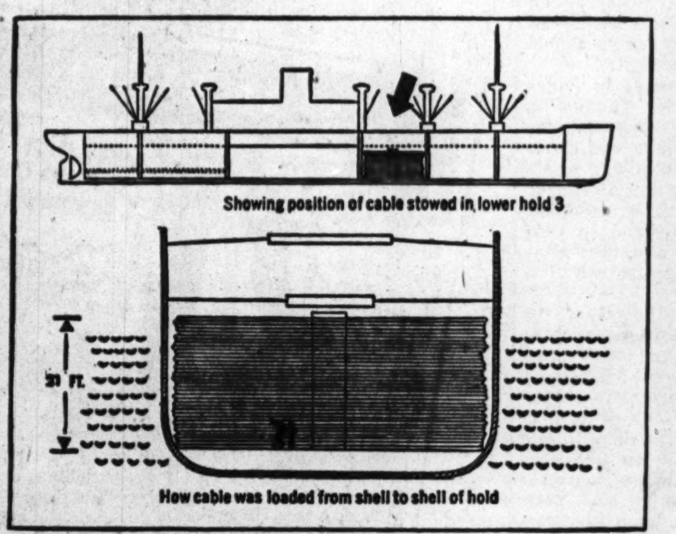
"A 65-mile-long headache to us . . . an endless mystery to them"

This is the true story of an unusual cargo that had to go half-way 'round the world . . . and of the riddles it posed, the suspicions it aroused . . . as told by the skipper of an Alcoa ship.

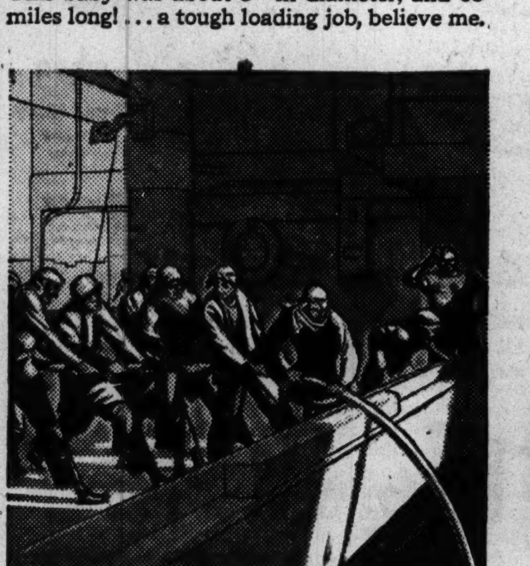
"I knew we were in for trouble the minute I saw those 6 gondola cars. There was the cable scheduled for our #3 hold . . . but what a cable! This baby was about 3" in diameter, and 65 miles long! . . . a tough loading job, believe me.



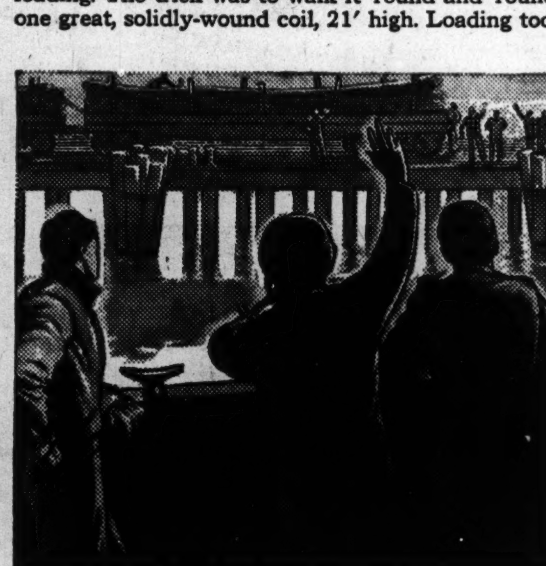
How cable was loaded from shell to shell of hold

"Our stevedores went to work on it . . . but that cable was as ornery as a mad boa constrictor. In desperation, we sent an SOS to the manufacturer. Their men came to direct the loading. The trick was to walk it 'round and 'round, making one great, solidly-wound coil, 21' high. Loading took 6 days.

"The cable was needed in such a hurry that we couldn't travel in convoy. We sailed alone . . . on a course that took us half-way 'round the world. We hit plenty of dirty weather. But luckily, no subs. We arrived on schedule.



"Then the real fun began. The stevedores were native tribesmen. The only way we could tell them what to do was through picture and sign language. To top it off, they soon became superstitious about the cable . . . thought it had no end and was coming up out of the sea.



"The port captain was inclined to agree with the natives. He had a log-jam of ships, waiting for us to get out. There was quite a celebration on the twelfth day, when the cable was finally unloaded. Just before we left I said to the port captain, 'I'll send you a cable when we get back to New York'." He shuddered.

The American Merchant Marine needs the services of every experienced man who has a license as a deck officer, or as an engineer. If you hold such a license, and are now working ashore, you may serve your country far better by going back to sea, even though the present shore job is war work. The hundreds of new ships which will be completed this year will need men like you as officers. Get full information at the nearest office of the U. S. Employment Service or write the War Shipping Administration, Washington, D. C.

RELEASE YANKS' STORIES OF LIFE AS PRISONERS

Flyers Tell of German's Hate for Them.

[The following dispatch, quoting exchanged American prisoners of war on their experiences in Germany, contains material which United States army censors in Britain held up when first presented to them on the arrival of the men in Liverpool on Monday. It is now released after two days of consideration.]

A HOSPITAL IN CHESHIRE, England, Oct. 28 (AP).—Fourteen ill and wounded American soldiers freed from German prison camps and brought here for treatment said today that Germans were pessimistic over the outcome of the war and many of them were so angry at Americans they spat upon and stoned them.

One man severely wounded in Sicily, Pvt. Herbert Ehrich, Brooklyn, N. Y., said all the Germans he talked to were "pessimistic over the outcome of the war and most of them seemed to think it would be over by January, 1944."

It was the flyers, parachuting down after air raids, who drew the ire of Nazi civilians.

"The Germans spat on us once or twice and we got plenty of scowls and dirty looks but suffered no actual violence," said Sgt. Lester Miller, Hartford, Conn., tail gunner in a Marauder which was shot down after an attack on a power plant in Holland last May 17.

Flyer Hit by Rock.

Another group of flyers found trouble when the loud speaker in the railroad station at Lueneburg, where they were being taken, announced to the crowd that airmen who had bombed Hamburg were present. One of the men was hit by a rock, civilians cursed them and threw hot coffee at them, but guards protected them from violence.

Other flyers who had a passing glimpse of Berlin, Augsburg, and Hamburg told interviewers that bomb damage had been terrific in certain areas and Hamburg particularly was "flat for miles and miles—a shambles."

Ehrich, who fought thru Tunisia, was wounded five times and suffered a collapsed lung in a mortar burst at Troina, Sicily. He was given good treatment by Serb doctors near Munich after "a terrible trip from the front," but said he would have died if it had not been for Red Cross packages of food that arrived regularly.

Describes Loss of Fortress.

Benny Spring, 22, of Denver, Colo., former jockey, who once studied for the priesthood, told the first full story of the end of the Flying Fortress Butch after it had unloaded its bombs on smoking Hamburg.

"Butch" had fallen a mile behind the formation when two engines were knocked out by German fighters, but the big bomber still made the run over the target, he related.

Minutes after the shout "Bombs away" was heard, Spring lay unconscious beside his waist gun; Sgt. Eugene Morton of Eldorado, Ark., ballturret gunner, was stretched beside him in the waist with a machine gun wound in his stomach; and Tailgunner Sgt. Robert Bridges, Deerfield, Mass., wounded in both hands and with a broken wrist, was trying without success to drag them to the escape hatch of the riddled and flaming Fortress.

Illinoisan in "Fort."

Spring said that Lt. John Van Wie of Long Beach, Cal., who was piloting "Butch," and Engineer Albert Hlebaeco of East Chicago, Ill., former professional wrestler, were last seen trying to fix the automatic pilot after the bail out order had been given.

"I landed almost in the arms of three German soldiers," Spring said. "They told me to pick up my parachute. I refused. I was barefooted, having lost both my flying boots and shoes, but I managed to walk to a hospital only two blocks away."

Share Prison Food.

One other returned American prisoner at this hospital camp was Sgt. Milton Williams of Omaha, Neb. He told how the prisoners in one German camp made up teams to get the most out of their diet. It was necessary to supplement the camp food by Red Cross packages in order to keep alive, he said.

"We'd get a man with a bad stomach, a blind man with a missing leg, and a man with good legs who could do our running around with us," he said.

"Each of us would share in the work and get a special part of the diet. We'd save bits from our supper and later in the evening we'd add Red Cross food and heat it over the steam pipes for our best meal of the day."

JUDITH KELLY.

Mrs. Muriel T. Kelly, 27 years old, of 2309 North Sacramento boulevard, obtained an order for temporary support money of $22 a week in Superior court yesterday when she testified that her husband, Joseph, 27, a welder, had beaten her and her daughter, Judith, 3, with a belt when she awakened him from a nap. Judge John A. Sbarbaro also enjoined Kelly, who lives at 1755 Lincoln avenue, from molesting his wife or disposing of the family car and household furnishings. Mrs. Kelly is suing for divorce, charging cruelty and threats against her life.

HALLOWEEN, WAR STYLE: WITCHES, BUT NO VANDALS

Witches may dance and jack o' lanterns grin in traditional Halloween celebrations tomorrow night just so it's for fun, but vandalism in the name of the holiday will border on sabotage in a war time emergency wherein property destruction becomes an aid to the enemy. Salvage and conservation therefore are the keynotes of announcements for annual parties, which will be held tomorrow because Oct. 31, date of Allhallows eve, falls on Sunday.

Mayor Kelly designated tomorrow as Conservation day in Chicago, and young people were asked to refrain from soaping windows or otherwise marring or destroying property. The request is reinforced by police instructions to take names and addresses of all youngsters causing disturbances and to hold the young pranksters at police stations until parents call.

Aside from the expense and effort involved in property destruction, property owners point out that this year materials often are unobtainable.

Two Germans Flee Army Prison Camp in Kentucky

Two German prisoners of war, Erich Wulf, 30 years old, and Karl Heinz Zigannen, 22, escaped from internment at Camp Breckenridge, Ky., Wednesday night, Spencer J. Drayton, head of the Chicago federal bureau of investigation office, was notified yesterday. The men were dressed in blue denim prisoners' uniforms. Neither speaks English. Drayton said the two escaped from a temporary prisoners' camp at Austin, Ind., Oct. 1, and were captured the next day.

PATRIOTS WAGE SABOTAGE THRU FRENCH CITIES

Country Reported Near 'Revolutionary Stage.'

Equip French Army

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 28 (AP).—A well equipped French army of 80,000 men is now making guerrilla forays against the Germans from the mountains of southeastern France, the Goteborg Handels-Och Sjofartstidning said in an article written by its former Vichy correspondent today. These forces were said to be made up of soldiers who escaped to the hills when the Germans moved into Vichy's free zone last November.

GENEVA, Switzerland, Oct. 28.—Dynamiting of the Centron dam, in the French department of Isere, is considered here as a serious blow to war production in that region, but it is only one of many acts of sabotage spreading thruout France, which is now in a "pre-revolutionary stage," say well informed sources.

Highlighting the new situation in France is the appearance of patriots in the cities, mainly in Paris, where they number about 35,000, but who also are active in Lyons and Marseilles. The city patriots move constantly from place to place and change their identities.

Clergy Helps Patriots.

Activities of the patriots are supported by a majority of the clergy. In Touraine, a man who denounced a Protestant preacher was shot.

Resistance to Nazi rule among French farmers has increased. One city council president complained that deliveries from the countryside, fixed by ration, were not fulfilled completely. The department of Correze sent 89 oxen instead of 200, and 1,000 calves instead of 2,000, while the Calvados department delivered 445 oxen instead of 1,345, and so on. A collapse of the food supply system is feared. The weekly meat allowance in Paris is now down to 2.5 ounces.

Observers believe the farmers prefer to supply the patriot forces, altho the latter often plunder their farms.

Big Increase in Crime.

Armed men in Marseilles, pretending to be police officers, bound and gagged a wine merchant's watchman and carted away three barrels of alcohol, each containing 2,000 gallons, this week. They robbed another merchant of $34,000 and raided a gambling party which netted $2,000. In Semur, Burgundy, three women were shot dead by a gang.

Such acts may not always be blamed on the patriots, since lawlessness and poverty are spreading over the country.

BY SALLY JOY BROWN

[This department answers questions covering problems related to the social welfare of relatives of service men, both in the column and by mail, if stamped, addressed envelopes are sent with inquiries to Sally Joy Brown.]

Mrs. E. L. writes: "Can you send me information regarding postal regulations to naval officers overseas? My brother is a member of the medical corps. He has requested some technical publications. May these be sent?"

ANSWER: Technical books, such as you mention, may be sent, but the package is limited to five pounds in weight, 15 inches in length, and 36 inches in length and girth combined. Only one parcel per week may be mailed by any one person. If the books you wish to send exceed that weight, they will have to meet the following conditions:

Parcels containing books may be mailed by a member of the individual's family, provided that they are accompanied with a certificate signed by the mailer that the shipment contains only medical or other technical books and is in response to a bona fide order or request from the member to whom it is addressed, together with a statement from his commanding officer that the shipment is essential to the duties of the addressee.

Single copies of publications of the second class weighing more than five pounds may be accepted when presented by a publisher, providing that they are of a technical or scientific nature and are sent in response to a subscription.

Mrs. B. C. writes: "My son is in the army, and I have just received my first allowance check. I was recently offered an opportunity to work full time in a factory. If I accept this position, will I continue to receive the allowance, or will it be discontinued?"

ANSWER: If you are employed, it will be necessary for you to advise the Office of Dependency Benefits of that change in your financial status. In order to receive a family allowance, a class "B" dependent must be prepared to prove actual dependency upon the service man for a substantial amount of her support. Provide information as to the income you will receive, and you will then be advised as to whether or not you are still eligible for an allowance.

Mrs. L. T. writes: "My son has been an enlisted man in the navy for more than a year. He was located on the west coast and gave us his address but did not supply his rating or number. We heard from him regularly in response to our letters until about two months ago. Last week we received a card from the postmaster saying that the mail was piling up at the post office and could not be delivered until we knew his rating and number. Can you tell me where I can get this information?"

ANSWER: I believe it would be best for you to contact the Bureau of Naval Personnel, Navy department, Washington, D. C. Explain the situation and your relationship, and provide all the identifying information you possess.

AIRMAN ADMITS BLUDGEON DEATH OF HEIRESS WIFE

Bedroom Quarrel Is Told by Lonergan.

weighted package into the water. Police tonight were dragging the river in an attempt to retrieve the clothing which had been hunted in a city-wide search that had covered incinerators, ash cans, and dry cleaning establishments.

Soon after noon Sunday Longergan kept his date with the girl he had told his wife about, Jean Murphy Jaburg, a divorcee, with whom he had been merrymaking at the Stork club and the Hotel Plaza until 3 o'clock Sunday morning. He took her to the Plaza for lunch. She said his demeanor was calm and that she did not notice the scratches on his face.

While the body of his wife lay undiscovered in her apartment, he spent the afternoon with the divorcee until he caught a plane at 7:10 p. m. which took him back to Toronto, Ont., where he was arrested Monday.

Brought back here by plane yesterday, Lonergran persisted in his denials thru relentless questioning that he had killed his wife. He offered as an alibi a story of spending the previous night and the time of the slaying in Harjes' apartment with a soldier named Murray Worcester whom he said he had befriended. He said the soldier scratched him and stole his uniform.

Flyer's "Alibi" Blows Up.

But today his "alibi" blew up when Maurice Worcester, a Bridgeport, Conn., war worker appeared voluntarily at the district attorney's office and pleaded that his name be cleared. Worcester, the father of three children and honorably discharged from the army last April, declared he had not been in New York over the week-end and was mystified as to how Lonergan happened to use his name.

In a trap set for the suspected slayer, Worcester was brought before him supposedly as a detective. Neither man showed the slightest sign of recognition. Lonergan admitted he didn't know Worcester. Told who he was, the cadet confessed the Worcester of his story was a figment of his imagination.

The final breakdown came when detectives produced four fingerprints taken from one of the candlesticks and confronted Lonergan with the fact that they were identical with fresh ones taken from his long fingers.

After unburdening himself in a long recital of his hideous story, Lonergan said he was hungry. Police sent out for a quart of milk and some sandwiches, and he ate ravenously.

"Sorry About It All."

"Are you sorry you killed your wife?" he was asked when he had finished eating.

"I don't know whether I did right or not," he replied, icily. After a pause he added, "Yes, I'm sorry. I'm definitely sorry about it all."

Hogan said Lonergan would be booked on a charge of homicide and would be arraigned tomorrow morning after a routine appearance at a police showup.

The possibility that one of the motives for the slaying involved Mrs. Lonergan's inheritance was suggested with the report she could leave her estate to whomever she named in her will.

Mrs. Lonergan was the beneficiary of a trust fund which included a substantial part of the 5 million dollar fortune left by her grandfather, Max Bernheimer, brewery baron, and passed on to her when her father, William O. Burton, who had changed his family name, died two years ago.

It was said she was receiving only the income from the trust and could not touch the principal until she became 31, and if she died before that time the income and the entire principal would go to her chosen beneficiary. If she died without a will, which she apparently did, her estate supposedly would go to her son and husband.

It also was reported she had cut off her husband from any allowance out of the income after a quarrel and estrangement that sent him to join the R. C. A. F. last Sept. 6.

Altho the slain wife was said to have been a vivacious playgirl frequently seen in Manhattan night spots with other men—she had been night clubbing until 6 a. m. Sunday with Mario Gabelline, a cafe society figure—she was described late today by a lifelong family friend as a serious, young mother and hard working nurse's aid who had time for night clubbing only on week-ends.

Mrs. Irving Netcher, the former Roszika of the famed Dolly sisters, who has been the only person in addition to a physician to have spent any time with Patricia's mother, Mrs. Lucille Wolfe Burton, said:

"A lot has been written about the cafe society angle, but few know what her mother told me yesterday: that Patricia had put in long hours working as a nurse's aid at the Bellevue and St. Clair hospitals. The only time she found for night clubs was on week-ends. She spent her hours either at the hospital or with her baby."

TIRING OF JAIL, WOMAN DIGS UP $14,000 IN STOCKS

Mrs. Rae Mesirow, 4935 North Whipple street, who was sent to jail when she refused to reveal the hiding place of $35,000 in securities in which her estranged husband, Samuel, claims a joint interest, tired of cell life yesterday and produced enough of the securities to gain her release on bond.

Mrs. Mesirow, who says she purchased the securities out of her savings as a telephone operator, telephoned Mrs. Minnie Silins, 4315 North Drake avenue, and told her to bring to Judge Joseph A. Graber of Superior court the securities she had left with her for safe keeping. In the envelope produced by Mrs. Silins were $14,000 worth of listed securities and 143 shares of loan association stock of undetermined value.

Mesirow, 57 years old, a taxi driver, is suing for an accounting. His wife contends he never earned more than $20 a week since their marriage in 1918 and failed when she established him in business with her savings.

HARD COAL MINE WORKERS GIVEN PAY RISE BY WLB

80,000 Will Benefit by Little Steel Award.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28 (AP).—The war labor board tonight awarded a general wage increase of 32.2 cents a day to 80,000 Pennsylvania anthracite mine workers plus the right to free tools and equipment, estimated to be worth 20 to 25 cents a day, and an increase in their vacation allowance from $20 to $50.

A $2 a day increase over basic rates of $5.08 had been asked by the miners.

Boost Is Retroactive.

The wage award was made under the little steel formula. The board declined to award any portal to portal pay, another miner request, using the same reasoning as it used in the bituminous decision of last May.

The board said the anthracite miners had asked a lump sum settlement of underground travel claims, but did not propose any plan of changing the work day to a portal to portal basis, as the union proposed in the Illinois bituminous agreement.

The vote was eight to four, with the labor members dissenting.

Financial aspects of the board's decision are retroactive to May 1, when the old contract expired.

This case, which is an operator-miner dispute rather than an agreement submitted to the WLB for approval, is separate from the larger bituminous coal case.

The board ordered double time for work on the seventh consecutive day in the work week. This is in accordance with an existing executive order and affects relatively few employes.

Written Pact Not Ordered.

It rejected the operators' claim that time and one-half paid on the sixth day amounts to a wage increase and should be charged against the miners under the little steel wage stabilization formula. The board said overtime is excluded in calculating what is due under this formula, which permits general wage increases up to 15 per cent above the level of Jan. 1, 1941.

The increased vacation allowance will give miners $50 instead of $20 they received in the past when they took a two week holiday, provided for in previous contracts. The allowance is in lieu of salary which they do not draw, being hourly workers.

The board did not specifically direct the parties to execute a written contract, but said: "By this order the board decides the dispute certified to it and provides for terms and conditions to govern relations between the parties until such time as the parties by agreement or the board by order may otherwise stipulate."

JUDGE PLANS NO FURTHER ACTION IN THEFT OF RUG

Judge John R. McSweeney of the Municipal court yesterday said he plans no further action in the case of John Hughes, 38 years old, 716 North Wells street, and James Garrity, 49, of 864 North Wells street, released by the judge last week to try to recover an automobile lap rug, a lawnmower, and garden hose they admitted stealing from William Dougherty, 210 Hill street. Judge McSweeney said that, when the case was called in Racine Avenue court a week ago, Dougherty declared he did not want to prosecute the two men. The judge said he continued the case three times, and when Dougherty did not appear, he dismissed the charges Wednesday. Dougherty said Wednesday night he did not ask that the case be dismissed but urged that the judge "go easy" on the two.

MINERS TO HONOR EX-ILLINOIS HEAD BY NOT WORKING

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—If about half of the 80,000 Pennsylvania anthracite coal miners are missing from their jobs the next few days, the United Mine Workers of America has an explanation which has nothing to do with the current coal strike.

A UMW spokesman told THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE that tomorrow is John Mitchell day and is celebrated by anthracite miners in memory of the Illinois labor leader who directed the anthracite mine strikes in 1900 and 1902.

Thousands of Pennsylvania miners will stay away from the pits to attend meetings to honor Mitchell.

Mitchell was president of the union from 1899-1908. He was born in Braidwood, Will county, Ill., in 1870, attended school there until he was 10, and entered the labor movement at 16. He died in 1919.

Many of the miners probably will not return to work Saturday, which marks the opening of the hunting season, the UMW official said.

"With meat rationing what it is and the miners' families large consumers of meat, it's only natural a lot of them will go hunting and may not get back to their homes until some time Monday," he said. "The miners are not sportsmen but meat hunters. They're not out for the fun but to get food for their families."

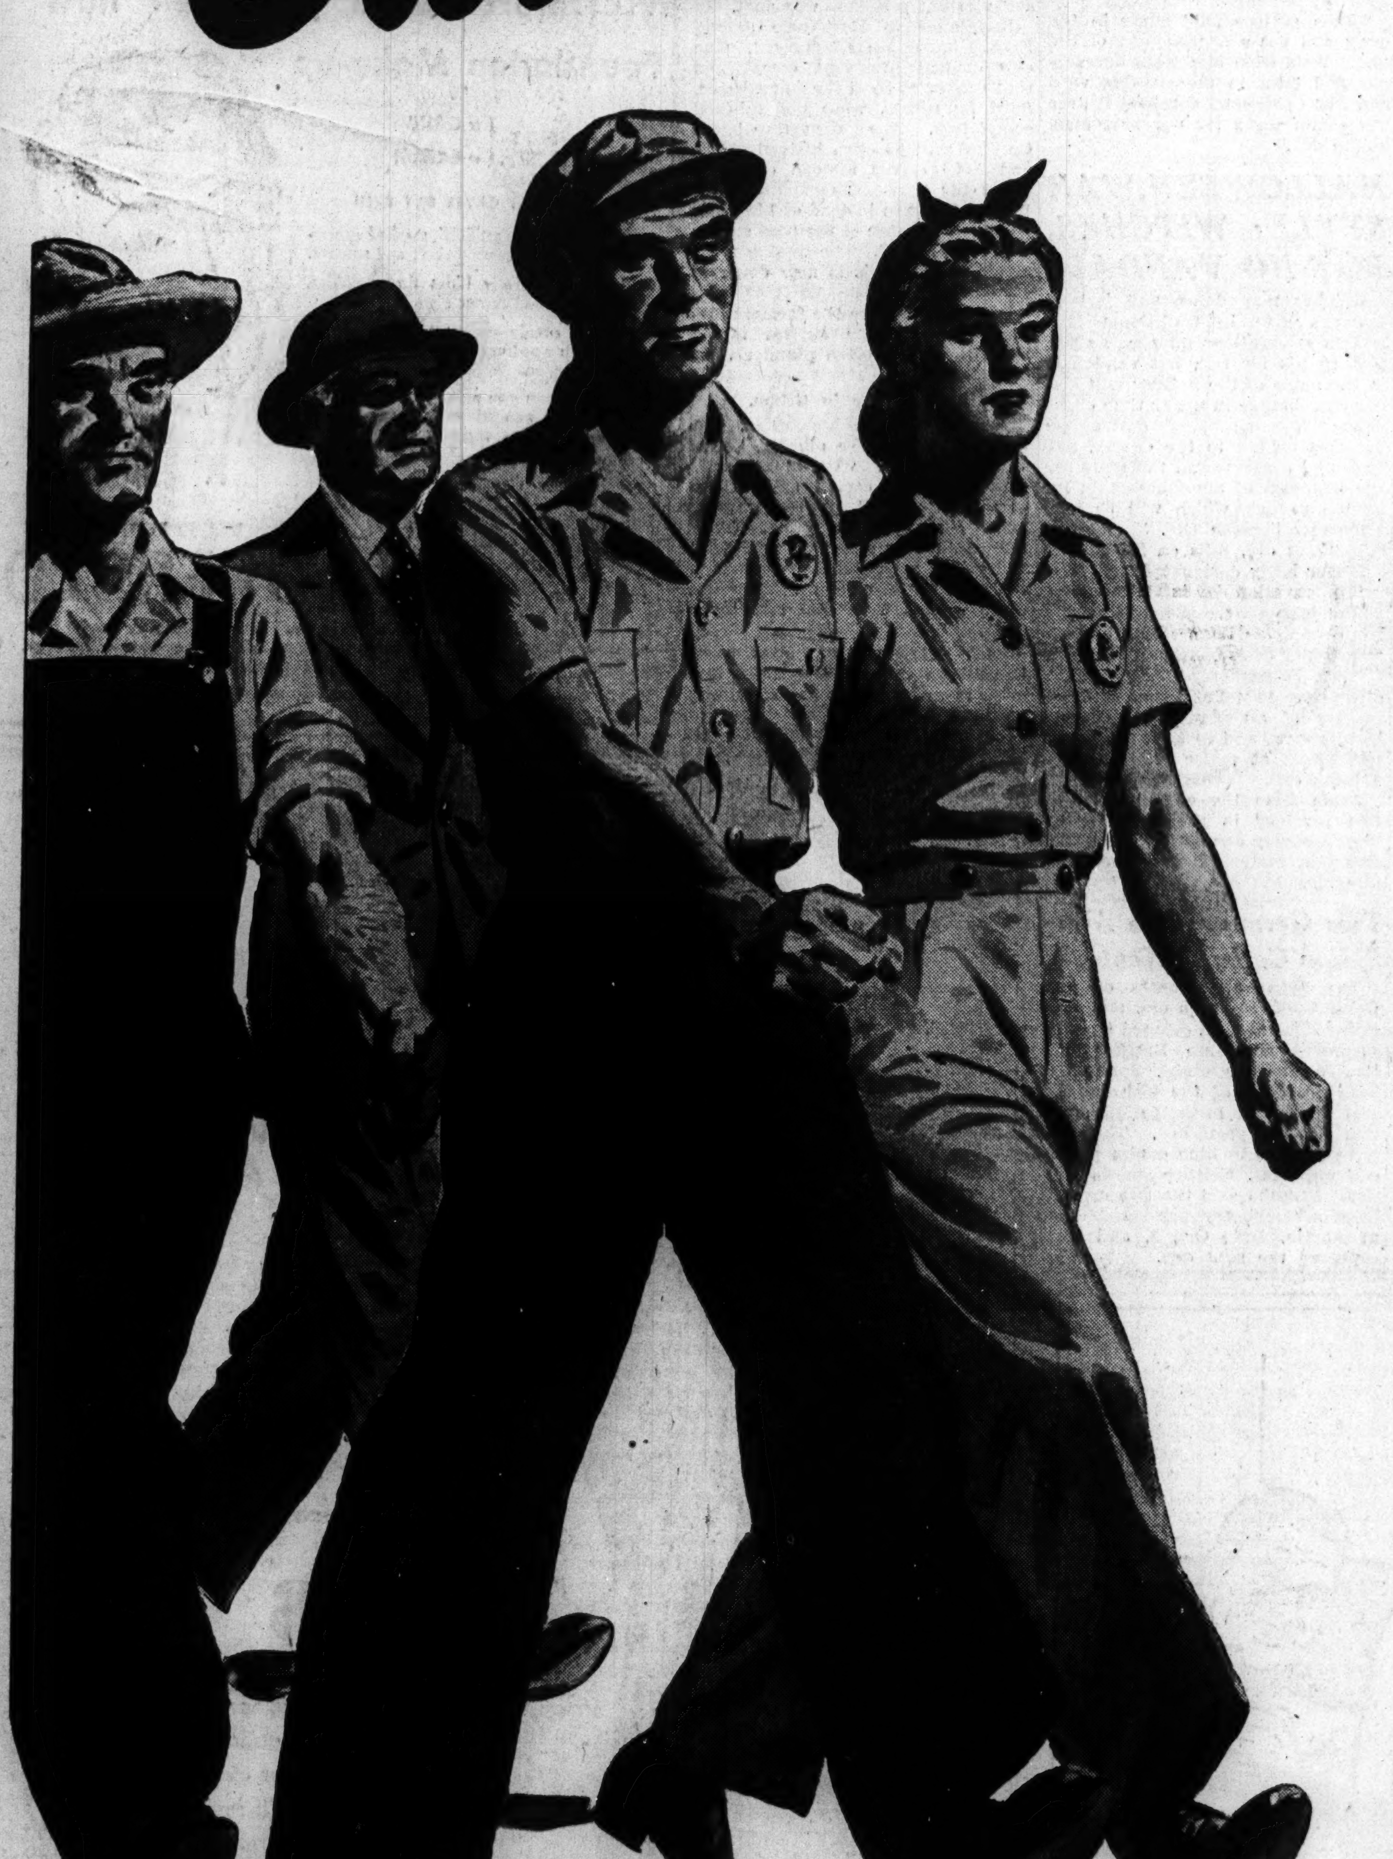
Isn't it time you woke up to the rare delights of an Old Fashioned made with Calvert Reserve? You'll discover that this whiskey's superb "soft" flavor has the happy faculty of blending with—rather than overpowering—the other ingredients in a mixed drink. Besides, every precious drop of Calvert Reserve now comes from limited stocks* of irreplaceable reserves—hence it's more than ever "the choicest whiskey you can drink or serve"!

*Calvert, like every other distiller, is distilling only war alcohol.

Calvert Distillers Corp., N. Y. C. Blended Whiskey: 86.8 Proof—65% Grain Neutral Spirits.

NOW... Our "Second Wind"



Anyone can start something.

To sprint the first lap of a championship mile—to write the first chapter of a book—to buy the first War Bond or dig the first Victory Garden—to give your best during the first part of a war, those things are easy. The flags are waving and the crowd is cheering at the start. There is a thrill about beginning.

And then what?

Then the grind begins, the wear and tear, the weariness. The runner's chest tightens and his legs drag. The writer's ideas come hard. The bond buyer feels the pinch and the gardener's hands blister. The manufacturer stares glumly at a cancelled war contract, while the worker in the plant finds the mornings cold and dark and his job suddenly monotonous.

That is the grind, the time for what the Army calls "sweating it out," the time when the quitters quit and even the champions slow down, when it is hard to hang on and keep plugging. It is the time when races—and wars—are won.

We—all of us—have been going through the grind. We have all felt the pressure. We have been disheartened by failures, angered by blunders, tired by constant effort.

Now, like a runner, we are getting our "second wind." The worst of the grind is past. Victory is ahead. We see it. We know it can be ours. We know that if we use our "second wind" with determination, nothing our enemies do can defeat us. We cannot lose now, unless we beat ourselves by easing off when the goal is in sight.

Let us pledge ourselves, now, to use our "second wind" to the utmost, to buy every Bond we can, to help on every front of the war effort, to tackle every production job as though it were the first one. Above all, let us pledge ourselves to stay on the job—every man and woman, every day and every hour—until we finish what we have so well started, until complete Victory is won.

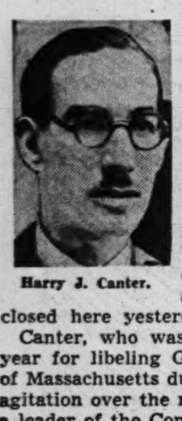
LINCOLN SCHOOL TEACHER ONCE IN CELL A YEAR

Later Ran for Governor as Red Nominee.

Harry J. Canter, alias Cantor, an instructor at the communistic Abraham Lincoln school, 30 West Washington street, served a term in the Deer Island [Mass.] prison, which is Boston's Bridewell, in connection with the internationally famous Sacco-Vanzetti murder case of 23 years ago, it was disclosed here yesterday.



Harry J. Canter.

Canter, who was sentenced to a year for libeling Gov. A. T. Fuller of Massachusetts during Communist agitation over the murder case, was a leader of the Communist party in the east, it is disclosed. He was nominated by the Communists for governor of Massachusetts in 1930.

Former Soviet Employe.

Canter, who teaches a course on "War Time Trade Union problems" at the Abraham Lincoln school, informed a Tribune reporter enrolled in his class several weeks ago that he had worked for the soviet government in Moscow from 1933 to 1937, printed Communist propaganda pamphlets and books in the English langauge. At that time he was evasive regarding the remainder of his background.

When questioned last night, Canter refused to answer any questions regarding the disclosure.

"What damn business is it of THE TRIBUNE'S," he demanded, "what I did before I came to Chicago?"

Urges Overthrow of Capitalism.

The Sacco-Vanzetti case was dragged thru the courts for seven years, largely as the result of agitation over the case by radicals. Nicola Sacco, and Bartolomeo Vanzetti, the defendants, eventually died in the Massachusetts electric chair in 1927, for the holdup murder of a paymaster of a South Braintree, Mass., shoe company his guard.

Frequently quoted during his trial, while serving his term in the Deer Island prison and after his release, Canter consistently and violently attacked the capitalistic system and advocated its overthrow and substitution of a Communist dictatorship.

The Communist Daily Worker, official publication of the party, on May 31, 1929, published an article signed by Canter, and written while he was in the prison, in which he concluded an attack on the capitalistic system by writing:

"I, as a Communist, consider it my duty to work to the end that the whole capitalist system which gives rise to Sacco-Vanzetti frameups will be swept from the earth and a communist society built in its place."

The Communist Daily Worker on June 14, 1929, quoted from an interview with Canter in his prison cell:

"I will do everything necessary and will stay in jail as long as necessary in the fight of the workers for the workers' dictatorship. I am at the disposal of the Communist party."

In his speech accepting his nomination as the Communist party's candidate for governor of Massachusetts in 1930, Canter, according to the Communist Daily Worker of June 4, 1930, declared he was proud to head the Communist party's state ticket. The Daily Worker further quoted him as saying:

"In the coming election the Communist party is the only one raising the banner of class struggle. It is the only party fighting for . . . the complete abolition of capitalism . . . in the United States."

Tells Plan for Taking Over.

Canter several weeks ago disclosed to the Tribune reporter who had enrolled in his class while investigating the school, under an assumed identity, the plan by which the Communists hope to take over all industry and wealth in the United States and institute a permanent dictatorship.

The keystone of the plot, as disclosed to the reporter, lay in exploitation of the fact that the federal government today actually owns a gigantic system of brand new industrial plants, now producing to win the war.

"This country today," Canter then declared, "is half socialized, half capitalistic. It has arrived at the critical, or strategic point, in its transition stage."

Later the reporter summarily was barred from his classes and ejected from the school when his identity as a Tribune employe was learned.

INCISO RECEIVES UAW CONFIDENCE VOTE AT PARLEY

In a secret session of the AFL United Automobile Workers convention yesterday, Angelo Inciso, ex-convict Chicago UAW leader, offered to quit his job as international organizer if the convention thought he was not trying to do an honest job for the 6,000 members of the union in Chicago. The convention voted almost unanimously for him to retain his organizer's job.

Inciso's plea to the 325 delegates assembled in the Morrison hotel, followed the reading of his criminal record by Irvan Cary, union president. Cary was defending his action of firing Inciso last April against a later action by the executive board in reinstating him. Cary said that his reason for firing Inciso was for the "good of the union only, and to free the UAW of racketeers."

Anthony Doria, vice president of the union, and Inciso's boss, defended Inciso who he said "has rehabilitated himself and refuses to handle any of the funds of the union."

DIRECTOR OF RED SCHOOL IS KEPT BY BERWYN OCD

C. H. Coyle, coördinator of civilian defense in Berwyn, won a vote of confidence last night from the Berwyn OCD council after he had delivered a 50 minute lecture praising Russia.

Coyle is a member of the board of directors of the communistic Abraham Lincoln school, 30 West Washington street.

Mayor Fred J. Mraz of Berwyn, who said Wednesday that he would oust Coyle from the OCD job if he refused to resign, failed to appear at the meeting last night in the city hall, but sent a letter asking the council to consider Coyle's affiliations and to submit a recommendation "for my guidance." The mayor expressed regret that "illness" kept him from attending the meeting.

Hundred Persons Attend.

About 100 persons attended the session, 30 of them members of the OCD council. Coyle, a little man who balances shell rimmed spectacles on the end of his nose, was the first speaker.

"If I choose to join a communistic school—and the Abraham Lincoln school isn't one," he said, "it's still my right to go to the school. It's nobody's business but my own. The Communist party is a legal party in Illinois, I believe."

Coyle denied he is a Communist and defended the school's curriculum. He admitted the school's assistant director, William L. Patterson, is a Communist, and said he thought it was a good thing to have a school which permits Communists to teach their beliefs.

"At other universities, including the University of Chicago and the University of Illinois, I'm sorry for the students I see walking on the campus," he said. "I'm sorry for their ignorance, for the fact that they're unaware of the great progress of the soviet union. I visited Russia in 1938, and saw with my own eyes the socialist and economic achievements, more magnificent than their military victories."

Attacks Tribune Demands.

Coyle then denounced THE TRIBUNE, mentioning especially its demands for air bases in Siberia and its accounts of communistic influences in the merchant marine. He concluded his speech with a dramatic: "You have the power to deprive me of my office, but not the right."

Four representatives of CIO unions then delivered long speeches praising Coyle. By this time the audience was getting restive and somebody made a motion that the council recommend to the mayor that Coyle be retained in office. It was carried unanimously.

COMMUNITY AND WAR FUND CAMPAIGN TOPS ITS HALFWAY GOAL

The metropolitan Chicago campaign for the National Community and War Fund has achieved subscriptions amounting to $6,477,967, or 51 per cent of its quota, it was announced yesterday at a report meeting marking the halfway point in the drive. Elmer T. Stevens, campaign chairman, said this figure slightly exceeded the halfway goal and exhorted the workers to strive for even better results during the next week.

The women's division continued to lead the parade in group percentage, having taken in $122,192, or 61 per cent of quota.

One of the highest team quota percentages has been turned in by the Jewish welfare agencies which, under Henry Bauling, have already accounted for 211 per cent of their goal.

HUNGER'S TOLL IN POLAND TOLD BY RELIEF HEAD

Death by starvation will halve the number of Poles in Europe by the time the war is over, Clarence E. Pickett, executive secretary of the American Friends Service committee, predicted yesterday in Breasted hall at the University of Chicago campus. Pickett spoke at the third in the Walgreen series of lectures on social service in wartime.

His thesis was "Food Will Win The Peace." He said that whereas residents of this country ordinarily consume 2,500 calories a day the Poles average only about 680 calories a day and the Jews in Poland average only about 400 a day. He asserted Americans have an obligation to alleviate this condition as much and as often as they can.

Staff workers of the committee did relief work in France until about a year ago.

OLIVER H. BOVIC ELECTED G. O. P. COMMITTEEMAN

Oliver H. Bovic, an assistant attorney general of Illinois, was elected acting Republican committeeman for the 6th ward last night at a meeting of the ward organization in a hall at 6635 Cottage Grove avenue. He won in a contest with Robert Ryan, an electrical contractor, by a vote of 54 to 20. Bovic succeeds the late Ald. Patrick Sheridan Smith, who died last May. The committeeman's post was filled temporarily by Ward L. Weist, who resigned several weeks ago.

25 DODGE PLANT WORKERS STRIKE AND BAR OTHERS

Twenty-five die sinkers, comprising the day shift at the Dodge Chicago plant, struck yesterday afternoon after an apprentice die sinker had been dismissed, company officials said last night. Later, the officials said, the strikers prevented 15 die sinkers on the night shift from coming to work.

The company said the apprentice was dismissed because he refused to do work assigned to him and added:

"In manufacturing aircraft engines die sinkers play an essential part. The strike of these men seriously hampers the important war work being conducted at the Dodge Chicago plant."

LIQUIDATING THE KULAKS.

Stabilization Director Vinson's order imposing price ceilings on live cattle had the effect that any one familiar with the live stock business would have expected. The immediate effect was to paralyze trading in cattle in the Chicago stock yards. The later effect will be to throw the meat business of the country into the hands of black market operators.

It seems certain that under Vinson's scheme the stock raiser will not know what price he is to get for his steers until they have been butchered and the meat graded as a basis for payment of government subsidies to the processor. Such procedure cannot fail to destroy the present complex machinery for the marketing of live stock and it is doubtful, from the record, whether the confusion that will result will be accidental.

The American farmer, while he has been confused by price ceilings on some of his products and has had his share of troubles with ration boards, has not until now been held in the OPA straitjacket as are processors and retailers of food. Unlike the manufacturer, he has not had to go to the government under any controled materials plan for the raw materials that he feeds his stock or dairy herd. At least he hasn't as yet. But the planners in Washington have their eyes on him, as the Vinson program demonstrates.

Here is the prospect that one of the farmers' hired men says is facing the live stock producers of the United States. He is H. M. Conway, market analyst for the National Live Stock Producers' association. What he wrote appeared in that organization's publication before the Vinson order was promulgated, and thus has now the quality of prophecy fulfilled by events:

"Every control measure has been subtly designed, without question, to create additional emergencies. Otherwise it is hard to conceive of such ignorance and lack of economic reasoning. Based on the laws of chance, they [the burocrats] should be right half the time.

"The only excuse for ceiling prices for live hogs has been the result of inequities caused by other control measures. It will be only a matter of time until hog ceilings will create the emergency need for government sorting for grade and weight. With no bargaining process, hogs will have to be assigned or allocated to packers. Shipping permits will also be part of the plan. This will take the hog producer and feeder for a one-way ride. The packer has everything to gain and nothing to lose, and for Washington there will be an opportunity to take over and put an army in the field to handle live stock."

Washington started tampering with natural economic forces in the live stock industry when it put a ceiling of $1.07 on corn at a time when the farmer could make $1.35 a bushel by feeding that same corn to his hogs and selling the hogs. Instead of allowing the price of corn to go to its natural level, the price tinkerers sought to force corn into other channels by putting a ceiling on live hog prices. The result of this ceiling was that in a recent period of three weeks almost every hog marketed in the country, whether good, bad, or indifferent, brought the ceiling price. That is where Mr. Conway got his prediction of government grading and sorting.

Under the plan against which he warns, the normal marketing system of the live stock industry will be destroyed. The farmer will be told when to ship his hogs and to whom. When the hogs get to market a burocratic employe will decide what grade they are and will tell him how much he gets for them.

He will have just about as much to say about his business as the German peasant has under the Nazi farm front.

Since this destruction of normal marketing practices by burocratic interference has proceeded farthest in the hog industry, live stock authorities had expected it to be the first to be fully regimented. Vinson, however, has skipped some of the intervening procedures in imposing what will soon become full-fledged regimentation on the cattlemen. His precipitate action is of doubtful legality, and the haste, his critics charge, arises from the need to rescue the OPA from an untenable position into which it was led by its price fixing regulations of meat processors. The farmers, instead of the processors, are now to be the goats.

The dislocation of orderly marketing processes is not all that threatens the meat supply of the American consumer. There are feed shortages of various sorts in the range country and in some western cattle feeding areas. The middle western stock feeders have already been so discouraged by governmental interference, inability to buy corn, and the threat of price ceilings on cattle, now realized, that the number of cattle in their feed lots has been diminished. A good many of them took to heart the pronouncement of the glib 26 year old "expert" in Washington, who told a group of veteran cattle feeders that there is no place for them in the government's food plans.

As the difficulties increase, the day for which the planners planned will move closer. Having created a shortage, they will cry that private enterprise has failed and "we've got to do it ourselves." This administration has abandoned any hope of political support from the farmers. It is playing the CIO game and it is willing to exploit American agriculture to buy CIO votes.

The planners are all set for liquidation of the kulaks. Unless they are stopped the present shortages will in time become starvation in this country.

POST-WAR FLYING.

The British, according to official announcement, have drafted a "comprehensive and extensive" plan for post-war flying. As usual, the British government, with considerably more interest in national welfare than the New Deal administration shows for America, is getting ready to place England in the front rank.

America was the world leader in commercial aviation when the war began, tho the New Dealers had sought to sabotage the air lines by taking away the mail contracts. We had the best organized, the swiftest, and the safest air lines in the world. We carried this air superiority into the war in the design and production of the best and the most aircraft.

American aviation in the post-war world needs little help from the New Dealers. It has more to fear by their interference. American designers, manufacturers, and air line operators can dominate commercial flight thruout the world if the New Dealers will let them. These men are the pioneers of a new American industry, and their success is a proof of the value of free enterprise.

All that the manufacturers and operators need from the government is the assurance that they will not be placed at a competitive disadvantage and that the air bases built by our army and navy thruout the world and paid for by American taxpayers will be open to American aviation when the war is over.

POSTAL RATES.

The increase in postal rates which the house ways and means committee has approved raises a question and poses a problem in the field of economics rather than politics. It is improbable that the question occurred to the congressmen, whose only interest at the moment is in getting more revenue. So far as they are concerned, the postage increase is a relatively painless method of accomplishing that end.

Postage, however, is not a tax. The postoffice is a public utility. It is the starting point of a good many of the arguments of the public ownership fanatics. Postal service, it is repeated, is a utility just like the telephone or telegraph service, and differing little from electric power or public transportation.

Other utilities have on recent occasions had their requests for increased rates denied by the OPA on the ground that increases would contribute to inflation. The theory was that the increases would contribute to the general rise of the costs of living and thus stimulate demands for wage hikes. The congressmen, in boosting the rate for mail service, appear to have been oblivious to this argument.

Another noteworthy feature of the postal increase is that there was no one on hand from the postoffice department to insist that the increase was necessitated by rising operating costs. The postoffice is doing very well. It is probable that it is in the black for one of the few times in its history, even without any bookkeeping allowances for the thousands of tons of New Deal propaganda that it distributes free. If one may judge by the more or less agonized protests of its employes, it has not been particularly hurt by wage increases such as private industry has been forced to bear.

The increase is not to pay the cost of postal service, but to bolster the general revenues of the government, and therein lies the warning. The postoffice, it can be repeated, is a public utility operated by the public. It might be expected that it would render its service at cost, but that is not the present intention of congress. Instead, it is to be made a revenue producer to make up the deficits of other governmental operations. That is something for people to keep in mind when the New Dealers propose that the government expand its operations into other fields of business.

Let the government stay in the airplane business thru its investment in the present plants and we can expect that the price of airplanes will not be confined to their cost of manufacture but may include a surcharge to make up the deficits of the TVA. Put the government into the coal mining business and we can logically expect when we buy coal to pay a surcharge on each ton designed to support post-war lend-lease or a revived national youth administration.

When the government gets control of any monopoly it immediately evades the one control that makes any monopoly bearable—namely: Regulation and limitation of profits in the public interest. When it comes to charging what the traffic will bear, the burocrats are strictly economic royalists.

There is one increase in the postal rates that newspapers should support without reservation. That is the increase on second class mail. For decades the burocracy has contended that the newspapers and magazines were getting special benefits from the government in the form of low second class rates. No self-respecting newspaper wants something for nothing. Newspapers are willing to pay their own way, but they should not be required to defray postal deficits resulting from the free distribution of Elmer Davis' propaganda. If congress wants to place second class mail on a cost basis it should have the support of the country's newspapers in doing so.

WHO RUNS OUR ARMY?

Last week Field Marshal Jan C. Smuts, the renegade Boer, made the announcement that America would have to carry much the heaviest part of the burden of the invasion of Europe.

This announcement, like all news of our forces, came from London.

Now. Lt. Gen. Douglas Brownring says that we must raise a much larger army than the 10 million men which is the present goal announced in this country.

Who is running the American war effort? The answer appears to be the British war office. The American staff and generals merely execute orders originating in London.

As it stands now, Argentina will break with the axis if she can think up any reason that has not been suggested at a Pan-American conference.—Nashville Tennessean.

FASHIONS FOR CIVILIANS.

The right way to tie a four-in-hand, according to Apparel Arts, a magazine of the men's clothing trade, is to put a permanent crease or pleat in it just below the knot. The trick is accomplished by special fingerwork in the fourth and final step of the process.

* * *

This information was imparted to us by a sterling character of THE TRIBUNE's editorial staff whom we call the Commodore. Said he, emerging from the library with a copy of Apparel Arts under his arm, "I have lived for six decades, or you may call it 12 lustrums, in sublime ignorance of the art of four-in-hand tying. But look at me now." Sure enough, there was a debonair crease in his excellent scarf.

* * *

We immediately went into a necktie rehearsal with the Commodore as stage director, but for lack of a mirror we muffed the first attempt. The proceedings were interrupted by the office cynic who, with an original turn of wit, asked, "Don't you know there's a war on?" The Commodore answered sternly, "Nevertheless, the first thing a gob is taught is how to make that square knot in his necktie."

* * *

The librarian was amused by this trend in editorial research. She said, "Apparel Arts hasn't been consulted or withdrawn for a year. I was thinking about dropping it from our list." "Better keep it on hand," we advised. "It may be a mine of information on the zoot suit and why young men have taken to wearing socks that look like trade goods for the Solomon Islanders."

* * *

"By the way," said the Commodore, "the Britannica prints two pages of diagrams for knots, but it omits those to which civilization is most indebted—the four-in-hand and the hangman's."

BOOKS IN SEASON.

What do I read in summer? "Huck," for choice,
Or roam with Kipling thru the Seven Seas,
Drop thru green waves with Beebe—dream awhile
On poetry 'neath immemorial trees.

Autumn: the bitter Brontës on their moor,
The clash of swords with Crockett and with Scott,
Wild winds that sweep the glen in Sleepy Hollow,
And all my own ills happily forgot.

Thru winter storms I forage with the Doones,
Or find in Shakespeare all my heart's desire,
But leave his mirth and strutted stage to spend
One hour with Dickens by the Christmas fire.

Then spring! I need no books. The words come singing
And flow in trill and cadence from my pen
To mingle with the golden Song of Songs. . . .
And so rounds out the lovely year again.

Allons, Enfants de Streeterville.

Every one knows how interesting are Captain John's reminiscences of the Chicago that was. But no one but this reporter, who covered Inspector Mox [he was rarely called Max] Heidelmeier's raid on Cap Streeter's "Deestrict of Lake Michigan," can really appreciate his accuracy of description of that exciting incident [Oct. 25].

Only one thing escaped Captain John. When the cops were lined up ready to march, Mox theatrically emerged from the Chicago Avenue station to take his place in front; he marked time and then gave his "march on" command, shouting "Commence." I was assigned to cover the event and was a green cub.

When I got back to the office Billy Etten, the city editor, said, "Spread yourself on this; the big boss is down today," meaning Peter Finley Dunne, of Dooley fame. So I "spread" by beginning my opus, "These are the shanties primeval, the shacks of Streeter the squatter, that rise in a night on the lake front, down by the edge of the water; and the voice of the red-whiskered captain, like the wail of the wind in the forest," etc.

Very proud I was about that "lead" as it appeared in one edition of the old Chicago Journal, but Mr. Dooley cussed it clear out of the succeeding editions.

TO FERDINAND THE CAT.

Don Ferdinando: If you please,
I'd rather you'd not speak of fleas!
You're just a cat who makes the rounds;
But I weigh five-and-forty pounds,
With much more room for fleas to roam—
And how they make themselves at home!
No matter how folks scrub me clean
And comb me out, you've never seen
The like of "wild life" such as mine—
The little varmints sit and pine
For more flea powder to devour
And more flea soap with higher power.
I've been again to see the vet,
But afterward, I've more fleas yet!
So if you (scratch) don't mind too much,
I'd rather you'd not mention such;
The mere (bite) thought makes me unhappy.
Your pal, by correspondence, Nappy.

Linemaster: You and your Linebook! I cut out the entire column each day and put it in my own big scrapbook which I made for that one purpose. And that is what you might call a LINEBOOK. Of course, I have other books of a like nature devoted to other things, but my Linebook tops them all. Still, I suppose I'll have to buy one of your books to help keep you out of the poorhouse. How to Keep Well
By Dr. Irving S. Cutter

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made under proper limitations, when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Dr. Cutter will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

[Copyright: 1943: By The Chicago Tribune.]

TULAREMIA FROM INFECTED RABBITS.

TULAREMIA, or rabbit fever, is acquired thru the handling or the eating of uncooked meat of wild rabbits or other animals that have become infected. In 90 per cent of the cases thus far reported, that artful dodger, the cottontail, has been responsible.

This means that whenever a hunter finds a dead bunny in the woods, he should at once assume that the disease probably exists in the locality, among various forms of wild life. It can be spread by the bite of flies, ticks, fleas, and even bedbugs. An instance was reported subsequent to the skinning of a sage hen. Even dogs can contract the malady.

How does the ailment present itself? While it is not regarded as contagious, it is infectious. A break in the skin may admit the organisms thru contact with contaminated blood or flesh.

How do the symptoms begin? A few days after exposure, the patient will experience a sharp chill. This is followed by elevation of temperature, with aches and pains thruout the body, particularly involving the muscles of the back and the thighs. Most victims will complain of headache. After a few hours, prostration may become extreme.

As a rule, a small sore will be observed at the point of inoculation. This soon ulcerates and the infection extends upward along the arm or the part involved, until the neighboring lymph glands become enlarged. The very engorgement of these nodes is in itself extremely suspicious and should place the physician on guard.

Another variety of the disorder resembles typhoid and sometimes several days will elapse before the individual will recall that he prepared game for cooking. During the hunting season, therefore, patients presenting symptoms which are puzzling—with fever, chills, and sores—may well have the blood checked against the causative germ, which is known as the "bacillus tularensis." Skin tests are also available, so that the diagnosis need not remain in doubt.

Now and then an eye will be the site of the initial lesion, with accompanying puffing of glands about the head and neck. This explains why some of these cases are first seen by the ophthalmologist, who may be perplexed by the appearance of the inflammation.

The severity of the infection will vary. There are relatively mild attacks, which clear up promptly. On the other hand, there may be a serious illness, endangering life. Fortunately, we have a serum, developed by Foshay, which has been extremely helpful. In the meantime, the sufferer may be made as comfortable as possible with skilled nursing.

Nimrods should be aware of the prevalence of this affliction and due precautions taken, both in handling game and making it ready for the table. In like fashion, housewives may unwittingly infect themselves if they are careless. Rubber gloves should be worn when dressing all trophies of the chase. If a tear in the cuticle occurs, cauterize it thoroly.

MILK SUGAR.

Mrs. J. C. writes: I have a friend with diabetes and she drinks milk every day. I have heard that this fluid is not recommended in this disease because of its sugar content. Is this true?

REPLY.

This edible is allowed in most diabetic diets. The sugar is lactose, only 50 per cent of which becomes glucose in the body. The pancreas should be able to take care of that much.

EXPERT NEEDED.

L. V. B. writes: About five years ago I "worked on" a pimple on my forehead. The spot never healed. Tho I have had X-ray treatments, scabs and scales form right along. The area itches and looks raw. What should be done?

REPLY.

Skilled treatment is demanded as an epithelioma [skin tumor] may be present.

SELF-ABSORPTION.

R. writes: Would you say that a person is off mentally who talks incessantly only of herself and her affairs? She never wants to listen to any one else and doesn't give a hoot for what goes on in this world outside her domain.

REPLY.

She is probably selfish and self-centered—big I, little you.

LIME SHORTAGE.

Mrs. L. V. writes: When a person lacks calcium what are the symptoms?

REPLY.

With adults, the teeth exhibit the deficiency early. In children, delayed closures of the sutures of the skull may be significant. Among general symptoms we may include disturbances of metabolism, nervousness, and fatigue.

Saturday Night in the Loop.

The rifle range in Chicago's loop was jammed with Saturday night merrymakers, but the crowd parted as a tall, tough looking sailor came thru the door with a pretty girl. They loaded a rifle and took turns knocking away at the pips. The sailor made about five hits out of his allotted 20 shots, while the girl, to the amazement of the gallery, calmly picked off everything in sight, winding up with a nearly perfect score. She then turned to her escort, took him by the hand, and marched him out of the place with, "There you are, baby. Now you behave yourself." His facial expression was a study in meekness.

Poet and the Peace.

Miss Ellen Wood, a poetess of Washington, D. C., dropped in here the other day to continue her nation-wide campaign for a place at the peace table for poetry and a poet. She feels that the totalitarian governments have failed because they have subjugated the arts. She is not impressed with the world that economics made and thinks it would be nice to give the arts a go at it.

Miss Wood was wearing a black taffeta dress with a large black hat. The hat was an off-the-face job, just sufficiently off so that she could wear a fat imitation rose in her hair and not have it crushed. She said she has been writing poetry since she was five and has written just bushels of it. Some of it has been published.

She is just rounding out a tour of 12 states and hopes to make a circuit of the entire 48, but, as she does it on her own money, she feels it may be as many as five years before she can finish it. She is doubtful that the end of the war will await her roundup. So far she has dealt principally with governors, mayors, and, frequently, Chinese consuls. She said she was surprised to find so many mayors aware of poetry; she hadn't expected it in a practical politician. However, she says, the Chinese feel much the same way she does, which is why she calls on them.

In closing, Miss Wood wished it made clear that she does not want just any poet to sit at the peace table. She doesn't want any of the love-dove rhyming sentimentalists sitting in, but some one of the Sandburg caliber.

Have you heard the new fighting cry of the navy stationed in Chicago: "Sighted sub. Glub. Glub."

Cynic in Navy Blue.

In a corridor of the navy department here is posted a large placard advising seamen: "You'll never be sorry you left your wife safe with national service insurance." Some misogynist has scratched out the word "safe."

Culinary Perplexity.

And then there was the bride who, after perusing a nonbrideproof cookbook, called her mother and said, "How do you dry ingredients?"

Signs of the Times.

Can it be due to the administration? A scout, Louise Williams, saw a sign on a south side store, "Taxes Oranges."

THE EXALTED ANGLO-SAXON.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—While reading Mr. V. Sinclair's letter in Sunday's Voice of the People, my first reaction was one of mild amusement which later changed to irritation at his repetitious use of the words "Anglo-Saxon" and his reference to the middle west as, "the mongrel part of the states." His frequent use of "Anglo-Saxon" is almost reminiscent of Mr. Hitler's "Aryan." Could it be possible that Mr. Sinclair does not concur with Mr. Churchill and Mr. Roosevelt in the belief that this war is being fought for the preservation of the four freedoms?

Mr. Churchill certainly never specified that only "Anglo-Saxons" were eligible for these beneficences. Perhaps this is just another instance of the British talking with tongue in cheek. If so, we of the "mongrel part of the states" would like to know, since we are footing a large part of the bill out of our pockets and are producing so much of the equipment and machinery used in the waging of this war. Certainly we are not so altruistic that we are willing to continue making the sacrifices we have been making to insure the well-being only of the "Anglo-Saxon." Mr. Sinclair would be surprised to know how many "mongrel" boys have already given their lives in this war.

I never before realized how exceedingly fortunate I am in being one of Mr. Sinclair's anointed "Anglo-Saxons" by descent. I had never considered it in the light of a privilege before he so kindly pointed it out. I had always been under the impression that my ancestors had left England for a definite reason, such as a distaste for the rigid caste system that prevails there. LENORA M. WHITMAN.

WHAT WE WERE TOLD.

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Our British friend, V. Sinclair, says that we were caught napping at Pearl Harbor because we did not heed the warnings of the administration. Even after September of 1939, when Mr. Sinclair became conscious of America, our "administration" stated, Oct. 31, 1940, in the Boston Gardens [a few days before election]:

"I have said this before, but I shall say it again and again and again. Your boys are not going to be sent into any foreign wars. . . ."

Well, sir, we believed that administration. A SAILOR'S WIFE.

HOW COME?

Chicago, Oct. 26.—The United States navy can detect a Jap warship 8 miles away and fix its position so accurately in the darkness as to sink it with a few direct hits; but an oil tanker can not detect another ship 100 feet away and so avoid a collision, destroying 88 valuable seamen and thousands of gallons of navy aircraft gasoline. How come? A. L. J.

ON MONGRELS.

Waterloo, Ia., Oct. 24.—The only "mongrel part" of America, as V. Sinclair calls it, is that portion of the east that seems to think that we are still a colony of Britain, and should be her abject servant. Rhodes scholars are more dangerous than the people seem to realize and should be deprived of citizenship and of holding public office in America. JAMES A. WEBSTER.

CALLS IT GARDEN CAMOUFLAGE.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—In answer to J. J. Klinck and Fred G. Heuchling, no doubt there were many types of Americans taking part in OCD activities all over the United States. The OCD attracted many good Americans, and is evidently still attracting them, because it played up gardens and home defense and these two things in themselves made very good camouflage. If the OCD is pledged to protect the home front, when is it going to start on the job? There never was a time in all our history when our home front was in such a state of chaos as it is today.

Mr. Heuchling, like Mr. Klinck, cannot see thru the camouflage of victory gardens and the propaganda of home defense, and writes about the beautiful block installations at street corners. But I cannot help thinking that some of them look like graves wherein may be buried our cherished American freedoms. Yes, the OCD fiddles with gardens, while our freedoms perish.

Up to the present moment the OCD is very much un-American, and we real Americans are alert to the political corruption which may develop if it is not confined to its advertised program. The American people are not going to take anything for granted in regard to the OCD. Mr. Klinck and Mr. Heuchling, as leaders in local OCD activities, have put up a very weak defense. R. J. NUGENT.

HARD TO BEAT.

Hines, Ill., Oct. 24.—A friend of mine writes from California: "I finally wore out my pump on an oil sprayer and spent two days last week getting another one. I got an order from the rationing board at Covina, Cal., for a new one and went to the pump company in Los Angeles and they wouldn't sell me one under a AA-1 priority. So they sent me to the board on South Broadway in Los Angeles. After a couple of hours, they sent me to another board on West 2d street. They gave me a RM-20 form and sent me back to the pump company and they still wouldn't accept it. So I threw the things away, then drove to Pomona, and bought the pump without any priority at all. Now can you beat that?" AUGUST M. DALE.

PLAN FOR 4-Fs.

Chicago, Oct. 22.—May I offer a suggestion in behalf of those who are unfortunately classed 4-F? We all agree that the majority of this class would do anything in their power to serve their country. Why not give them the chance to serve in a noncombat duty providing they waive their rights for disability benefits.

This will release thousands of able bodied men for actual combat duty and give these boys the right to wear the uniform of the land they love and cherish. THOMAS A. HARASTANY.

WOMEN OF G.O.P. GIVE WILLKIE PARTY BRUSHOFF

'Campaign Orator' Gets Boos at Rally.

BY GEORGE TAGGE.

A rousing prelude to the greater role of women voters in the 1944 election was staged yesterday by the Women's National Republican club in the grand ballroom of the La Salle hotel.

John D. M. Hamilton.

Decided anti-Willkie sentiment was made plain toward the end of the three hour session, attended by about 500 women and a scattering of G. O. P. males who have heard that 67 per cent of next year's vote will be cast by mothers, sisters, wives, and sweethearts of soldiers and sailors.

John D. M. Hamilton, chairman of the Republican national executive committee, who is making a cross-country checkup on political trends, showed the way. A Chicagoan has told him that if the party is to win next year it must have a candidate of integrity, must be united, and have smart management, Hamilton said.

Wants Sound American.

Fuel was thrown on the anti-Willkie fire by the main speaker, Miss Vivian Kellems of Saugatuck, Conn., head of a nationally known cable grip company engaged in war work. After Miss Kellem's blistering arraignment of the New Deal's "over-all plan," Mrs. Bertha Baur, G. O. P. national committeewoman for Illinois, asked about her choice of a Presidential candidate.

"Any sound, substantial American who will uphold the Constitution," Miss Kellems replied, and repeated her words more slowly with emphasis upon "sound," "substantial," and "American."

Mrs. Baur next asked her whether she would support Willkie, the name drawing a chorus of boos from the audience.

"No," Miss Kellems said. "I have known Willkie as a close personal friend for 15 years. My company sold goods to the Commonwealth and Southern Utilities company when he was head of it. Yes, I devoted months of my time to trying to elect him in 1940.

Recalls "Campaign Oratory."

"But I was in Washington when Willkie testified before a congressional committee that his speeches had been 'campaign oratory.' My idol tottered and fell at my feet. And then he defended before the Supreme court a Communist who had confessed obtaining his citizenship illegally.

In Washington there are many vague mentions of the "over-all plan." She attempted to describe portions of this plan.

Foremost in the "over-all plan" is the New Deal attempt to suppress information. The people are not to read or hear anything which would arouse them to action, she said.

"As to radio the plan is complete," she said. "Radio now is under absolute control. Commentators who do not agree are taken right off the air.

"The newspapers are made of sterner stuff and are resisting the drive against them—this savage attempt to control our free press.

"Do you know what it means to you and to me? It means that not only Roosevelt's 'four freedoms' but every freedom in our own Constitution and Bill of Rights will be lost if the withering hand [of suppression] can control the press."

OPEN TAMMANY FRAUD PROBE AS AURELIO CLIMAX

Disbarment Decision Up to Judge.

New York, Oct. 28 [Special].—The districts of four Tammany Hall Democratic leaders, whose names have figured in the investigation of maneuvers by politicians and criminal elements to nominate Thomas A. Aurelio, former magistrate, for the Supreme court, are under the scrutiny of the state election frauds bureau, it was disclosed today.

This development came as District Atty. Frank S. Hogan was concluding his case for the disbarment of Aurelio before Charles B. Sears, referee of the appellate division of the Supreme court. Hogan declared Aurelio's continuance as a member of the bar and his election to the Supreme court "would be highly prejudicial to the administration of justice."

Tammany Backed Aurelio.

The Tammany districts being investigated for vote frauds are those headed by Dr. Paul Sarubbi, John Di Salvio [alias Jimmy Kelly], Abe Rosenthal, and Clarence Neal. These four figured in the Aurelio case which centers on the disclosure that Frankie Costello, an ex-convict and big time racketeer, persuaded Tammany Leader Michael Kennedy to make Aurelio the Democratic nominee for the Supreme court, a $25,000 a year job.

After today's final disbarment hearing Judge Sears was unable to predict whether his report would be ready before election day, next Tuesday.

Ruling May Be Appealed.

The procedure, the judge said, was that if he recommended disbarment it would be up to the Association of the Bar of the City of New York, which filed the disbarment petition, to ask the appellate division to affirm his report. If, on the other hand, he should recommend dismissal of the petition, counsel for Aurelio could be expected to move for affirmation, he said. In either case, he explained, the ruling could be appealed to the Court of Appeals.

It appeared likely that in any event Aurelio's name would appear on next Tuesday's ballots in the Democratic and Republican columns.

Costello Real "Boss."

New York, Oct. 28.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey charged tonight that Tammany Hall "is, and apparently always will be, a criminal organization with larceny in its heart."

"Gangster control of that powerful political machine is something that new faces, new names, jail sentences, and purges never cure," Dewey said in an address at a Brooklyn election rally in behalf of Sen. Joe R. Hanley, Republican candidate for lieutenant governor.

Dewey asserted that Michael J. [Mike] Kennedy, leader of Tammany Hall, "procured his election thru the criminal underworld" with the aid of Frank Costello, who also brought about the nomination of Thomas A. Aurelio for Supreme court.

Costello, the "present boss" of Tammany, "is one of the top ranking gangsters in the United States," Dewey said. "No one can vote the Democratic ticket in the city of New York without knowing that gangsters have participated in the selection of that ticket."

Retired, He Says

Mr. Joseph Weil, better known as the "Yellow Kid," a gentleman who has made his mark as a confidence man extraordinary, had a slight brush with the law yesterday morning but proved himself still capable of smooth, convincing conversation. Arraigned in Wabash avenue court on a mere disorderly conduct charge, an offense far below the Weil standard of performance, the dapper 67 year old "Kid" pleaded his own case, as he has done before, by reciting verbatim the "due process of law" clause of the 14th amendment. At the end of the speech Judge Mason S. Sullivan dismissed the charge.

Weil, who gave his address as 5142 Greenwood avenue, was seized Monday night across from the Hyde Park police station by Sgt. James Curtin, now of that station but formerly of the confidence detail. Weil declared he was only going to enter his car after leaving Michael Reese hospital, where he'd had a heart test. Atty. John Bennett represented Weil, but he didn't have much to do except exhibit the hospital card as evidence of the heart tests.

Weil commented: "I just want to be left alone by the police. I have retired from my practice."

WITNESS ILL; MOVIE RACKET TRIAL DELAYED

Browne Collapses After Session on Stand.

New York, Oct. 28 [Special].—George E. Browne, former president of the AFL International Alliance of Theatrical Stage Employes, collapsed today during a recess of the federal court trial of eight men, seven of them Chicagoans, accused of helping him and Willie Bioff extort more than a million dollars from the movie industry. The trial was adjourned by Judge John Bright until tomorrow.

Just before the recess, Browne had told the court he had suffered from stomach ulcers intermittently for 30 years.

"Staked Everything," He Says.

Earlier, under the cross-questioning of James Murray, defense attorney, Browne had testified he "staked everything" in 1935 on his "certainty" that he could bring the IATSE back into power among the movie studio workers in Hollywood. That was the year after Browne had been elected president of the organization, and two years after the union had lost the bulk of its members by calling an abortive strike.

In previous testimony, Browne had told of forcing a meeting with the movie executives by calling a strike of projectionists in their Chicago theaters, and threatening nation-wide action. Browne said he had told other union people he would make his own agreement with the employers, if they did not let him join in their joint "basic agreement."

No Feelings on "Reward."

"You were satisfied you could force the producers to your own terms?" Murray asked.

"I was staking everything I had on it," Browne replied.

Browne was asked whether he hoped to win a reduction of his eight year prison sentence as a reward for his testimony.

"I have no feeling in the matter whatever," he answered. "If the government modifies my sentence it will be all right with me."

FBI PROBES JAP GIRLS' VISIT WITH NAZI PRISONERS

5 Trapped by Photos of Kissing.

Denver, Colo., Oct. 28 [Special].—Details of amorous meetings between German war prisoners from a camp near Trinidad, Colo., and Japanese women employed on nearby farms were sought by agents of the federal bureau of investigation today from five Japanese women held in Trinidad.

The women were detained after photographs found on a recaptured Nazi prisoner showed prisoners embracing Japanese women. The women were not identified.

"One Kiss" Led to Another.

One report current today was that the spooning episodes now under investigation resulted from a decision of Nazi prisoners to "steal one kiss each from a Jap girl." But the one kiss, reports said, led to spooning, hugging, and additional kissing.

The Japanese girls involved are from the Amache concentration center. They were sent into the Trinidad district last spring to farm there on a share basis. About a month ago, detachments of Nazi prisoners from the Trinidad camp were sent into the field to assist in harvesting vegetables.

The Germans became acquainted with some of the Japanese girls and amorous interludes followed.

Camera and Rifle Found.

In an FBI search of the house where the five Japanese women lived, a camera and a .22 caliber rifle were found. It is believed the camera is the one with which the snapshots were taken.

Lt. Col. William S. Hannah, commanding officer of the Trinidad camp for German prisoners, is reported to have visited the Jap farm and to have instructed guards there to permit no further meetings between the German prisoners and the Japanese girls.

DEFENSE OF R. O. T. C. SEEN IN RESOLUTION BY COLLEGE GROUP

A resolution interpreted as defending the R. O. T. C. program against its enemies "in some sections of the war department" was adopted at closing sessions of the Association of Land Grant Colleges and Universities yesterday in the Drake hotel.

While the resolution fails to mention the R. O. T. C., spokesmen explained that it appears the program has had incomplete consideration by military authorities. They added that the resolution asks legislation to set up a broadly representative commission to study probable needs of the post-war era for national defense and to make recommendations to congress for plans the commission may consider necessary to implement such needs.

6,000 More Babies Born in Illinois to Date in '43

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 28 (AP).—Six thousand more babies were born in Illinois during the first seven months of 1943 than in the same period last year, but only nine more women died in childbirth, the state health department reported today. The maternal death rate dropped from 22 per 10,000 live births to 21.

BALANCE BUDGET —AND NO FOOLIN', COUNTY WARNED

Board Receives Income Estimate Monday.

In the next few days the Cook county government is to receive two forcefully worded warnings that it must—and no fooling about it—whittle down its spending to equal its reasonably anticipated income for 1944.

Insistence on a balanced budget will come from the Civic federation, which annually makes a comprehensive report on how much should be cut from estimates and how and where the cuts should be placed.

Estimates 19 Million Income.

The other warning is to come from the county controler, Michael J. Flynn. It is the controler's duty to make a preliminary estimate of revenue for the coming year and this document will be presented to the county board next Monday. It is expected that the figure on income will approximate 19 million dollars, and that this estimate will be accompanied by a letter painting a dire picture of the future unless there is real retrenchment.

The federation will be represented tomorrow at a hearing held by the help committee of the Circuit court judges, who have the task of fixing the number of employes in 13 fee offices. In the past there has been friction between the judges and the board on the way cuts are made or are not made.

None Willing to Reduce.

Office holders have already made their 1944 help requisitions and none has shown any desire for a substantial reduction in force. Some have even asked increases.

This is in the face of stern facts—that the board will go into its fiscal year Dec. 1 with a deficit of 3 to 3½ million in 1943. By special legislative authority the county has been allowed to issue bonds to pay $8,346,000 in bills and judgments due prior to Dec. 1, 1942, and bids on the issue are to be received and opened Monday.

Yesterday the board's tax foreclosure committee deferred action on a proposal that the Moxley building at 549 West Randolph street be permitted to settle a back tax bill of $57,628 for $39,000.

R. J. JACKSON, 75, FORMER POLICE DEPT. AID, DIES

Richard J. Jackson, former chief morals inspector of the police department, died yesterday in Swedish Covenant hospital. He was 75 years old and lived at 1443 Wilson avenue. Mr. Jackson served 20 years in the police department, retiring in 1914, then in 1919 was appointed chief morals inspector, a civilian position. Later he worked as an investigator under Robert E. Crowe, then state's attorney. He long had been active in Republican politics. Mr. Jackson is survived by his widow, Josephine; a daughter, Mrs. Laura Tresslar, and a son, Maj. Richard V. Jackson of the army air forces, a former assistant state's attorney. Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. tomorrow in the chapel at 5501 North Ashland avenue. Burial will be in Memorial Park.

JAMES D. VAIL JR., EVANSTON, DIES IN WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28 [Special].—James D. Vail Jr., 45 years old, formerly of Evanston, Ill., died here today after a brief illness. Vail was an investment counselor in Chicago until last year when he joined the war production board here as chief of the service branch of the division of industry operations. He and his family formerly lived at 1710 Livingston street, Evanston. Surviving him are his widow, Mary Wittling Vail; a daughter, Jeanne, 18; a son, James David Vail III., 15, all of Washington, and his mother, Mrs. Louie E. Vail, and a brother, Dr. Kenneth F. Vail, both of Orlando, Fla. Funeral services will be held Monday afternoon at St. Matthew's Episcopal church, Evanston.

Chicagoan, 42, Victim of Infantile Paralysis

A man in the 4000 block of Lexington street, 42 years old, yesterday was listed as the latest victim of poliomyelitis in the city. Two new cases, one on the north and one on the south side of the city, also were reported. The death total for the county stood at 104 and the total cases at 1,195 since the outbreak began last summer.

FORECASTS ERA OF GOOD WAGES, SENSIBLE TAXES

A post-war "dynamic democracy" providing the chance to hold well paying jobs and to invest savings freely without the danger of having all profits taxed away was envisioned by Sen. Joseph C. O'Mahoney [D., Wyo.] in an address delivered at the Blackstone hotel last night before the 20th annual conference of the American Municipal association.

"Low wages are not profitable," he said. "Low wages produce a market only for necessities. The business man who keeps wages down is depriving himself and his associates of a market for their products.

"If all profits are taxed away, there is no incentive for the owner of capital to invest. If we believe in free enterprise, we believe in the profit system."

The senator said local governments could utilize some of the nation's 77 billion dollars of idle money to initiate their own projects without waiting for the federal government to act. This, he believes, would help stop the trend toward centralization of power in Washington. He advocated a system of judicial review to curb the arbitrary power of government boards and commissions as still another method of returning power to the people.

THREE CHILDREN SUFFOCATED BY SMOKE IN HOME

Three children, alone in a fourth floor apartment at 1236 Newberry avenue, were suffocated last night when a fire filled the apartment with smoke. They were Mary and Theresa Herrera, 4 year old twins, and Helen Herrera, 5 months old, children of Mr. and Mrs. Gumeraindo Herrera.

Mary Herrera.

Chief Earl Bauer of the 7th battalion said the fire apparently was started by the children themselves, playing with a coal heater.

Mrs. Herrera said she left the children alone while she went to church. There are six other children in the family, none of whom was home at the time. Herrera is a laborer for Swift & Co.

Family Employe for 80 Years Dies on North Shore

Miss Mary Wintres, 92 years old, who worked for the same family in Chicago and suburbs for the last 80 years, died yesterday in a convalescent home in Highland Park after an illness of about four months. Her last employer was Mrs. Arthur Mayer Oppenheimer, 327 Sheridan road, Highland Park. Her first was Mrs. Oppenheimer's grandmother, Mrs. Simon Block. Miss Wintres, an Irish woman, was born in Algiers, La. Funeral services will be held at 3:30 p. m. today in Rosehill cemetery.

Memorial Service Nov. 3 for Lt. Harry E. Dowd Jr.

Memorial services will be held Nov. 3 at 10 a. m. at Our Lady of Victory church for Lt. Harry E. Dowd Jr., a fighter pilot killed in action in Africa last March 3. He was 25 years old, the son of Harry Dowd, 5331 Belle Plaine avenue. Before entering service he was a clerk in the Municipal Jury court. Lt. Dowd is survived by his widow, Jewel, and a son, Harry III.

FEDERAL SALES TAX DEFEATED BY HOUSE GROUP

Treasury Told to Expect Revenue Bill Cut.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28 (AP).—All proposals for a national retail sales tax were defeated today by the house ways and means committee, and that body appeared ready to approve a new tax bill with only approximately 2 billion dollars of new revenue. The treasury had asked 10½ billion.

Chairman Robert L. Doughton [D., N. C.] said "this ends consideration of a sales tax as a part of this bill—whether a manufacturers', wholesale, or retail sales tax."

The committee responded to unrelenting administration opposition to a sales levy. Fred M. Vinson, economic stabilization director, had told the body such a tax might prevent the government from "holding the line" against inflation. The CIO had warned that if the tax were enacted labor would demand proportionate wage increases.

Action on this levy came after the committee had completed piece-by-piece wrecking of the 10½ billion administration tax program.

Amount "Wholly Inadequate."

With only 2 billion dollars additional revenue in sight, Chairman Clarence Cannon [D., Mo.] of the house appropriations committee told newspaper men "the amount is wholly inadequate, if we are to pay for a reasonable part of the war as we go along and not leave a disproportionate share for returning soldiers and the next generation."

The sales tax vote came on a motion by Rep. A. Willis Robertson [D., V. A.] to impose a 10 per cent levy with exemption certificates covering food costs and stipulations against any government agency considering "this war tax in computing farm parity, in computing the index of the cost of living, or in considering any demand for a wage increase."

The vote killing the sales tax was 16 to 8. Balloting was done behind closed doors and committee members at first declined to say how many votes were cast for or against the tax. Newspaper men sent a letter of protest to Doughton, and after this letter was discussed in the committe the vote was given. No information was disclosed as to how individual members stood.

Prior to the voting, some committee members advised the treasury it would have to accept a sales tax or a bill with little revenue. There was no indication the administration receded from its stand. Randolph Paul, treasury general counsel, talked to the committee before the voting.

New Move Unlikely.

There appears little likelihood any concerted effort will be made to insert a sales tax when the bill reaches the house floor. Likewise, there is scant prospect the senate will write in the levy, as long as the administration maintains active opposition.

Of the total 2 billion dollars additional revenue in the bill, approximately 600 million involves higher levies on consumers of liquor, beer, and wine. Other levies approved include higher postal rates, increased excises on such things as lipstick and travel, and an increase from 90 per cent to 95 in the excess profits tax on corporations.

DENTAL CORPS OFFICER FOUND DEAD IN HOTEL

Capt. Samuel Ratner, 44 years old, of the army dental corps, was found dead, shot thru the right temple, in his room in the Harper End hotel, 5010 Harper avenue, yesterday. Capt. John Warren of the Hyde Park station, who investigated with army authorities, said his death was suicide or accidental.

Capt. Ratner, assigned to Camp McCoy at Sparta, Wis., registered at the hotel Wednesday morning, saying he could not find a room in a loop hotel. He left the hotel about 1 p. m. and was not seen until his body was discovered by a maid. A box of cartridges, with one missing, and a new holster with fresh wrapping paper were found on a dresser. A .38 caliber revolver containing one empty shell was found beside the body.

Capt. Ratner had practiced dentistry in Philadelphia, Pa., for 10 years before being commissioned a year ago. His widow, Jean, now lives in a suburb of Los Angeles. They have no children. Friends said he was inclined to be moody. He was reported on his way to the army medical training center at Carlisle, Pa., to take a special course.

GORDON HOLLERAN.

DRIVER'S ANGER ENDS IN CRASH, KILLING BOY, 5

4 Hurt in All-Night Roadhouse Tour.

A 5 year old boy was killed near Crystal Lake early yesterday when a speeding automobile in which he was a passenger missed a curve and struck a telephone pole. The driver, who was only slightly hurt, later attributed the accident in part to his anger. The accident followed an all-night round of country taverns.

The victim of the crash was Gordon F. Holleran of 935 Belden avenue.

The other principals were his mother, Mrs. Mildred Holleran, 26, a war plant worker; Harvey M. Schwartz, 21, of 1708 School street, married and father of a child; Mrs. Marguerite Rasmussen, also 21, of 935 Belden, whose husband, Gaylord, is a soldier in training at De Paul university, and Walter B. Palmowski, 19, of 2334 Southport avenue, a navy seaman. Mrs. Holleran's husband, Francis, is said to be an inmate of the state institution at Menard.

Tour Roadhouses.

The two couples, accompanied by Gordon Holleran, started out in Schwartz's car at 8 o'clock Wednesday night to "show the sights" to Mrs. Rasmussen, who recently came from Minot, N. D. The sights included stops for drinks at several roadhouses, in Cook and McHenry counties.

At 4 a. m. yesterday Mrs. Holleran demanded to be taken home because Gordon had a cold. Schwartz demurred, and, according to his own story told later to State's Attorney Charles G. Seidel, of Kane county, in Elgin, became angry over her insistence. He wanted to rest, he said.

Auto Snaps Pole.

He yielded however, but he said he had been drinking, his eyes bothered him, and he was angry with Mrs. Holleran. "The madder I get, the faster I drive," Schwartz told Seidel. He was driving at what witnesses said was a "terrific speed" when he missed a curve on Route 14, at Crystal Lake.

Schwartz's car struck a pole and snapped it in two, swerved on 80 feet, and rolled over. The victims were taken to the Sherman hospital in Elgin.

The Holleran boy was dead. Sailor Palmowski's right hand was mangled. Schwartz and the two women were scratched. In accordance later with a verdict of a Kane county coroner's jury, Schwartz was turned over to authorities of McHenry county, where the accident occurred, for questioning.

$232,628 YEAR'S ALUMNI GIFTS TO NORTHWESTERN

Alumni have contributed $232,628 to Northwestern university during its 1942-'43 fiscal year, Franklyn Bliss Snyder, president, said last night.

The gifts, from 4,046 alumni, included a $100,000 bequest from the late Job Luther, vice president of the State Bank and Trust company of Evanston.

Since 1927, when organized alumni giving was instituted, 17,000 alumni have made 73,000 individual gifts to Northwestern, totaling $1,050,000.

He shot down a Zero from Webster Street

. . . but he really didn't pull the trigger

No, Fred Johnson didn't actually pull the trigger on the anti-aircraft gun that downed a Zero. But power equipment that Fred helped to make did play a key part in blasting the Zero out of the South Pacific skies.

You see, Fred works at The Leland Electric Company, on Dayton's Webster Street. That's where the special Leland Motor Generators which are used in vital military equipment were developed and are being produced.

The development of this special Leland equipment gave to our armed forces unusual advantages in being able to crush the enemy.

That has been the proud contribution of the men and women of Leland. Their efforts have helped equip the finest army in the world.

But Leland is not resting on past laurels. The engineers and craftsmen of Leland already look to the coming era of peace . . . and broader opportunities to apply their engineering skill to industry's quest for the goods of a fuller life for the whole world.

State Labor Leaders Pledge Aid in WAC Recruiting Campaign

The state-wide WAC recruiting drive received added impetus yesterday when Gov. Dwight H. Green, who heads the campaign in Illinois, announced that state labor leaders have given their complete support.

Gov. Green received letters from R. G. Soderstrom, president of the Illinois Federation of Labor, and Fullerton Fulton, state director of the CIO, pledging the coöperation of their organizations.

Capt. Margaret R. Stewart, senior WAC recruiting officer in Illinois, when informed of labor's support, said: "The generous help extended to us by leaders of the two great labor groups will aid us incalculably in attaining our quota by Dec. 7."

Women in War Work . . . . . By Kate Massee

Violet Herwig on the job.

Violet Herwig, October winner of THE TRIBUNE's monthly woman war worker award, is only 19 years old, but in the brief time she has held a job on the assembly line, she has proved her mettle in more ways than one. Her record caused her to be chosen as the winner of a $25 war bond and certificate of merit by a committee of executives of the Buick motor division, aviation engine plant, General Motors corporation, in Melrose Park.

Not only does Violet tend to her knitting in helping to turn out jewel-like parts for airplane engines—she's a tool grinder—but she takes part in many other plant activities. Her most recent accomplishment was selling more than $24,000 worth of war bonds in a week during the Third War Loan drive.

Her first job also was as a tool grinder at the Republic Drill and Tool company. She left there several months ago, hoping to join the WAC, but learned she was under the minimum age. So she asked her father, Otto Herwig, who works on the night shift at Buick, to get her a job on the same shift.

When Violet has any spare time she likes to indulge in outdoor sports, with fishing at the top of the list. She also is a member of the plant bowling league. But her favorite avocation at present, she says with a gleam in her eye and a toss of her curly chestnut bob, is writing letters to her best beau, Vern J. Morgan, who's in the Pacific with the navy.

Buick's vast Chicago plant, which is mass producing engines for the Consolidated B-24 Liberator bombers, employs several thousand persons, one-third of whom are women. They range from 18 to 60 in age, 60 per cent of them have never done factory work before, and most of them have members of their families in service.

The women work as packing inspectors, milling and lathe operators, tool grinders, and engine testers. At the latter job they sit in sound proof windowed test cells and record, on instrument panels, the various processes as the huge engines are given the gun.

Plant executives say that as a rule women learn quickly and do excellent work, both as to quality and quantity. Their uniforms are horizon blue, two-piece slack suits, with matching safety caps.

Many of Violet's co-workers will be on hand when she receives the award, in ceremonies to be broadcast tomorrow from 8:30 to 8:45 a. m. over station W-G-N. So will the committee that selected her as the winner. The members are Carl E. Wooliever, plant manager; L. E. Howell, assistant personnel director, and Miss Margaret Comitts, supervisor of women employes.

The November winner of the Tribune woman war worker award will be chosen from among the women employes at the new plant of the Aluminum Company of America near McCook, Ill.

Advice to Girl with Hard to Handle Heart

On the SOLID side

BY MAUREEN DALY.

It's not easy for a girl to step to one side and look pretty and pleasant while some other neat pigeon makes off with the very boy who's been keeping her hep and happy these past months. He may have been the man after her own heart and she may never have stopped to realize some one else was after him, too—not until he changed his military objective and began dating another girl. She was living a wonderful, date-to-date existence, thinking this smooth operator liked her more than somewhat, and suddenly she finds him looking in other directions with stars in his eyes. Perhaps even with one of her best friends.

The readjustment is difficult. She finds herself with a heart hard to handle; lies awake at night thinking sad and lonely thoughts, and when she sees them out together begins to feel as awkward and out of place as the left-hand side of Siamese twins.

First thing, a girl with a fresh brush-off should be sure she's got her emotions straight so that jealousy won't mix up what she actually feels. It's so easy to think yourself into a "he's out of my sight, I'm out of my mind" attitude. The boy may be nothing more than a pleasant habit.

And no sour grapes! No sulking, no pouting, no petty snubbing to let the new twosome know what the shelved sugar really thinks. Have pride enough to keep that hurt to yourself. Something might be said or done that would be better forgotten later. Don't give away trade secrets by telling your friends little things you know about him—confidences he may have told you when you were going together because he thought you were such good friends. That's violation of the strictest dating code.

Just take it slow and easy. If a boy has drifted away, no phone calls, no moping, and no pleading letters will bring him back. Just keep your best foot forward and wait for him to get in step again—if he wants. But don't let him know you're anxious. He thought you were all sugar and spice and everything nice when he went out with you, and you'll have a better chance of dating him again if you stay that way.

St. Paul's Set to Mark Its 100th Birthday

BY THE REV. JOHN EVANS.

St. Paul's Evangelical and Reformed congregation, which worships in the notable edifice at Fullerton parkway and Orchard street, will open its formal observance of the first century of its organization Sunday morning. The first service, however, will have the marks of a watch night service, as it will draw the curtain on the first century with the following Sunday marking the first of the new century.

The Rev. E. C. Grauer of Wausau, Wis., father of the pastor, the Rev. Dr. Gerhard W. Grauer, will be the preacher who will close the old century, and the Rev. Dr. Paul Schroeder of Rochester, N. Y., will open the new century as the centennial thanksgiving preacher Nov. 7. The entire month, including Dec. 5, will embrace the program needed to recall the strategic position St. Paul's church has occupied in Chicago's religious and civic life.

Reminiscent of the fact that St. Paul's is the mother church of the Evangelical church, which recently merged with the Reformed church, will be the participation of Dr. George V. Richards of Lancaster, Pa., vice president of the Evangelical and Reformed church, in the program of Nov. 14, and by Dr. Louis Goebel, president of the denomination, on Nov. 21. "The Church of the Future," will be the theme of Nov. 28, with the Rev. Erwin Koch of St. Paul, Minn., as guest preacher. Pastor Grauer will close the centennial on Dec. 5 with a service of dedication.

Sunday marks the 427th anniversary of the day on which Dr. Martin Luther nailed the 95 theses to the door of Castle church, Wittenburg, Germany. The anniversary, known as Reformation Sunday, will be noted thruout Protestantism and emphasized in all Lutheran churches.

Chicago's Reformation Sunday observance will center around a special service at 3:45 p. m. Sunday in Orchestra hall, with Dr. P. O. Bersell of Minneapolis, Minn., president of the National Lutheran council and of the Lutheran Augustana synod, as preacher.

Religious News Notes

The 1943 yearbook of American churches, published by the Federal Council of Churches, lists and offers data on 256 religious denominations in the country. Thirty denominations are listed as enrolling 80 per cent of the total membership. . . . Who, claiming to be an educated Protestant, has not read John Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress"? Possibly for the good of those who haven't, Dr. William C. Howard of Second Prebyterian church will review the great classic at 7 p. m. Sunday. . . . Sunday is the Catholic feast day of Christ the King, most recently instituted of all feasts. Loyola university's Della Strada sodality and alumnae association will observe the feast with its quarterly communion and breakfast at the downtown college, 28 North Franklin street. . . . North side Evangelical and Reformed churches will observe Reformation Sunday with a united service Sunday night at St. Peter's church, Cortez street and Oakley boulevard. The Rev. E. H. Busekros of First English Evangelical church will deliver the occasional sermon. . . . Dr. Ernest F. Tittle of First Methodist church, Evanston, will deliver the next of a series of addresses on Christian bases of a world order at First Methodist church, Oak Park, Wednesday night.

Northern Baptist Theological seminary, 3040 West Washington boulevard, which will celebrate its 30th anniversary Dec. 6, grew out of a prayer meeting in Second Baptist church, 1857 West Jackson boulevard, into a seminary of 300 students. Dr. Charles W. Koller, president, said only one member of the original prayer group survives. He is L. J. Lippert, a partner in a well known Chicago business firm. He also is secretary of the seminary board of trustees. The seminary's first student was a woman, Amy Lee Stockton, now a noted evangelist. . . . Prof. Arthur H. Compton of the University of Chicago, Nobel prize winner, has been selected by the Jewish Education committee, New York, to receive its annual award for "the most significant contribution to the promotion of human brotherhood." . . . Dr. Ferdinand M. Isserman, St. Louis, Mo., noted Jewish rabbi, will be the Sunday Evening club speaker in Orchestra hall on Sunday night. His subject: "Worshiping with Our Soldiers in Tunisia and on Other Battlefronts."

Commissioner Edward J. Parker, national commander of the Salvation Army and native of Elgin, made his farewell public appearance before his retirement in Elgin yesterday noon. Last night the Elgin Ministerial association called a service in his honor in the First Congregational church. . . . The Bishop's Pence of the Episcopal diocese of Chicago is now a decade old. The program, with its penny a meal container on dining room tables, has raised $200,000 in the 10 years, and the idea has spread thruout the world. The anniversary will be observed at 5 p. m. Sunday at Grace church, Oak Park, with Bishop Wallace E. Conkling as speaker. . . . Mrs. Irving Meisel, 358 South Hamlin avenue, will be host of Ivriah Monday afternoon when Dr. Jechiel Lichtenstein, head of Jewish Studies for Girls, will be guest speaker. . . . The Lutheran Women's Mission Endeavor, a federation of women's societies of the Synodical Lutheran conference, will hold its fall rally next Friday at Concordia Teachers' college, River Forest. Helen Kluck of Woodstock, formerly a deaconess in Africa, and Erna Ferber of the army and navy commission, are listed among speakers. . . . The Rev. J. J. M. Nichols-Roy, native of India, will be special preacher at Central Church of God, 3011 Flournoy street, each evening next week and at Sunday morning services. . . . The congregation Rodfei Zedek, which recently installed Rabbi Ralph Simon as spiritual leader, will open its men's club activities Wednesday night with Dr. Elias Margolis as speaker. . . . The Protestant churches of Englewood have begun a crusade against vice and announce a massmeeting at Englewood Baptist church, Englewood and Stewart avenues, Monday night, with Walter O. Cromwell of the Juvenile Protective association as speaker.

HELPFUL FACTS ABOUT YOUR DOG'S EATING HABITS

DOGS ACTUALLY IGNORE FRESH MEAT!

INCREDIBLE —but True!

In impartial laboratory tests of the Ideal Formula, three generations of dogs have been fed Ideal Dog Food and distilled water exclusively.

Their stomachs have become so accustomed to this good food that nothing else tempts them. When offered fresh meat these dogs actually ignore it. Incredible, but true.

TO YOUR DOG'S EYES, both Ideal and red meat have the same color

To expert Dog Nutritionists it is well known that meat alone, even the tenderest, juiciest beef, is not a complete, balanced diet for your dog.

Nor is the red meat color an advantage. You see, your dog, like all dogs, is color blind. Red meat and Ideal Dog Food look about the same to his eyes.

THIS IS HOW COLORS LOOK TO YOUR DOG'S EYES

Varying Shades of Gray

ENJOYS FOOD WITH HIS STOMACH

Perhaps you have thought taste very important to your dog. It does have some value as does odor. But your dog wolfs his food, as you know; he bolts it down fast. And he really enjoys it in his stomach. Ideal Dog Food has been formulated with that important fact in mind.

Establish Ideal Habit, that's all

Once you introduce your dog's stomach to Ideal and accustom him to that good satisfied feeling, he will eat this fine food regularly and freely. It's all a matter of establishing the habit. Once you have started him on Ideal, he will relish it.

TRY THE IDEAL "BOLUS" METHOD

By this simple and very successful method the change-over to Ideal is easily made in many cases. Simply roll a portion of moist Ideal into a "bolus" or large pill. Then call your dog as for a special treat and place the bolus in his mouth. Gently stroking his throat downward will induce swallowing. Do this three or four times and place several boluses on top of the Ideal in his dish. Once he gets the good, satisfying feeling of Ideal in his stomach he will eat it willingly and thrive upon it.

A PRODUCT OF WILSON & CO INC.

A COMPLETE, ALL-IN-ONE, MIXED DIET

Not a wartime substitute

Ideal is the result of long years of dog food manufacturing experience and of a specific laboratory search for the best food Dog Nutritionists could produce.

War or no war, Ideal Dog Food, in moisture-free form, was bound to come. Moist, dry, or soupy, whichever way your dog prefers it, Ideal is a scientifically perfected food which your dog will eat freely once he is given the opportunity to savor it and enjoy it.

IDEAL RETAINS "A" VITAMINS INDEFINITELY

Putting Vitamin "A" into a food and having it stay there are two very different things. Chemical analyses prove that Vitamin "A" is fugitive, fleeting—that in time it escapes—disappears—evaporates—from even the tightest container.

To experienced Dog Food Nutritionists the absolute need for potent "A" Vitamins in the canine diet is an accepted fact. Now as a result of years of research Wilson & Co. offers in Ideal a dog food which retains these otherwise fugitive, "A" Vitamins indefinitely. See your dealer and try the "Bolus" Method.

Ask your dealer today for the new Ideal booklet on dog feeding which describes "Bolus" feeding.

Hockey Fans Await Opening of New Season Sunday Night

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE American and Canadian armies have taken their quota of hockey players from the Chicago Blackhawks, but 12 regulars are left to assure local fans of a rousing opening on Sunday night when the Blackhawks skate against the Toronto Maple Leafs at the Chicago stadium. Some of the regulars—Red Hamill, Max Bentley, and Red Mitchell among them—will be missing from the lineup, but with such veterans as Earl Siebert, Doug Bentley, Mush March, and "Fido" Purpur on deck there should be plenty of excitement for the home team.

The list of boxholders for the home season of 25 games includes the names of such hockey fans as Thorne Donnelley, James Norris, T. Philip Swift, Philip D. Armour Jr., Sangston Hettler Jr., Fred A. Poor, Philip K. Wrigley, William Spencer, Solomon A. Smith, Philip D. Block Jr., George Henneberry, Wilbert E. Macfarlane, George S. Carpenter, Joseph Gillespie, and Samuel L. Workman. The season also includes 25 games away from home.

Wedding News.

Mr. and Mrs. Carpenter will miss Sunday's opening as they are in California for the marriage today of their niece, Miss Webb Boyden, and Lt. Clemens Roscoe Mong of the marines. The ceremony will take place at 4 p. m. in the library of the Armistead Carters' home on the outskirts of San Diego. Mrs. Carter is the bride's mother. Her father, William C. Boyden, has gone west from Chicago to give his daughter in marriage.

With her bridal gown Miss Boyden will wear a lace veil, an heirloom in the Carter family. Her maid of honor will be her cousin, Miss Kay Mintzer, who, like the bride, spent a year in Chicago. Eleven year old Polly Mintzer is to be bridesmaid. Lt. Mong and his bride have taken a house near Camp Kearney, Cal., where he is stationed temporarily.

Unable to be present today at the ceremony is the bride's sister, Mrs. Stephen M. Kew. She and Lt. Kew and young Michael William live in Temple, Tex.

A family dinner tonight will be the only party preceding the marriage tomorrow of Ensign Mary Eleanor Hyatt and Capt. Carl F. von Pechmann, as the two young people will not arrive in Glencoe until today. Ensign Hyatt has come from New London, Conn., where she is stationed with the WAVES, and Capt. von Pechmann has made the trip from his post at Fort Benning, Ga.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Hyatt of Glencoe will give their daughter's wedding reception at the Skokie Country club. Miss Joan Hyatt will be her sister's maid of honor. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Elsa von Pechmann, will come from New York for the wedding, but his father, Louis A. von Pechmann, will not be able to make the trip. Their daughter, Mrs. Crampton Trainer, will be here from Wake Forest, N. C. Capt. von Pechmann and Ensign Hyatt each have a two week leave, after which she will return to New London and he to his army post.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Brook Vickery of Hinsdale have gone east for the marriage of Miss Katherine Ellen Oliver and Ensign Vickery Jr., which will take place at 4:30 p. m. tomorrow in the Church of the Transfiguration, New York. Also in New York are the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norvin Palmer Oliver of New Orleans, La.; Miss Joel Oliver, who will be her sister's maid of honor, and their cousin, Mrs. Hugh Willis of Wilmington, Del., who will be matron of honor. Lt. Oliver Jr. will be best man.

Ensign Vickery met his fiancée while he was stationed in New Orleans. She attended Sophie Newcomb college. Ensign Vickery attended Lake Forest academy, Cornell university, and the John Marshall law school and was admitted to the Illinois bar.

Here and There.

Having found a house in Washington, D. C., Mrs. John R. Hurley is making plans to move east on Nov. 15 with her three daughters to join Capt. Hurley, who has been stationed there with the army for many months. Mrs. Hurley plans to rent their apartment here.

Mrs. Charles E. Ford II. [Barbara White] has returned to Chicago for a week's visit with her parents, Dr. and Mrs. Edward W. White. Over the week-end the Whites and their daughter will go to their summer home in Lake Geneva, and on Tuesday Mrs. White is asking a group of Mrs. Ford's friends to drop in for tea. The young Fords have been living in Arlington, Va., while he is working in Washington, D. C.

Miss Alice Barler and Mrs. Fred Gerlach are supervising the collection of garments to be sold at a rummage sale by the woman's guild and auxiliary of St. Chrysostom's church. The sale will be held from 9 a. m. to 9 p. m. Tuesday, Nov. 9, in the parish house.

Miss Georgene Faulkner will play the role of the "old witch" at today's Halloween party for the lower grades at the Faulkner school, to be held at 10:30 a. m. in the school gymnasium. The older grades will gather for a "Baby Bawl" at 7:30 tonight.

Among Many Youngsters Looking Forward to Halloween

[TRIBUNE Photo.]

Betty Ann Hult and other youngsters thruout the city are looking forward to the usual Halloween pranks Sunday. Meanwhile she and her classmates at Miss Bateman's school have been having pre-Halloween parties around a big papier mache black cat.

Weicher Violin Solo Is Spoiled by Orchestra

Concert by the Chicago Symphony orchestra, Désiré Defauw conducting; John Weicher, violinist. Presented at Orchestra Hall Thursday evening, Oct. 28, 1943, and scheduled for repetition Friday afternoon. The program:

Symphony in D major, "London.....Haydn
Dance Suite......................Couperin
Transcribed for orchestra by Richard Strauss. First Chicago performance.
Concerto for Violin, D minor........Sibelius
Orchestra Fragments, second series from "Daphnis and Chloé"........Ravel

BY CLAUDIA CASSIDY.

John Weicher, gifted concert master of the Chicago Symphony orchestra, was the season's first soloist at Orchestra hall last night, playing the Sibelius Concerto in a two way test, half of which gave Chicago its first glimpse of Désiré Defauw's talents as an accompanist. The result was scarcely reassuring, being at once unfair to Weicher, to Sibelius, to the orchestra, and to the audience. Mr. Defauw might have been sight reading, so intense was his pre-occupation with the score, and he gave his soloist neither support nor inspiration.

Mr. Weicher is a conscientious musician with a sound technique and a good tone, and he gave what he always gives, a clean and distinguished performance. But a soloist is helplessly at the mercy of orchestral accompaniment, and last night the violin suffered a slow death by suffocation. The orchestra was inert, muddy, spiritless, shockingly out of focus. Do you happen to remember how that same orchestra sounded two years ago when the late Frederick Stock conducted the same concerto for Carroll Glenn? It sounded like what it was, one of the great orchestras of the world, blessed with a great leader.

Altho the accompaniment marked the evening's lowest ebb, the concert had little to offer that might optimistically be called high tide. Mr. Defauw did his most acceptable work with the "Daphnis and Chloé" excerpts, which had momentum and some interludes of luxuriant tone for which the ear was pathetically grateful, but he lacks the command of orchestra to exploit the full sensitivity, clarity, and splendor with which Ravel's score rewards top-flight performance.

The concert opened with a romanticized version of Haydn's D major symphony, interpreted within an inch of its death, and offered as a novelty Richard Strauss's 20 year old transcription of a Couperin dance suite written for chamber orchestra but played last night in full panoply, which was a bit like amplifying a harpsichord with a Diesel motor. The best of it was the sound of the celesta, taken up by the first chair men of the string section, among them Leon Temerson, assistant concertmaster, who fit competently into his new shoes.

White Collar Girl

BY RUTH MACKAY

Feminine First.

When she left a chromium plated Chicago office her friends were skeptical. "Marge certainly is going to be sorry," was the verdict. "Wait till she gets out to Montana and the copper mines . . . think how she's going to long for Michigan avenue."

She packed her suitcases, however, and, amid a shower of farewell parties and corsages, was promptly on her way to an important job, because Marge Sammons was chosen co-editor of the first labor-management publication in the country, the magazine of the Anaconda Copper company.

Returning Traveler.

A week or so ago Marge Sammons was in Chicago on one of her flying trips east. If she had stayed two days longer she would have rolled up Michigan avenue like a magic carpet bound for Butte—out of sheer enthusiasm. Actually, the good looking, vivacious editor has reason to be so wholeheartedly devoted to her work, as the labor-management publication she co-edits is a far reaching and exciting industrial innovation upon which many eyes are fastened. The magazine, Copper Commando, is published by a committee representing labor and management in equal numbers. The editorial offices are apart from the company offices. During "regular hours" little work on the magazine is accomplished, Marge admits, because there's a "Come In" sign on the door and the folks in Butte take you at your word. Into the friendly, hospitable atmosphere of the editorial offices pour the miners and their wives with problems of stretching ration points . . . with family problems of health and care . . . with feminine problems of how to trim a hat . . . with war time problems of men in service.

We Found Out.

"We found out a lot of things," Marge said. "We found the miners like pictures in the magazine . . . that most of them had no idea how copper contributes to winning the war—they were doing just the same job they'd always done and didn't feel part of a war industry. So, we ran pages of pictures showing the uses of copper which surprised even the old timers. We found that many of the young miners were unhappy about not being in service, so we knew then we must honor them in some way and as a result we staged a rally with 4,000 in attendance. We found [when a half dozen of the miners' wives come to my apartment and we cook a pot roast] that feeding the workers is far different from feeding office workers. We packed lunches and we talked to the men the next day to see if they had enough to eat. We worked out satisfactory ways of feeding the rest of the family. You see we are among friends . . . we live with them and their families—and we get out the magazine in the small hours of the night."

"Doesn't Michigan avenue look pretty good to you?" she was asked. "Yes, very nice." She still is loyal to Chicago she says, but adds, "you should see Butte, Mont.!"

Thru the Looking Glass

After viewing the results of a friend's attempt to trim her own locks we were tempted to parody a popular song and tell her to "lay that scissors down." Only it was too late—the damage had been done. But she certainly furnishes an object lesson for others and impels us to pass a warning on to our readers.

It's the utmost folly for a woman to try to cut her own hair. There may be a few amateurs who can do the job with fair success; however, the average woman only succeeds in spoiling the appearance of the hair and making hard work for the professional barber who eventually must be asked to help restore order.

The home trimmed jobs by and large look pretty hideous. The hair is all jagged. Blunt ends stick out helter skelter to spoil the outline of the head and, because it is improperly thinned and cut, the hair doesn't fall as it should but looks lumpy and overly bulky in spots.

Aside from looking awful the locks are often hard to handle. Curl refuses to stay in because the ineptly used scissors have made stiff, unruly ends that defy control. It's a problem to even try to put bobby pins or curlers in such hair; it snaps out of place and pokes out of rolls or pin curls in little sharp points that won't stay in place.

From the standpoint of good looks alone, it behooves a woman to let no one but a professional take a scissors to her hair. Such persons know how much to cut and where, how to achieve a good outline and what to do to make the hair look orderly and neat. The home-done job can be spotted easily and detracts not a little from a woman's well groomed, sleek appearance. And it's a foolish way to try to limit the beauty budget; a good haircut doesn't cost a lot of money. It's an investment that should be made regularly with no "quick snips" in between visits to the beauty parlor.

Dramatist Tells of His Faith in Gen. De Gaulle

BY ELEANOR PAGE.

The luncheon meeting of the Chicago Council on Foreign Relations yesterday at the Hotel Sherman was distinctly a bilingual gathering. The speaker was Henri Bernstein, noted playwright, who has devoted the last two years to France Forever and the support of Gen. Charles de Gaulle as the leader of the Fighting French.

Present to hear him discuss "The Future of France," in addition to members of the council, were Mrs. Walter S. Brewster, local head of France Forever, and others of that organization, and members of the French War Veterans' association, the Cercle Francais, the Alliance Francaise, and many other French societies, who chatted in French among themselves.

"Like the immense majority of my compatriots, I am De Gaullist, that is, I take as my leader Gen. de Gaulle, until the day when France can freely choose a government," Mr. Bernstein told his audience. "I consider De Gaulle a man inspired, whose name will continue to grow, and, proudly attached to this war, will mark in French history one of the finest of our national heroes. I do not ask you to believe me. I simply ask you to remember what I say."

The fact that Secretary of State Cordell Hull called on De Gaulle a few days ago, en route to Moscow, caused great rejoicing among the French, Mr. Bernstein said. He denounced the suggestion that there are Communists among the members of the National Committee of Liberation, which supports De Gaulle, or that De Gaulle has ambitions for a dictatorship for himself.

"The general is an ardent democrat, and whatever the result [of a free election], the popular choice will be sacred to him," the speaker declared.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, William Darrow, Miss Elizabeth McCormick, Mrs. Byron S. Harvey, Mrs. Donald F. McPherson, Mrs. Frank E. Wilhelm, Mrs. Patrick A. Valentine, Mrs. Orville J. Taylor, Mrs. Horatio B. Hackett, Mrs. Charles W. McNear, Mrs. David B. Peck Jr., Mr. Brewster, Mrs. Otho F. Ball, Mrs. Edward A. Leight, Mrs. John Nef, and the Henri Davids were a few of those present.

Alpha Delta Pi Officers to Be Alumnae's Guests

Grand council members of Alpha Delta Pi, in Chicago to attend the 28th biennial meeting of the National Panhellenic congress, opening tomorrow at the Medinah club, will be guests at a dinner to be given tonight at the Normandy house by the five Chicago area alumnae clubs of the sorority. The guests will include Mrs. Sidney R. Stanard, Webster Groves, Mo., grand president; Miss Maxine Blake, Seattle, Wash., grand first vice president; Mrs. Thomas W. Harris Jr., Berkeley, Cal., grand secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Robert V. Jones, St. Louis, Mo., traveling secretary, and Mrs. Laurence R. Keltner, Akron, O., editor of the sorority magazine.

Winter Sports Pose Problems of Warm Attire

BY REA SEEGER.

Winter sports clothes are staging their annual revival in new colors but in the same old trustworthy tweeds and wind repellent woolens. Wiggle as you will in any seat at a football game, penetrating winds are something to consider, especially if you want to stay to the last exciting minute. And if you sacrifice fashion for warmth, looking like a well stuffed and shapeless sausage, you're apt to be unpopular.

But that isn't necessary. New football and winter sports clothes are shapely, toast warm, and smart. There are sweaters that protect thru any hockey or football game. The colors are just as husky as the warmth assured by all these fancy woolies. There are all kinds of flannel and wool underlayers, from the flaming red flannels [short and long] to underskirts. There are wool jersey blouses to wear with your smartest tweeds that equal the swank of anything in crepe or satin. Long sleeved jersey blouses are the best bets and buys, for you can manage double purpose wear with these thin, but hot-as-a-tropic-breeze jerseys.

Fur lined coats seem to have been designed expressly for winter sports events. One of these cozily lined models is the best insurance against the shivers. Besides you can wear vivid color along with fur lining—red, green, copper, gold, bright blue, and so on. After the fur lined coats, there are sensationally effective wool toppers with extravagantly wide tuxedo collars of fur. These, too, provide color in bold shades—Irish green with leopard, tawny old gold with ocelot, nutria, or scarlet wool with wide revers of civet cat. The football and winter sports clothes are at peak interest these days. The full collections are well worth a fashion show of their own.

Stage Notes

"Without Love," the Philip Barry play with Constance Bennett, is adding Sunday night performances to its Erlanger schedule, and when Ethel Barrymore returns to the Studebaker Nov. 8 in "The Corn Is Green," she will play Sunday night shows for the first time in her career.

City Club to Hear Reports of Two Committees Today

The Woman's City club will hear reports of the housing and clean city committees regarding their summer accomplishments and plans for new projects at a 1:30 p. m. meeting today at headquarters. Mrs. Harry M. Mulberry, president, will conduct the session and Miss Helen M. Rathbun and Mrs. John Sharpless Fox, committee chairmen, will present the reports. Also on the program will be a review of Roi Ottley's "New World A-Coming" by Mrs. Charlemac Rollins.

Give the Food Holiday Touch for Halloween

Witches' caps, fantastic masks, and golden jack o' lanterns preface the Halloween party theme, but stacks of fat, sugar dusted doughnuts, popcorn balls heaped in a big wooden bowl, skewered caramel coated apples, and mugs of sweet apple cider are the traditional foods which make the party a success—especially for the children.

If more sophisticated dishes appeal to the grown-ups, individual pumpkin tarts, gingerbread squares topped with orange sauce, a colorful molded salad served with dainty nut bread sandwiches, or wedges of mahogany brown layer cake will afford simple party refreshment in a holiday manner. And if a dinner party is scheduled, start it off with a zippy cocktail of chilled cider, orange juice, and ginger ale in proportions to suit your taste.

Pumpkin Tarts.
[Eight tarts.]

- 1 recipe plain pastry
- 2 cups cooked and strained pumpkin
- 1 cup milk
- 3 eggs, well beaten
- ½ cup granulated sugar
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- ¼ teaspoon cloves
- ¼ teaspoon ginger
- ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
- ½ teaspoon salt
- 1 package cream cheese

Roll pastry to ⅛ inch in thickness. Line tart pans or muffin tins with pastry, and flute edges. Combine remaining ingredients [except cream cheese] in order listed and blend thoroly. Pour mixture into unbaked tart shells. Bake in a hot oven [400 degrees] for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 375 degrees for remaining time, about 15 minutes. Let tarts cool thoroly. Thin cream cheese to a workable consistency with cream and spread over filling or force thru pastry tube.

Halloween Salad.
[Serves six to eight.]

- 1 tablespoon plain, unflavored gelatin
- ½ cup cold water
- 1¼ cups orange juice
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- ¼ cup sugar
- Dash of salt
- ½ cup orange pieces, drained
- 1 cup shredded raw carrots
- ¼ cup chopped walnut meats

Soften gelatin in cold water for 5 minutes. Heat ½ cup of the orange juice and add to gelatin, stirring until gelatin is dissolved. Add remaining orange juice, lemon juice, sugar, and salt. Chill until slightly thickened, add orange pieces, carrots, and nuts. Chill in individual molds until firm. Unmold on lettuce or other greens.

Caramel Apples.
[One dozen.]

- 1 cup granulated sugar
- ½ cup boiling water
- ½ cup milk
- 1 cup brown sugar
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 dozen small, firm apples
- 1 dozen wooden skewers

Melt ½ cup granulated sugar in a heavy pan over direct heat. Add the boiling water and cook to a smooth sirup. In a separate pan cook the milk, brown sugar, butter, and remaining ½ cup granulated sugar to the soft ball stage [234-238 degrees]. Combine sirups and cook to the firm ball stage [244 to 248 degrees]. Cool to lukewarm. Dip each skewered apple into the sirup and twirl until well coated, then dip in ice water. If desired, dip in chopped nuts after coating with a caramel sirup, then place on oiled paper until caramel is set.

Molasses Popcorn Balls.
[Fifteen balls.]

- 3 quarts popcorn
- 1 cup molasses
- ½ cup granulated sugar
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 2 teaspoons vinegar
- ¼ teaspoon salt

Remove unpopped kernels from corn. Put molasses, sugar, butter, and salt in a saucepan, and cook to the soft ball stage [234-238 degrees]. Add the vinegar and cook to the firm ball stage [244 to 248 degrees]. Remove from heat. Pour over corn and mix well with a spoon. When cool enough to handle, grease heads with butter or margarine and shape into balls. Let stand until cold. Wrap in waxed paper.

TODAY'S $5 PRIZE RECIPE

Oatmeal with Apples.
[Serves six.]

- 4 cups milk
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups rolled oats
- 1½ cups peeled chopped apples
- ½ cup brown sugar
- ½ teaspoon cinnamon

Heat milk to boiling; stir oats in gradually so that milk does not stop boiling. Add chopped apples and place over hot water. Cook until apples are tender, stirring once or twice. This will require from 30 to 45 minutes. If desired the cooking may be completed on top of the stove; stir frequently. Add brown sugar and cinnamon.

Try Short Cut Yeast Breads; They're Easy!

If the element of time, or rather the lack of it, has deterred you from trying your hand at making yeast breads, just a glance at the following recipes should banish your prejudice. There's a lot of satisfaction in knowing that tender, fluffy hot rolls can come out of your own oven, and it takes less than three hours to prove your ability.

Two Hour Rolls.
[Three dozen.]

- 2 cups milk
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- 2 cakes compressed yeast
- 6 cups sifted flour
- 4 tablespoons melted shortening

Scald milk. Add sugar and salt. Cool to lukewarm. Crumble in yeast and stir until dissolved. Add 3 cups flour and beat until perfectly smooth. Add melted shortening and remaining flour, or enough to make an easily handled dough. Knead well. Place dough in greased bowl. Cover and set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about 1 hour. Shape into rolls and place in well greased pans. Cover and let rise until light, about 45 minutes. Bake in hot oven [425 degrees] about 20 minutes.

Refrigerator Rolls.

When dough is doubled in bulk, punch it down in bowl; brush lightly with melted shortening. Cover well and place in refrigerator until needed. Shape into rolls. Let rise and bake as directed in foregoing.

Speedy Wheat Rolls.
[2½ dozen.]

- 2 cups milk
- 2 tablespoons molasses or dark brown sugar
- 1½ teaspoons salt
- 1 cake compressed yeast
- 5 cups whole wheat flour
- 1 cup sifted, enriched, white flour
- 4 tablespoons melted shortening

Scald milk. Add molasses or sugar and salt. Cool until lukewarm. Crumble in yeast and stir until dissolved. Add half the flour and beat until smooth. Add melted shortening and remaining flour, or enough to make an easily handled dough. Knead thoroly, keeping dough soft. Place dough in greased bowl, cover, and set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk, about 1½ hours. When light, shape into rolls and place in well greased pans. Cover and let rise again until light, about 1 hour. Bake in hot oven [425 degrees] about 20 minutes.

Armour Ideas Make the Most of Meat

Quick, Individual Barbecued Meat Loaves

Cut your baking time in half tonight by making individual barbecued loaves instead of one big meat loaf! It takes only 1½ pounds of ground beef to make 8 of them . . . and everyone gets the cherished crust! Beef chuck is a good juicy cut to use for meat loaves—and you can count on good flavor and high food value if you get Armour's. For the Armour brand is an unfailing sign of choice quality in beef.

Mix ½ cup fine dry bread crumbs with ½ cup Armour's Evaporated Milk and season with 2 tsps. salt, ⅛ tsp. pepper. To this add 1½ lbs. ground Armour's branded beef chuck, ½ lb. ground lean pork, 2 tbsps. chopped onion and blend well. Shape into 8 individual meat loaves and place in a shallow pan. Use half of these per portion for 4 loaves.

Over them pour barbecue sauce you make this way: Heat together ½ cup catsup, ½ cup vinegar, 1 tbsp. Worcestershire Sauce, 1 tsp. chili powder and 2 tbsps. chopped onion. Bake 45 min. at 350° F., basting once or twice.

INSTALMENT XXXV.

CYRIL QUESTIONED.

"Charles the First!" the inspector repeated. "Worth something, I daresay?"

Joanna said, her voice like scrunching glass: "It's worth 32 pounds, if you want to know. That's what a few Carolus coins fetched at the last Glendinings' sale."

"Curio, yes; but are you aware, Mr. Brockett, that all gold is supposed to be handed in to the treasury?"

"Naturally I'll turn this in if the regulation demands it!" Grandly Cyril swept the coin into his pocket. "No official ban, I hope," he asked witheringly, "on my studying a few chess moves?"

"None, Mr. Brockett . . . Interesting set, these old chessmen. Come in halves, do they? . . . I see. I've no wish to detain any of you for long. I might put certain questions while you're all assembled, I think . . ."

Stalling, Wren thought, till the sergeant gets back. He's determined not to leave us alone. Her guess was correct. In a quarter of an hour Sergeant Peters put his head in the door, the inspector joined him, and again the five of them sat waiting while gruff whispers proceeded in the hall. The sergeant then resumed his post, while the inspector said, "Mr. Brockett? You next."

Molesey essayed a feeble grin.

Joanna was watching him between slit lids. The hands he extended to the warmth were slate blue with cold. At the same time, ill tho he looked, Wren had caught a new weariness in his voice, a gathering concentration in his uneasy brow.

Ronald leaned over the table, toying with the crossword puzzle Sam had half heartedly begun.

"What," he asked, "is Boring Balderdash in two three letter words?"

"Dry rot," Wren said promptly, then, looking over his shoulder, "but where do you see——"

She bit her tongue. The clue was fiction; but on the margin of the puzzle Ronald had pencilled: "In case J. did see me, we'd better come clean about my being here these two nights." Joanna watched them, an ugly glance that flicked in and out like an adder's tongue. Ronald, she saw, was examining her and Sam as he wadded up the newspaper and tossed it into the fire.

Seated on Joanna's bed, Cyril flicked fluff from his handkerchief sling.

"Old Peter?" he repeated. "O, not a bad old boy! Of course all that playing about with an actress less than half his age can't have been just the thing for his arteries, but——"

"Actress?" The inspector's voice had a granite ring. "Mr. Gloam's secretary—Miss Dancey, in short—is an actress?"

"Well! Shall we say self-styled? Her American company crawled back to the States. She stopped on—having met Peter Gloam."

"I see. And taking advantage of the raids Mr. Gloam brought this young actress into his own home. His wife raised no objection?"

"On the score of useless salaries, yes. I don't imagine she suspected anything worse. Miss Fripp will tell you that just prior to Gloam's collapse Lady Hyacinth was heard urging a curtailment of the ruinous overhead."

"You think she kept his office running merely as a cover for ——?"

"O, decidedly! He was a downy old bird. Only a pretense of staff—an office boy he could let roam the streets, a bookkeeper he could pack off to the record's office day after day. Ask Molesey how he's been collecting material for a history of St. Mary Axe his employer was supposed to be compiling." Cyril smiled and lit a cigaret. "None of which," he shrugged, "can affect this affair except, perhaps, as a sidelight on motive. Gloam popped off rather suddenly, you see. One imagines, without altering his will."

"You mean," said the inspector heavily, "he might have been expected to make some handsome provision for a certain dependent and failed to do so. That dependent might therefore . . . but we'll stick to facts, Mr. Brockett. During this overheard conversation—I'm referring to the one at the office between her ladyship and Mr. Gloam—was there any chance remark to indicate that gold or other valuables might be removed for safety to this cottage?"

"Gold, inspector? What an idea! Definitely not," Cyril declared with energy. "As far as a few scraps of talk could suggest, nothing of the sort was mentioned at all. No, that wasn't the matter under discussion. I was aware of my cousin's plan, you see. Quite simply it was to persuade her husband to invest in antiques against a soaring market."

Her ladyship had a free hand now, reflected the inspector, brushing the irrelevancy aside. He brought Mr. Brockett back firmly to the question of how and where he, Brockett, had passed the two nights of May 13th and May 14th, noted down the answers and let the interview close.

In the kitchen, Sergeant Peters elaborated the report of his findings at The Thistle. As far as the landlord knew, neither of his guests had ventured off the premises on the evening of their arrival, or on any subsequent night.

The inspector unlocked an attache case and stood frowning over the pair of fur-bordered bedroom slippers he had commandeered.

"Now which of these two women went out in these?"

Still brooding over the mules the inspector cautiously recounted the incident of Brockett's tumble and the disbursement of the coin.

The inspector stated with conviction that Brockett was by no means daft. His antique coin, moreover, would just about conform to the creases in the bit of newspaper. "Knowing the date of that paper, of course, throws a new light on this entire case. I kept a weather eye on the faces when this old sovereign made its appearance. Do you know, Peters, I'd have taken my oath each and every member of our crowd has been out to pinch some hoard only the owner knows about?"

Dairy Products Points Raised for November

The ration point values of 42 cuts of veal, pork, lamb, and mutton will be reduced slightly in the office of price administration's rationing chart for November, while more points will be required for the purchase of some dairy products, the OPA announced last night.

Beef point values will not be changed, and the rationing value of creamery butter remains at 16 points a pound. Farm and process butter are raised two points, from 10 to 12, and 4 to 6, respectively. Cream cheese, cream spread, Neufchatel cheese, and creamed cottage cheese are increased two points per pound, to 5 points each. All have been 3 points.

The new values become effective Sunday, and replace the OPA point table issued a month ago for meats, fats, fish, and dairy products.

Shortening, salad and cooking oils are increased 1 point each, from 4 to 5, and margarine is raised 2 points, from 4 to 6, per pound.

Ready to eat ham slices, with or without bone, are raised from 11 to 12 points, is the only increase over existing meat point values. Sliced corned beef brisket is added to the meat chart, at a value of 12 points.

Chili con carne without beans, in cans or bricks, is also added to the list of rationed foods, at a value of 6 points.

Veal loin chops or roasts are reduced from 10 to 8 points; veal sirloin steak or chops from 9 to 7 points; and veal and lamb necks from 4 to 2 points. The other meat reductions are for 1 point.

The new meat values are:

Veal—rib chops or roast, 7 points; shoulder chops, 5; rump and sirloin roasts, bone in, 4, and boneless, 6; leg, 7; shoulder, bone in, 5, and boneless, 7; breast, bone in, for stews, 2, and boneless, 4; flank meat, 4; neck, bone in, 2, and boneless, 4; shank, bone in, 2; shank and heel meat, boneless, 5; ground veal and patties, from necks, etc., 5 points.

Lamb—loin chops or roast, 8 points; rib chops or roast, 5; shoulder chops, 5; yoke, bone in, 2, and boneless, 4; chuck or shoulder roasts, square cut, 3, and crosscut, 2; neck stews, bone in, 1, and boneless, 2; lamb patties, from necks, etc., 4 points.

Pork—center chops, 10 points; end chops, 6; loin boneless, fresh and cured only, 10; tenderloin, 10; shoulder or picnic steaks, 6; whole, half or end cut loin roasts, 7; center cut roasts, 10; whole or shank shoulder, bone in, 5, or boneless, 7; butt half shoulder, bone in, 7; or boneless, 8; Canadian bacon, 11 points.

Ready to eat meats—corned beef brisket, sliced, 12 points; picnic or shoulder ham, bone in, 7, or boneless, 9; picnic or shoulder slices, 10.

Ration points required for variety meats, sausage, meats in tin or glass containers, and fish in containers, are unchanged.

Fruits and Vegetables Make Delightful Salad

Fruits and vegetables coöperate to make a delightful and nutritious salad, and a tart French dressing completes the job. Combine ¼ cup cauliflower flowerets, ½ cup orange wedges, 2 tablespoons finely chopped green pepper, ½ cup diced celery, a few drops onion juice, and a dash of salt. Chill and serve on salad greens with a dressing made with ½ cup lemon juice, ½ cup salad oil, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon paprika, and 2 tablespoons sugar or honey.

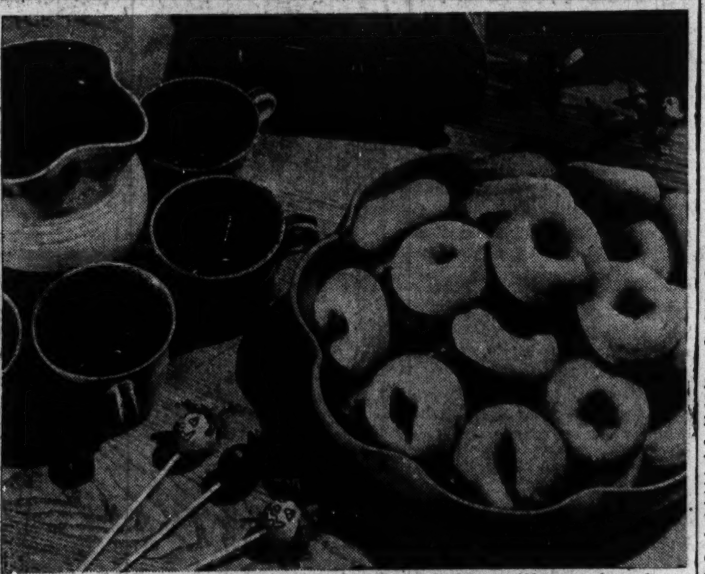
Prevent Egg Rings.

Those green rings around the yolks of hard cooked eggs are sulfur. Prevent their appearance by not overcooking the eggs and by chilling them in ice water as soon as they've cooked.

Doughnuts for Halloween



Halloween doughnuts this year probably will not be the made-at-home variety, for doughnut frying requires large amounts of rationed fat or oil. However, one needs only to go to the corner grocery for delicious readymade doughnuts which may be served plain or frosted with the Halloween mug of cider.

Jelly Making Advice.

When making jelly, use only enough paraffin to cover thinly. Too heavy a coat of paraffin may cause the jelly to "weep" and spoil.

Easy Chop Suey Recipe Uses Garden Vegetables

Garden vegetables go into this simple chop suey recipe: Cube and salt 1 pound pork, beef, or veal. Brown in hot fat with ¼ cup chopped onion. Add a bouillon cube dissolved in 1 cup boiling water and simmer for 30 minutes. Add ½ cup chopped celery, ½ cup chopped green pepper, 2 cups shredded cabbage. Cook for 10 minutes. Mix 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 tablespoons soy sauce, and ½ cup cold water. Add to meat mixture and stir until thick. Serve with rice or fried noodles.

Try Using Dill Seeds.

Add 10 or 12 ripe dill seeds to six servings of Harvard beets and you'll create a new dish to serve with roast pork shoulder. Or add 1 tablespoon dill seeds to potato salad and serve with cold sliced tongue.

Asserts Public Will Eat Less Meat in 1944

Civilian consumers, who ate more per capita last year than in the years from 1935 to 1939, will eat less meat and more eggs next year, G. L. Jordan, professor of agricultural economics at the University of Illinois, said yesterday at the semi-annual meeting of the women's division of the Illinois War council at the Palmer House.

Prof. Jordan said civilians will get only about 63 per cent of the 23 billion 283 million pounds of meat available for the year ending June 1, 1944, while the military units will take 17 per cent and lend-lease 11 per cent. With 2 billion 127 million pounds of butter available for the same period, he added, civilians will get 78 per cent, with 15 per cent going to the military and 6 per cent to lend-lease.

Seventy two per cent of the total egg supply—4 billion 965 million dozens—will go to civilians, with 10 per cent to the military and 14 to lend-lease, Prof. Jordan continued. Civilians probably will fare best on potatoes, he said, for of 20 billion 446 million pounds available, 81 per cent is earmarked for home consumption.

Prof. Jordan gave the following additional food distribution figures for the year ending next June:

Evaporated milk, 3 million pounds available; civilians, 43 per cent; military, 35; lend-lease, 11.

Edible fats, 6 billion 52 million pounds available; civilians, 65 per cent; military, 6; lend-lease, 22.

Canned fish, 723½ million pounds available; civilians, 47 per cent; military, 14; lend-lease, 21.

Canned vegetables, 263 million cases available; civilians, 69 per cent; military, 26; lend-lease, 1.

Canned fruits and juices, 61 million cases available; civilians, 53 per cent; military, 40; lend-lease, 1.

Citrus fruits, 13 billion 30 million pounds available; civilians, 74 per cent; military, 15; lend-lease, 5.

In the face of these cuts, the speaker emphasized the necessity for balanced diets and urged substitutes to make up nutritional losses.

Prof. Jordan shared the speakers' platform with nine other leaders in war activities. Ferre C. Watkins, executive officer for the Illinois recruitment of WACs, appealed to the 125 vice chairmen and regional and county representatives of the council to carry the message of the need for women in the army to their home communities and organizations in which they are active.

Mrs. Joseph M. Cudahy, co-chairman of nurses' recruitment for the Chicago chapter of the American Red Cross, said that there are now 33,000 nurses serving with the army and navy in the United States and in Europe.

"This is not enough," she asserted, adding that 28,000 more be recruited between now and next summer.

Mrs. Helen Horn of North Lavergne avenue announces the marriage of her daughter, on Oct. 9 in Glendale, Cal., to Lawrence R. Salisbury, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Salisbury of Glendale. The bride attended Northwestern university, and Mr. Salisbury studied at Glendale Junior college. They will live in Banning, Cal.

Announcement is made of the marriage in New York on Oct. 17 of Miss Madge Willstatter, daughter of Mrs. Alfred Willstatter of New York, to Dr. Herman Gladstone of Chicago. The bride was graduated from the Horace Mann school and Skidmore college. Dr. Gladstone was graduated from Northwestern university and the University of Illinois school of medicine.

Announcement is made of the marriage in New York on Oct. 22 of Miss Elizabeth Quinlan, daughter of the George A. Quinlans of Wilmette, to Ensign Edward N. Howard, son of Mrs. Arthur Howard, also of Wilmette. The wedding took place in the home of the bride's cousin, Croswell Bowe.

Pupils Make 13,520 Items for Fighting Men's Yule

Chicago public elementary school pupils yesterday completed the task of making 13,250 items for the Red Cross to help brighten Christmas for men in fighting services overseas. The items, made in art classes and sent to the Red Cross for packing and shipping, included 5,000 Christmas cards, 2,500 tray favors, 5,000 ice cream decorations, 500 greetings and other items for bulletin boards; 500 three dimensional decorative cut-outs; 10 collapsible paper Christmas tree centerpieces for dinner tables, and 10 copies of "The Night Before Christmas."

Mrs. Ed B., De Kalb, Ill.—I save on molasses—so it comes out slick when I measure it—by dipping the cup in hot water just before measuring. Of course, I can get the same results if I measure shortening first.

Sarah G., Lafayette, Ind.—I have given up greasing tins with shortening that is cold. I do a lot of baking and find I can save if I put shortening in cup and melt it over hot water. Then I use a pastry brush to grease tins.

Mrs. H. P., Chicago—I wash my canister sets frequently in warm, soapy water and this keeps any odors from developing. I take a mop to get into all edges. Then I let them stand in sun a couple of hours. This is a special help for tea and coffee canisters.

Autumn Wardrobe Standbys

These two new autumn patterns are wardrobe standbys. One makes a coat frock with interesting paneling in the bodice. It makes up as well in woolen as it does in crepe. The other design fashions a front-buttoned jumper with contrasting blouse.

Style No. 3520 is designed for sizes 16 to 20, 36 to 50. Size 36 requires 3⅛ yards of 39 inch fabric.

Style No. 2646 is designed for sizes 12 to 20, 36 to 48. Size 36 requires, for jumper, 2¼ yards of 39 inch material; for blouse, 2 yards of 39 inch material.

Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing.

Order Clotilde patterns from Chicago Tribune, P. O. Box 537, Grand Central Annex, NEW YORK CITY. Print name and address; state size. Each pattern is 10 cents, plus 2 cents for mailing. The pattern book is 15 cents, 10 cents if ordered with pattern.

According to Culbertson

[Copyright: 1943: By Ely Culbertson.]

"Dear Mr. Culbertson: I hold you morally, if not legally, responsible, for a grade A catastrophe that descended on my family last evening and cost us $1.30 that should have been put into war stamps instead of our opponents' pockets. My wife and I sat respectively North and South in this deal.

West, dealer.

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 diamond	2 clubs	2 hearts	2 no trump
Double	Pass	Pass	Pass [!]

"When I bid two no trump, I intended to run to three clubs if anybody doubled me, but when West actually did double, and North and East passed, my mind [euphemistically speaking] went back to the account of a brilliant coup reported in your column in which the bidder of a bluff no trump had got away with murder, keeping the opponents from going game at a trifling expense. With my South hand, I felt that I would have little or no defense against a four heart contract, and since the opponents were vulnerable whereas we were not, it also appeared that even if the opponents could run the heart suit against me, I would probably only go down a trick or two at two no trump. If I ran out of the two no trump double, I was sure I would have to bid all the way up to five clubs to save the game.

"Well, at any rate I passed—but things didn't work out just the way I'd hoped! West opened a low heart. East won and returned a diamond. West took my jack, cashed the ace of hearts and led a third heart. East ran the whole suit, then led another diamond. Six and six make twelve, so there was only one trick left for me.

"Perhaps I needn't go to the trouble of reporting what my wife screamed from the far North, and I didn't even have the solace of pointing out that the opponents could have made a slam, since her eagle eye had duly noted our two aces.

"I am sure you will concede the logic of my claim and remit the $1.30 by return mail."

Sorry, but I shall neither admit nor remit. Perhaps my correspondent is right in claiming that his hand was "like" one reported in my column, with which somebody got away with murder, but "similarity" is a highly dangerous basis for any bid. Anyway, maybe the $1.30 still went into war stamps.

Adult Sarcasm Is Humiliating to the Children

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1943: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"Dear Mrs. Bevans: I realize that children differ greatly from one another and that what disturbs one may not worry the other child at all.

"To illustrate: I have a boy of 8 and another 6 years of age. The older one is quiet and studious, but the younger lad is active and more or less happy-go-lucky and not what one would call scholarly. As it happens the younger boy, Edward, is now in a class in school where the teacher uses sarcasm as a weapon to make the youngsters behave, and the child simply can't take it. He isn't used to it at home, and he gets so upset he's beginning to show it physically. Jack was in this same class two years ago, but it never seemed to bother him, perhaps because his temperament is so different from his brother's . . ."

Sarcasm is a treatment most children cannot combat. It is unhappily the resort of too many teachers and professors. It is also the actual practice of some parents, a practice which is most unfair.

Sarcasm is a weapon that cuts and bewilders children. They cannot understand it. Besides cutting and bewildering them, it often humiliates them, and they bitterly resent the use of it.

Sarcasm directed against a sensitive child is a cruel lash. That may sound extreme, but any adult who cringed under it as a child knows it, and it goes deep. If your boy or girl meets sarcasm with indignation instead of feeling crushed by it so much the better, for the sting then does not go so deep. But all children prefer an honest scolding or even punishment to sarcasm in any form.

Whether you are parent or teacher, nurse, school principal, adult relative or friend to a child, your influence and discipline will bring greater returns if you use kindness and tact in place of sarcasm or ridicule.

Concert Series to Start.

Opening its 1943-'44 civic concert series, circle 27 of the Oak Park and River Forest Infant Welfare will present James Melton, tenor, in a program at 8:30 o'clock tonight in the Oak Park and River Forest Township High school.

FASHIONS

By Angela

Heat rationing worries may well be forgotten if the smart young lady drapes herself in one of these new novelty cotton flannelette nightgowns or pajamas. They are a far cry from the voluminous styles of year before yesteryear. These new nightgowns and p. j.s are slim of line, new in cut, created in stripes, floral prints, or plain colors, and are modestly priced.

For the edification of those preferring the high, closed necklines in their nightwear, the model at left has a smooth fitting, bias cut skirt and a trim shirtwaist top, pintucked in the vest, with a smooth turnover collar edged in a white cotton fringe. The background may be blue or pink with roses of a deeper shade forming the floral decoration.

A soft blue flannelette pajama modeled after the G. I. WAC pajama has comfortable, nonbinding trousers upheld with a wide drawstring belt. The jacket has long sleeves, a convertible neckline, with an unusual Vee yoke and single chest pocket. It is available in sizes 32 to 40.

Another attractive sleeping garment, sketched right, boasts an odd variation of the shaped shoulder yoke, and is trimmed with white chenille. The bodice has a slight surplice front closing, long, cuffed sleeves, high waistline, and narrow, bias cut skirt. The background is white, dotted with either pink or blue rosebuds.

A red and white candy striped model, sketched off figure, has a yoke of material cut diagonally and trimmed with white chenille. The front fold which marks the closing is also edged with chenille, forming a ruffle edge. The turnover collar is cut on the bias and chenille trimmed. A tight cuff on the long sleeves uses the material running cross-wise. This same gown is available in blue and white stripes, in sizes 32 to 40.

Good Morning!

Here's something gay and lighthearted, musical, and very gorgeous in technicolor.

"Sweet Rosie O'Grady" transports you to the 'way back when days and presents Betty Grable in the sort of role she knows well what to do with. First scenes show her as Madeleine Marlowe, toast of London—very la de da—and engaged to a peer. And awfully put out over certain stories in the New York Police Gazette written by a reporter called Sam Magee, who knows of her origin on New York's east side and of her one time activities as a beer hall entertainer. He refuses to let the past remain a secret.

When Madeleine Marlowe returns to Manhattan from her triumphal tour abroad the Marlowe mask is torn aside by the mean man, and Rosie O'Grady, willy nilly, IS Rosie O'Grady.

The O'Grady-Magee feud—and, finally, love affair—contributes greatly to the gayety of the nation—much of it to music and dancing.

Miss Grable and Mr. Young make a tiptop team. . . . Reginald Gardiner is fun as the duke who did a-wooing go. You'll enjoy Adolphe Menjou as Magee's delightfully unscrupulous boss, besides being dazzled by the lavishness of costumes and tickled by the sets and scenery of the eye-fillin' '80s.

See you tomorrow.

Dessert Bridge.

The annual fall card benefit of the Hinsdale senior center of the Infant Welfare Society of Chicago is scheduled at 1 p. m. today at the Hinsdale Community house. The party will be a dessert bridge.

Looking at Hollywood . . . By Hedda Hopper

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 28.—Emily Kimbrough's story "We Followed Our Hearts to Hollywood" is the finest thing done on our little town. It's hilarious—but not as funny as she is. . . . Reason Jimmy Fidler was cut off the air for 15 seconds was because he predicted Bette Davis would remarry her first husband, Ham Nelson. He didn't say when. I predict he's right. . . . Sophie Tucker's new tune proves that mama's still hot. It's "The Bigger the Army and the Navy, the Better the Lovin' Will Be." . . . Martha Raye's taking her own ham to Jimmy Dorsey's party — and I mean ham. Twelve pounds of it under her arm! . . . Rise Stevens' opera fans won't know her with blonde hair, nose a different shape, and minus 30 pounds. She looks stunning in "Going My Way" and introduced a new fashion. With every street scene she carries a different fur bag. They're beauties. She started her concert tour in Seattle, goes from there to the Met where she opens in "Carmen," and is set for a light opera on Broadway come spring. Paramount wants her for another picture. . . .

We Miss Her.

Teresa Wright, who's been ailing, is in Tucson for a month. Then she and husband go east so he can meet her folks. She won't work until "Bid for Happiness" some time in the spring. All these weeks and months she's been on salary. . . . Now that George Brent is going back to films, his hair's right color again—that dark brown you remember him by. . . . Maria Montez is still ambitious. She's studying French now—wants to do a play in Paris with Pierre Aumont as soon as war's ended. . . . Orson Welles postponed his trip overseas because Rita Hayworth can't go. She has another picture lined up by Harry Cohn. I heard the reason was that she's blessed-eventing but now understand that's not true.

Never Stops.

This will be the third Saturday night Cary Grant has played host at the Masquers' club. This time it's for wounded soldiers who are able to have a night out from nearby hospitals. That's one party I wouldn't miss. . . . Was mighty flattered receiving an invitation to speak at Stephens college in Columbia, Mo. Maude Adams heads the drama section there. . . . I had to turn down an invitation to wear a navy uniform. Coast guard wanted to make me Lt. Hopper for its women's auxiliary, and my son's a private there. Just couldn't be done. . . . Marcy McGuire doesn't like to wait for her chance, so to get her face in as many pictures as she can, she played a messenger girl in "Tender Comrade." . . . Leland Hayward is still wrapped up in cotton wool but is back home now. He must remain quiet another two weeks before his co-workers discuss his business with him.

Real—No Make-Believe.

Victor Maghakian, marine hero of Makin Island, who's doing technical work and most of the fighting for actors in "Gung Ho," has finished his book. It's called "Sweet Land of Liberty." He's still picking bits of his wrist watch out of his arm. Jap guns took chunks out of it when he made himself a human target so his pals could wipe out a machine gun nest. They nicknamed him "Transport." He was always on one of those things, going to another place that was hotter. . . . Anne Baxter, playing in "The Sullivans," gives birth to a baby one day in that picture and goes back to "The Eve of St. Mark" the next as a sweet, innocent child of 17, a soldier's sweetheart. . . . Speaking of "The Sullivans," did you know when the ship of that name was launched, the navy issued a call for Sullivans to man it? Forty-five per cent of its personnel have that name. Even Patrick Henry, aged 42, an uncle of the five boys, is now serving on it. Chief petty officer [not a Sullivan] is going mad slowly, they say.

Just Fool Luck.

Groucho Marx discovered singer Bill Days thisaway. Groucho went to a playback of his show, and found Days listening to a record. "What a voice! Who is he? asked Groucho. "Me," replied Bill. "I made it for a gag." "Well, you're hired," said Groucho, "and it's no gag." . . . Adolphe Menjou is back after five months overseas. Says "over there they're hungry for American girls and more musicals." The boys wanted to know all the latest gossip about Turner, Lamarr, Grable, Janet Blair, Gable, Raft, Tracy, Rooney, and John Garfield. Notice there are no glamor boys in that list. . . . Bob Walker, Jennifer Jones' husband, stays away from "Since You Went Away" three weeks, due to that motorcycle accident. Jennifer's wondering if without his knowledge she could give the darned thing away, or whether she should let her producer take care of the situation. . . . First Hollywood actor given a gold mine by a fan is Chill Wills. Donor was Sgt. Mickey Cianci, somewhere in England. But what's got Wills in an uproar is—is there any gold in it?

Open House Preview of Exhibits Arranged by School of Design

Friends of the School of Design at 247 East Ontario street have received invitations to attend open house at 4 p. m. tomorrow for a preview of exhibits of paintings and hand woven textiles by faculty members and students. A movie of the school, filmed in color by the motion picture class under a grant from the Rockefeller Foundation, also will be shown.

Among the faculty exhibitors present for the party will be Lt. [j.g.] Robert J. Wolff of the navy, who is expected home on leave. Several of Lt. Wolff's abstract studies are to be shown. The guests will see new work in plexiglass by L. Maholy-Nagy.

Others of the faculty having paintings in the exhibit are George Fred Keck, Daniel Massen, Johannes Molzahn, Charles Niedringhaus, Robert B. Tague, and Marli Ehrman, who will show her own and student work from the weaving workshop.

ZIVIC BATTLES RICHARDSON IN STADIUM RING

Bout Tops Opening Indoor Card.

Tonight's Card

TONIGHT'S boxing card of four bouts opening Chicago Stadium's 1943-'44 indoor program follows:

Fritzie Zivic vs. Bobby Richardson [10]. 150.

Pvt. Joe Maxin vs. Buddy Scott [10]. heavyweights.

Nate Bolden vs. Claudio Villar [10]. heavyweights.

Harry Teaney vs. Freddy Dawson [10]. 138.

Place—Chicago Stadium, 1800 West Madison street.

Time—First bout at 8:30 p. m.

BY FRANK MASTRO.

Fritzie Zivic, the young old man of the prize ring, will go to the post for the 176th time in 13 years of campaigning when he meets Bobby Richardson, 21 year old boxer from Cleveland, in a 10 round bout heading the first show of the 1943-'44 indoor season in Chicago Stadium tonight.

The former welterweight champion will be in quest of his 130th victory. He will be trying for his 70th knockout. In his last Chicago appearance, Zivic was upset by Tony Motisi of the Catholic Youth organization a year ago last Feb. 27. It was one of four setbacks the 30 year old Fritzie has suffered in nine starts in this city. His previous Chicago contests were held in the Coliseum, Marigold Gardens, and Rainbo Fronton.

Bobby Richardson. Fritzie Zivic.

Richardson Hits Hard.

Because Richardson has scored four straight victories and was beaten only by Jannazzo this year, his backers claim he is a stronger opponent for Zivic than was Motisi. Tony was a superior boxer but Richardson carries dynamite in either hand.

Claudio Villar, heavyweight importation from Astoria, Spain, will make his Chicago debut in a 10 round semi-windup against Nate Bolden, who, like Richardson, is a Golden Gloves graduate. Villar enters the ring in possession of a knockout at the expense of Buddy Walker and a conquest of Buddy Scott. However, his forte appears to be his ability to punch with authority. If in form Bolden should outpoint him.

Scott to Battle Maxin.

Scott, heavyweight champion of Texas, and Joe Maxin, leading light heavyweight contender, two of the cleverest boxers in the business, will clash in a third event of 10 rounds. Scott conquered Dan Merritt, while Maxin, a private in the army air forces and stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C., beat Bolden in their latest appearances. Scott has a devastating left hook, an asset Maxin doesn't own.

In the opening 10 round encounter Harry Teaney, Cleveland lightweight, also a Golden Gloves alumnus, will face Freddy Dawson, 1940 Catholic Youth organization champion. Dawson, clever, fast punching boxer, will be trying for his 14th triumph in 16 bouts in the money ranks.

All principals on the program will weigh in this afternoon at 1 o'clock in the Illinois Athletic commission offices in the Steger building.

A crowd of 9,000 may contribute to a $20,000 gate to see the show.

White Sox Send Culler, Swift to Milwaukee

The White Sox yesterday announced the release to Charley Grimm's Milwaukee Brewers of Pitcher Bill Swift and Utility Infielder Dick Culler. The players served as part payment for Third Baseman Grey Clarke, the Brewers' leading hitter. Swift, a National league alumnus, and Culler came to the Sox last winter from the St. Paul club.

How to Keep A-Head.

On the same day the jeweler told me I had the wrist for a watch and the optometrist said I had a nose for nose glasses I stood in the Chicago museum looking at an old-fashioned guillotine and as the guard came toward me a thought flashed thru my mind. I put my hand to my throat and dashed out of the place. Al Morrison.

Where Faith Resides.

I've had a dream across the years
Altho I know not why.
Somehow perhaps it will come true
Before age passes by.
. . . .
A cabin high upon a hill . . .
A cabin made of logs,
With furniture all draped in chintz
And half a dozen dogs.
An open fire ablaze at night
To gather round with friends,
And books to read . . . and songs to sing . . .
As twilight glow descends.
Some crimson roses in each room . . .
The windows long and wide
That open on a rambling porch
Where peace and faith reside.
The door will always be unlatched
For those who are passing there . . .
A haven for a tired heart
To find release from care.
I picture it within my mind
How real it's grown to be . . .
A cabin high upon a hill
That overlooks the sea.

ACUTE SHORTAGE OF BALLS FACES GOLFERS IN 1944

The golfing public which, thru a variety of happy circumstances, has enjoyed one of the most successful seasons in its history during 1943, must do a job next year if the game is to survive properly, George W. Blossom Jr. of Onwentsia, president of the United States Golf association, said yesterday.

"The manufacturers of golf balls indicated in their Wednesday meeting at the La Salle hotel that there will be a famine in golf balls in 1944," Mr. Blossom said. "They said that this last summer season found only 50% of the good balls had been returned to professionals for reconditioning. Unless there is an increase in this return from now on, the shortage will become acute, since no synthetic balls will be available for next year. It is, therefore, imperative that every golfer in the country salvage every ball he can and return them to his professional so that they can be reconditioned. Otherwise, the situation will become a truly serious one."

N. U. DEPENDS ON FRICKEY TO BEAT GOPHERS

Ex-Minnesotan to Close Career.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Herman Frickey, the half back the Wildcats couldn't stop last year, now wears the purple and this is one reason Northwestern hopes to whip Minnesota tomorrow afternoon in Dyche stadium.

Last fall Frickey contributed two touchdowns to Minnesota's 19 to 7 victory as right half back, the position he has held for four games this fall while the Wildcats were winning from all opponents save Michigan.

This contest against former teammates will be the finale of Frickey's 1943 competition. He will report for instruction at a new base next Monday and Coach Lynn Waldorf hopes that the motif of Michigan's victory over Minnesota, in which game Bill Daley, ex-Gopher back, led the way to a Wolverine victory, will be repeated with Frickey in Daley's role.

Ends Competition Tomorrow.

Frickey is one of four Northwestern regulars who will finish collegiate competition tomorrow. The list of V-12 men to leave Monday was extended yesterday when it was unofficially reported that Hal Hudson, reserve center, and Erwin Weingartner, reserve quarter back, both seniors, had been added to the group. Others beside Frickey previously announced are Ray Vincent, Don Buffmire, Dud Kean, Bill Deoduic, Joe Partington, Ed Nyden, and John Vicanich.

The Wildcats were cheered somewhat, however, by announcement that Chuck Dellago, a V-12 transfer from Minnesota, had become eligible and would play against his former teammates. Dellago, a sophomore last season, was a regular Minnesota guard until injury in mid-season. Coach Lynn Waldorf expects to use him at right tackle with Vincent and Dellago will inherit the position after this game.

Seven Ex-Gophers to Play.

Frickey and Dellago are two of seven former Gophers who will take the field tomorrow. Sharing starting honors with Frickey is Herb Hein, former Minnesota regular who now plays end for the Wildcats. Hein will complete the season at Northwestern. The other members of the once-I-was-a-Gopher club are Jerry Carle, quarter back; Ed Bush, tackle; Larry Halenkamp, end, and Vicanich, a guard.

Frickey, of course, can not defeat Minnesota without assistance, but the hard driving back almost achieved this peak of individual brilliance last year against the Wildcats. His 70 yard return of a punt scored the touchdown which blasted the Wildcats' hopes early in the game and another touchdown provided the margin of Minnesota's victory.

Frickey still plays a deep position on punts and Northwestern followers hope to see him race thru Minnesota tacklers to duplicate last year's run. Even if he does not get away under these circumstances, Frickey certainly will carry much of the burden of Northwestern's running attack. Buffmire, the full back, and Otto Graham, the Wildcats' forward passing expert, complete the group of starting ball carriers.

Graham's Average Under .500.

In four games this season, Graham is slightly under a .500 average for completed passes. He has tried 35 and 16 have been caught for a total of 245 yards. Supporting his throwing is a running gain of 123 yards in 44 attempts and the net yardage does not include, of course, the losses suffered when Graham was unable to pass because no receiver was in the open.

Since the Michigan game, when Northwestern was defeated, 21 to 7, and Graham completed only four passes in 12 attempts, the Wildcat star has steadily improved. Last week against Ohio State, Graham completed five passes in 10 tries for 103 yards and one of these tosses to Lynne McNutt scored Northwestern's second touchdown. Graham got the first by running.

This is Northwestern's homecoming game and university officials have planned memorial services between the halves for former students who have given their lives in the service of their country.

The Gophers will leave Minneapolis on the Northwestern "400" tomorrow afternoon and will check in at the Edgewater Beach hotel.

HAWK PRACTICE PLEASES COACH

Final Drill to Be Held in Arena Tomorrow.

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 28 [Special].—The Blackhawks drove thru two workouts today and their speed, passing, and shooting ability was pleasing to Manager Paul Thompson. Tomorrow they will wind up their training with a single practice, after which they will entrain for Chicago, where they will open the season with the Toronto Maple Leafs Sunday night in Chicago Stadium. Thompson plans a final leg limbering drill for an hour in the Chicago Arena Saturday.

Clem Harnedy, who participated in both workouts, received the nod from the Hawks' boss as the goalie who will face Toronto Sunday. Harnedy suffered a back injury last Monday and it was feared he would be unable to play for a week, but diathermy treatments have put the University of Southern California's former goalie in good physical trim.

WINGS SIGN DEFENSEMAN.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 28 (AP).—Manager Jack Adams of the Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey league tonight announced that he had signed Big Bill Quackenbush, adding that the blond defenseman would play center as soon as Pat Egan is ready to break into the lineup.

Quackenbush, who turned pro a year ago, spent most of last season with Indianapolis in the American Hockey league.

BRUINS GET GARDINER.

Montreal, Oct. 28 (AP).—Manager Art Ross of the Boston Bruins, today announced the purchase of Wilbert [Bert] Gardiner, veteran National Hockey league goalie, from the Canadiens. He will succeed Frankie Brimsek in the Boston nets. Brimsek is serving in the coast guard.

Gardiner joined the Bruins for today's workout and will play against his recent teammates when the Boston club opens its season in Montreal Saturday night. The Canadiens have decided to start the season with young Bill Durnan, up from the Montreal Royals amateur team, as their goalie.

Harry Kaad Bowls 300; Has Series Total of 794

Harry Kaad, veteran Chicago bowler, last night rolled a 300 game and a series of 794 in the Schamberger-Schlitz league at 2112 West Lawrence avenue. Kaad's other games were 257 in the first and 237 in the windup. It is the highest three game series in Chicago this year. Kaad rolls with his own team, Harry Kaad's alleys. In 1931 he established a tournament record of 823 on games of 276, 268, and 279.

Kane to Lead Illini Against Wolverines

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 28 [Special].—Jack Kane, Chicago freshman, was named today by Coach Ray Eliot to captain the Illinois football team in its homecoming game Saturday against Michigan.

Kane, 17 years old, who prepped at St. Bede academy, Peru, Ill., will start at center, altho he has played right tackle this year.

WOLVERINES IRK CRISLER.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Oct. 28 [Special].—Coach H. O. [Fritz] Crisler of Michigan expressed considerable displeasure with the Wolverines after today's practice session and ordered another brief workout for tomorrow before naming the squad that will leave in the afternoon for Champaign to face Illinois.

The Wolverines failed to stop a reserve eleven using Illinois passing and running maneuvers today and then on offense displayed none of the timing and spark displayed a week ago in their rout of Minnesota.

Crisler juggled the lineup constantly trying to find a combination that clicked. However, it is unlikely that he will alter the starting combination of a week ago except to insert Wally Dreyer at right half for Capt. Paul White, marine trainee who was transferred this week. With Dreyer in the back field will be Bill Daley, Elroy Hirsch, and Bob Wiese.

Michigan's acting captain against Illinois, Crisler said, will be Tackle Mervin Pregulman who will be playing his final game of the year.

CAMP GRANT TO INVADE MADISON CLUB TONIGHT

Camp Grant and Madison Athletic club amateur boxing representatives will meet in a rubber match in Madison arena, 4711 Madison street, tonight. The soldier boxers scored a decision over the west siders at Camp Grant last summer, but previously suffered a defeat at the hands of the Chicagoans in Madison-Cicero outdoor arena.

McLEAN'S DUE TO STAR FOR BEARS

Lions to Be Foe Sunday in Wrigley Field.

BY EDWARD PRELL.

While two of the National Football league's western division teams will be battling in Wrigley field Sunday — the snappy Detroit Lions and the unbeaten Chicago Bears — the other two western elevens will be looking for success in the east.

Ray McLean.

It's always interesting to guess who will be the Bears' scoring star of the day. In their last four games one of the lads has been a double scorer. Harry Clark scored twice against the Lions, Bill Geyer notched 14 points against the Cardinals, Dante Magnani swept across the Phil-Pitt goal line twice, and last week George Wilson made two spectacular six point maneuvers on passes from Sid Luckman.

It's McLean's Turn.

A popular nominee for Sunday's point honors against the Lions would be Ray [Scooter] McLean, who hasn't yet hit the scoring limelight, tho he did manage to make his first touchdown last week. McLean was second to the Packers' Don Hutson last season in scoring. He was Luckman's favorite aerial target, scoring eight touchdowns on passes. He went over on his own power for a ninth, giving him a total of 54 points. Hutson, likewise, is far off his record-breaking 1942 pace of 138 points. He's made only 37 points in five games. The league leader is Harry [Hippity] Hopp, Detroit back who will be a problem for the Bears Sunday.

Work on Pass Defense.

Yesterday the Bears held another long workout on defense against the Lions' tricky running and passing formations.

The Chicago Cardinals, who meet the Phil-Pitts at Pittsburgh Sunday, have given three straight opponents bitter battles. They lost to the Bears, 20 to 0, after fighting to a scoreless tie in the first half. They were beaten by the Lions, 7 to 0, the following Sunday. Last Sunday they came close to the upset of the year in Washington. They held the champion Redskins to a scoreless tie in the first two periods. With two minutes to go and trailing, 13 to 7, the Cards were touchdown bound for perhaps the winning points when an interception stopped them 19 yards away.

Cards Meet Eagles.

In Pittsburgh the Cardinals may get their first victory of the year, their opponents being the Phil-Pitt Eagles, who have yielded 90 points in successive losses to the Bears and Giants.

The Giants, under plodding Steve Owen, suddenly have become a factor. Their 42 to 14 whipping of the Eagles Sunday focused attention on them for the first time. The Giants lost their opener to the Eagles after hustling into a 14 to 0 lead. Then they scored over the Dodgers by four touchdowns and followed this with the revenge victory over the Eagles. On Sunday they will try to throw back the Packers in their eastern invasion.

PROPOSAL FOR 10,000 EXTRA TICKETS VETOED

Notre Dame Picks Traveling Squad.

Ward on Air

ARCH WARD'S Sports Preview, a coast to coast football program over the Mutual network, will be heard over W-G-N from 9:30 to 9:45 tonight. Ward, who is in Columbus to cover the Ohio State-Indiana game for The Tribune, will originate his broadcast from the studios of WHKC in that city. Bo McMillin, head football coach at Indiana, will be his guest speaker.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Cleveland, O., Oct. 28.—Navy will be here early tomorrow morning and Notre Dame will be here tomorrow night. And in between the two stirring arrivals Clevelanders will continue to go crazy as they seek tickets for the big football game between the Middies and the Irish before more than 80,000 here Saturday.

With indications that the weather is going to be better than Cleveland usually serves for football on its Lake Erie beach, and with the approach of the two great, unbeaten squads, the ticket situation, already tough, became infinitely tougher. The official ticket offices remained open only two days, and were closed tighter than anything for more than a week. A plan to ease the situation thru the sale of 10,000 special tickets the day of the game was vetoed by Notre Dame, it is said. Still, it is forecast with confidence that the largest paying crowd ever to see a sports event in Cleveland will be present—and the stadium where the same is to be played holds the major league baseball attendance record—80,184—a mark set in 1932.

Pairs Moving at $25.

It is customary before a big football crowd gathers to quote scalpers prices, usually fabulous quotations because there is no active scalper market. There is a scalper market here and the prices are reasonable, as speculator prices go. The lads are asking $10 for singles and pairs are moving at $25. There is no ticket scandal, partly because the scalpers have no bales of tickets and for the additional reason that special police squads and government agents are seeing to it that there's no funny business.

The Navy party of 75, including a squad of 45, will be billeted at the swank Tudor Arms hotel, some 100 city blocks from the stadium. The Irish will bunk in the Carter hotel, in Cleveland's business section. The Middies will no more than unpack their week-end kits than they will be asked to travel to the lake front for a workout on Saturday's battleground. The turf, which has been covered by two tarpaulins during the rains which have been giving down until this morning, was reported in perfect condition after an inspection this afternoon.

Probable Navy Back Field.

It was said that Capt. John Whelchel, the Middies' head coach, will not decide definitely on his lineup until he sees the boys loosen up tomorrow afternoon. Indications, however, were that his back field will have Ben Martin at quarter back, Stu Nelson, who also takes turns at quarter backing, at left half; Hillis Hume at right half, and Navy's lightweight triple threat, Hal Hamberg, at full.

The starting line will be the first string, the strong one, of course. This list of hardy souls begins with Capt. Al Channel, at left end. Roe Johnston, a former back, will start at right end. At the tackles will be Don Whitmire, a 220 pounder from Alabama, and Ed Sprinkle, late of Hardin-Simmons. George Brown and Ben Chase, Navy veterans, will seek to handle the traffic at the guards. Jack Martin, ex-Princetonian, will be at center.

Little Speculation About Irish.

Not much speculation is needed in anticipating the Notre Dame starting crew. It probably will have Paul Limont and John Yonakor at the ends, Jim White and Ziggy Czarobski at the tackles, Capt. Pat Filey and John Perko at the guards, and Herb Coleman at center.

Few will be surprised if one Angelo Bertelli starts at quarter back and there is some confidence that Creighton Miller will start at left half, Julie Rykovich at right half and Jim Mello at full.

Interest in the personalities of the game are even greater than usual, what with Bertelli engaging in his Notre Dame farewell. Then there's the Miller angle—Miller is one of the innumerable Cleveland-Notre Dame clan, and the youngster is a great favorite here. Several of the Navy lads, including the starting Hume, are from the Cleve-

INDIANA LOSES SCHIENBEIN FOR BUCKEYE GAME

Back May Be Out for the Rest of Season.

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 28 [Special].—Edward Schienbein, regular back, was lost to Indiana for the Ohio State game today when doctors ordered him to rest an injured knee.

Coach Alvin N. [Bo] McMillin said he hoped Schienbein's knee would be better in time for the Purdue game Nov. 20, but he doubted if he would play again this year.

Another injury will deprive the Hoosiers of further service from Paul Davis, sophomore substitute guard and back, from Lowell, Ind. He suffered a broken collarbone in scrimmage last night.

Coaches and players alike were gloomy about Saturday's game with the Buckeyes. In scrimmage yesterday and today a substitute team using Ohio plays made the varsity look bad.

Drill today entered again on defense to meet the varied T offensive combinations employed by the Buckeyes. McMillin said the team would work out again in the morning before leaving at 10 o'clock for Columbus. Thirty-two men will make the trip.

BUCKEYES TAKE TO AIR.

Columbus, O., Oct. 28 [Special].—Forward passes filled the air in both offensive and defensive aerial drills today as Ohio State completed its preparation for the game with Indiana here Saturday.

This is the second day of intensive action in the aerial field and bids fair to show the trend the game will take as far as the Buckeyes are concerned. There also was some time spent in trying to perfect scoring plays.

PURDUE TO SEEK NO. 7.

Lafayette, Ind., Oct. 28 [Special].—Chicago will provide the assembly point tomorrow night for a squad of 36 Purdue football players who will journey to Madison Saturday in quest of the Boilermakers' seventh successive victory of the season, according to plans announced tonight by Coach Elmer Burnham.

A number of V-12 members of the squad who have been home on furlough this week, including most of the nine marines who will play their final collegiate game against the Badgers, will join up with the squad that has been drilling here this week, for a blackboard session at the Edgewater Beach hotel tomorrow night.

The traveling squad which will leave Saturday morning for Madison, will be made up as follows:

BADGERS STRESS DEFENSE

Madison, Wis., Oct. 28 [Special].—Coach Harry Stuhldreher sent the University of Wisconsin football squad thru a long defensive drill here today as the Badgers started tapering off for the game with Purdue here Saturday. In an effort to stop the high scoring Boilermakers and keep the Badgers from being snowed under, the Wisconsin coaches have revised their defensive setup.

The Badgers looked impressive on defense against Purdue's running attack, but the opposition was weak. The Badgers also have been polishing their air game for the Purdue clash. Passers were hitting their marks in good style today.

All except two of the Badger cripples will be ready for Saturday altho Pat Weber, who was slated to start at left end, suffered a leg injury late in the drill that may slow him up. Clarence Self, out for two weeks' now is ready to alternate with Paul McLaughlin at left half altho the latter will get the starting call.

A crowd of close to 15,000 is expected to see the annual Dad's day game.

36 SAILORS HEAD FOR GAME WITH WEST. MICHIGAN

A squad of 36 Great Lakes Bluejackets will leave at 9:30 a. m. today for Kalamazoo, Mich., where they meet the Western Michigan Broncos in a belated Navy Day football show Saturday.

Lt. Paul D. [Tony] Hinkle announced one change in his probable lineup as he selected his squad of 23 linemen and 13 backs for the trip. Dick Stealy, slowed by injuries since the opener with Fort Riley, probably will start at center in place of John Day.

The starting back field will include Paul Anderson at quarter back, Steve Lach and Emil Sitko at the half backs, and Dewey Proctor at full back. In the first line are Ends Joe Schwarting and Cecil Pirkey; tackles, George Perpich and Graham Martin; guards, Russ Letlow and Libero Bertagnolli, and Stealy at center.

HAWKEYES SCRIMMAGE.

Iowa City, Ia., Oct. 28 [Special].—A scheduled intrasquad game was canceled and the Iowa Hawkeyes ran thru offensive drill and a 45 minute scrimmage today.

The team will not practice tomorrow because of an open date Saturday.

In the Iowans' first team back field, which probably will start the remaining games this year, were Roger Stephens, quarter back; Howard Larson and Henry Terrell, half backs, and Bill Gallagher, full back.

Several new plays were in the Hawkeyes' repertoire. Passing also came in for considerable attention.

SPRINGER CLUB TO OPEN 2 DAY TEST TOMORROW

The English Springer Spaniel club of the Central States will hold its annual field trial tomorrow and Sunday west of Lake Bluff near the junction of route 176 and Green Bay road. The puppy, amateur and shooting dog stakes are scheduled to be run tomorrow with the first event starting at 9 a. m. On Sunday the open all age stake will be contested.

Judges for the trial are Claude Jasper of Madison, Wis., and B. F. Genty of Lake Bluff. Officers of the club said yesterday that sportsmen are invited to attend. The trial will feature the work of several champions. Many young springers will make their first bid for honors in the open all age stake.

Wegrzyn Ties Skoronski for Lead with 11

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Tony Skoronski and Leonard Wegrzyn yesterday completed another chapter of that entertaining volume called the Rover Boys at Sportsman's Park.

These two youngsters, who seem determined to dominate all the other riders at the half mile track, are involved in a bitter duel between themselves, with Eddie Franklin bobbing in every so often to provide variety.

Wegrzyn's first significant move of the afternoon was to bring in Red Tet at a little better than even money in the second to tie Skoronski and Franklin for the riding lead with 10 winners each.

Takes Lead Again.

Skoronski, who has been able to keep pace with his rivals despite a vacation of five days at the request of the stewards, came back promptly with Millo at 3 to 2 in the fifth, thereby getting out all by himself in the lead once again.

Wegrzyn wasn't thru, however. The feature event of the afternoon, a seven furlong allowance event, shaped up as a two horse and two jockey race between Wegrzyn on Franks Boy at 7 to 5 and Skoronski on Marion Collins at 2 to 1.

Once the running began, however, Wegrzyn and Franks Boy had just about everything to themselves. This 7 year old horse grabbed the lead at once, led all the way, and had too big an advantage to be menaced when Skoronski got Marion Collins moving fast in the later stages. Franks Boy beat his rival to the finish by four lengths. This left Wegrzyn and Skoronski in a tie at 11 winners each.

Jessop Wins Three.

While the top lads were whipping away for the lead, Don Jessop, who hitherto had been performing with only indifferent success, had a fine afternoon. To his three previous winners he added three more—Brilliant Fly in the first, Riskton in the third and Eleventh Hour in the seventh.

Riskton was an even money shot, but the other two returned substantial prices, Brilliant Fly paying off at $20 and Eleventh Hour at $27.20.

The stewards levied two penalties in Eleventh Hour's race. Jockey J. W. Martin, who finished third aboard Free Miss, was fined $25 for failure to keep his mount straight in the stretch, and Walter Warren, who was second on Gay Elf, also was assessed $25 for interfering with Eleventh Hour on the turn into the stretch.

LOGAN SQUARE, GORANSON FIVES BOWL TONIGHT

One of the outstanding bowling battles of the season is expected tonight when the swift traveling Goranson's, captained by Dot Miller, meet Tess Morris' Logan Square Buicks, world and state titleholders, in a showdown match in Charley Burman's Playdium All-Star ladies' league. Both squads swept their last series to go into tonight's duel with a record of 19 victories and only two defeats each. The remainder of the schedule follows:

John's Grill vs. Playdium 30 Lanes; Art J. Williams vs. Atlas Pragers; Ward Mitchells vs. Pepsi Cola Girls; Bee Vacs vs. Marigold Arcade; Gus' Bing Bong vs. Bowl Haven; Durkee's Margarines vs. Lukke Radios; Kay Daumits vs. Double Colas, and Simpson Clothes vs. Pabst Blue Ribbons.

The fast twelve-team Knights of Columbus league will return tonight to Lloyd Wevang's Cascade Center, newly chosen site of the qualifying rounds for the All-Star tournament. The schedule sends Quigley vs. St. Patrick; Hughes [J. H. McKeown] vs. Bishop Ketteler; Charles Carroll vs. St. Paul [Acme Fireman]; Hennepin-Shields vs. Co-Council; Browson [Meister Braus] vs. Feehan [Lemon Kings], and Commodore Barry vs. Phil Sheridan [C. Kampff].

Two of the top ranking feminine bowlers of the country will meet in a special 24 game match tomorrow and Sunday at the Marigold Arcade. They are Laura Stellmacher, Chicago's match game queen, and Tillie Kagel of Indianapolis.

Mrs. Stellmacher holds a 195 average in the Playdium Ladies All-Star league. Miss Kagel two seasons ago bowled the country's highest total of 756.

Chicago toasted the birdmen with mellow
CHAPIN & GORE

When the big air meet was staged on the lake front in 1911, "all Chicago had a stiff neck". Tom Sopwith set a thrilling new speed record of nearly 58 miles an hour!

CHAPIN & GORE Kentucky distilled Bourbon was the choice of gracious Chicago hosts when the airplane existed only in man's imagination. It is the same today—C&G's mellow goodness and distinctive flavor make it the preferred whiskey of those who know good bourbon.

Try C&G yourself, in your home or at your favorite tavern. Reasonable in price, C&G is truly a finer whiskey.

TAFT WILL TRY TO STOP POWER WITH POWER

Battles High Scoring Amundsen Tomorrow.

The north section football battle between the Taft Eagles and the Amundsen Vikings tomorrow afternoon in Winnemac park will be strictly a game of power. Both teams are well fortified with back field material and, of course, the Vikings have Capt. Bill Chandler, Chicago's leading prep scorer with 84 points. Taft has tallied 150 points in six games and Amundsen 179 in six.

The winner of this contest will be favored to gain the semi-final round of the City league playoffs and an opportunity of advancing into the 10th annual Mayor Kelly bowl game in Soldiers' field on Nov. 27 against the Catholic league champion.

Congdon Is Key Man.

Taft, last year's north section champion and runner-up to Tilden Tech for the league title, has another well balanced team. Back at quarter back is Jack Congdon, a smart field general and reliable blocker.

Julian Byrdy and Paul Kendrick are the half backs. Byrdy is the team's leading scorer with five touchdowns and Kendrick has four. Bill Miller and Lefty Johnson alternate at full back. Johnson has registered 18 points and Miller 15.

The Eagle and Viking lines are about equally matched in offensive and defensive strengths, but the Eagles must be given a slight advantage because of their experiences against Austin and Tilden in last year's playoffs.

Crane Faces Steinmetz.

Another game which should go a long way in deciding the west section champion involves Crane and Steinmetz in Hanson park stadium. These two, along with Austin, are tied for first place with four straight victories. Barring a tie, either Crane or Steinmetz will be eliminated from title contention and Austin is expected to romp over Kelvyn Park.

When Oak Park and New Trier meet tomorrow afternoon in Winnetka it will decide two things: first, and most important, the ultimate champion of the Suburban league; second, possession of the Plastic Helmet trophy which will go to the winner each year.

TAFT STRATEGIST

Taft High's hopes for a victory over Amundsen in their north section championship game in Winnemac stadium tomorrow afternoon are pinned on the strategy of Quarter Back Jack Congdon, who hopes to lead the Eagles into the Mayor Kelly bowl game in Soldiers' field, Nov. 27. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

IRISH VS. NAVY CROWD SURE TO EXCEED 80,000

Sale of 10,000 Extra Tickets Vetoed.

land area. In fact, every Notre Dame and every Navy lad will have followers in the Saturday's vast crowd.

The betting is not nearly so active as the quest for tickets. Notre Dame is a favorite to win, but scarcely any bets have been reported on the mere proposition of winning. The parlay cards are making their calculations on the thought that the Irish should win by 13½ points.

The kick-off will be at 2 o'clock Chicago time. And in case you're walking in for the game, don't forget that Chicago time now is Cleveland time. The railroad time is different for Cleveland, but you won't be looking at a railroad time table, perhaps.

IRISH WORK EXTRA HOUR.

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 28 [Special].—The Notre Dame football squad, accustomed to daily workouts of an hour, put in another two hour session on the practice field this afternoon as Coach Frank Leahy continued preparations for the game with unbeaten Navy Saturday in Cleveland. Recess between semesters permits of the longer practice time.

Coach Leahy today named the following travelling squad of 37 men for the Navy game, departure being set for tomorrow afternoon.

ENDS — Limont, Yonakor, Flannagan, Zilly, Kuffel, Trumper, Ford.
TACKLES — White, Czarobski, Sullivan, Adams, Berezney, Tharp.
GUARDS—Capt. Filley, Perko, Meter, Signaigo, Snyder, Urban, Ruggerio.
CENTERS—Coleman, Szymanski, Statuto, Lyden.
QUARTER BACKS — Bertelli, Lujack, Dancewicz, Terlep.
HALF BACKS—Miller, Rykovich, Palladino, Earley, Davis, Kelly.
FULL BACKS—Mello, Hanlon, Kulbitski.

Tuskegee and Wilberforce Meet Tonight

Wilberforce university of Ohio and Tuskegee institute of Alabama meet in their 14th annual game tonight in Comiskey park. A crowd of 15,000 is expected. The 72 piece band and two companies of Negro sailors from the Great Lakes Naval Training station will attend the game.

Twelve of the contests, which take on a north vs. south aspect, have been played in Chicago. Last year Wilberforce emerged as victor, 13 to 7.

Tuskegee opened the season with a 12 to 0 victory over Fort Benning Soldiers. The Tigers played a scoreless tie with Morris Brown college of Atlanta, lost to Clark college, 7 to 0, and last Saturday defeated Morehouse college, 12 to 6. Wilberforce has played two games. The opener was lost to the strong Morgan college team in Baltimore, 43 to 0, in the mud and rain, but the Ohioans completely reversed their form by winning Saturday from West Virginia State, 19 to 6.

Coach Jim McCrary made some change in his lineup after the final workout at Washington park yesterday. He will use Capt. Carter Bowman from Morgan Park High in Chicago at center. Milner, Parker, and Shields, all Ohio boys, will be in the back field.

Wiberforce leads in number of games won 6 to 5.

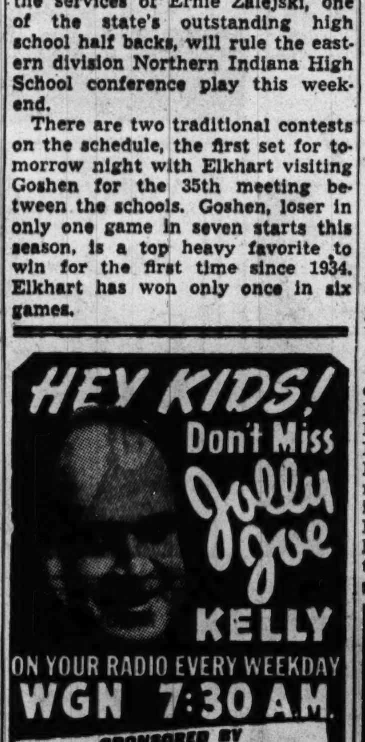
GOSHEN RENEWS OLD FEUD WITH ELKHART ELEVEN

South Bend, Ind., Oct. 28 [Special].—Ancient rivalries and South Bend Washington, playing without the services of Ernie Zalejski, one of the state's outstanding high school half backs, will rule the eastern division Northern Indiana High School conference play this weekend.

There are two traditional contests on the schedule, the first set for tomorrow night with Elkhart visiting Goshen for the 35th meeting between the schools. Goshen, loser in only one game in seven starts this season, is a top heavy favorite to win for the first time since 1934. Elkhart has won only once in six games.



The Inquiring Camera Girl

BY FREIDA ZYLSTRA.

[The Tribune will pay $5 for each interesting question submitted by a reader and used by The Tribune. Today's question was submitted by Mrs. John J. Elzinga, Salt Lake City, Utah.]

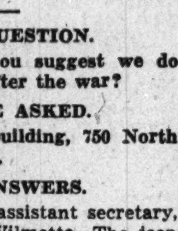
THE QUESTION.

What would you suggest we do with the jeeps after the war?

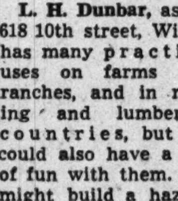
WHERE ASKED.

The Alliance building, 750 North Michigan avenue.

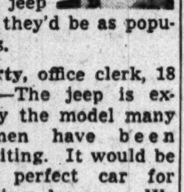
THE ANSWERS.



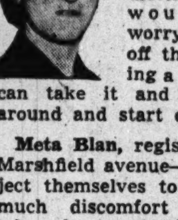
L. H. Dunbar, assistant secretary, 618 10th street, Wilmette—The jeep has many practical uses on farms and ranches, and in mining and lumbering countries, but we could also have a lot of fun with them. We might build a hazard course and stage jeep races. I'd wager they'd be as popular as horse races.



Margaret Toberty, office clerk, 18 East Elm street—The jeep is exactly the model many women have been awaiting. It would be the perfect car for driving lessons. We wouldn't have to worry about running off the road or climbing a lamp post. Jeeps can take it and we could turn around and start over.

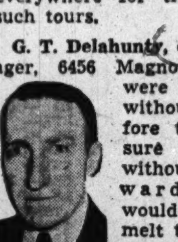


Meta Blan, registrar, 3345 North Marshfield avenue—People will subject themselves to so much discomfort to take a burro trip thru mines and mountains, I bet they'd really go out of their way to take a jeep trip thru uncharted country. Jeeps could be used everywhere for transportation on such tours.



G. T. Delahunty, department manager, 6456 Magnolia avenue—We were doing all right without the jeep before the war so I'm sure we'll get along without them afterward. I think it would be wise if we'd melt them all up into one huge reserve supply of essential materials to discourage aggressor nations.

Margaret Liolios, secretary, 816 Belle Plaine avenue—It would be great if we could auction a great number of jeeps to buyers of large denomination bonds. It would stimulate bond sales and the government could afford to give the jeeps to the high bidders after the war when they won't be needed.



Helen Calderhead, secretary, 510 Addison street—I make a motion that we give all of the left over jeeps to the farmers as prizes for increasing production. I think they'd really work to get one because they could use them. Then there'd be no food shortage and everybody would be happy.

FILES TWO MORE LIBEL SUITS ON SMEAR VOLUME

Robnett Asks Total of $550,000.

Two more suits charging libel in a notorious smear attack were filed in Superior court yesterday by Atty. J. A. Cobbey on behalf of George Washington Robnett, executive secretary of the Church League of America. One is against John Roy Carlson, foreign born writer, and seeks $50,000 damages. The second suit asks $100,000 each from five Chicago booksellers who have sold Carlson's recent smear writing.

Yesterday's actions bring the suits now on file in behalf of the veteran church league head to four. Two are in the federal courts. The first was against E. P. Dutton & Co., publishers of a smear book. This was transferred from the Circuit court of Cook county to the federal district court. Then on Oct. 26, Robnett filed another federal court action seeking 2 million dollars libel from Walter Winchell, New York radio and newspaper gossip; the Andrew Jergens company of Cincinnati, O., his sponsor, and the Blue Network Inc.

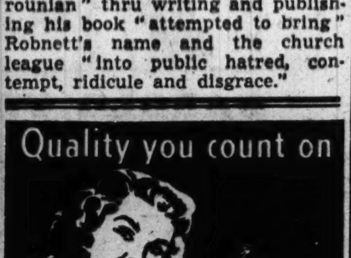
Called Dull Recital.

This suit is based on Winchell's radio promotion of what reviewers have called a dull recital of uninteresting smear charges.

"We will show," said Cobbey, "that Carlson is a book writer working for a salary. We have evidence that a group which is behind him peddled his writing around for more than a year seeking a publisher.

List Six Aliases.

Robnett in yesterday's suit charges that "Carlson, alias George Pagnanelli, and alias Thomas L. Decker, John Correa, and Rudolph Eibers and also known as Carlova, Derounian and Avidis Arthur Derounian" thru writing and publishing his book "attempted to bring" Robnett's name and the church league "into public hatred, contempt, ridicule and disgrace."



SIX BOYS' TEAMS GET UNIFORMS, DRILL TOMORROW

Tomorrow at 10 a. m. 90 boys between the ages of 12 and 15 years who qualified in the six football schools sponsored by the Chicago Sports association will gather at the C. Y. O. gymnasium, 31 East Congress street to be fitted with their uniforms.

After the youngsters get into their suits, they will be given a short talk on sportsmanship by Charles W. Bidwill, president of the association. Bishop Bernard J. Sheil, director general of the Catholic Youth organization, will explain to the boys the part they must play in setting an example for other youth to follow in sports. Mayor Edward J. Kelly is expected to meet with the boys also and wish them well.

The boys then will be taken to Grant park, where they will be put thru short signal practice by their coaches. The teams will retain the names of their schools and will be known as the Hilburns, Rockolas, Douglas Parks, Columbus Parks, Washington Parks, and Rheingolds.

Whiskey prices in Chicago

There is a nation-wide shortage of whiskey.

The whiskey now on hand is in no sense a "reserve."

Whiskey is aged for years before it is bottled and marketed and the present supply was intended for sale in '43, '44, '45, '46 and later. And now this supply must be stretched through 1947 and 1948 ... because distilleries are now making only alcohol for war.

That's why there isn't enough whiskey available to meet the public demand.

Yet since our plants stopped distilling whiskey last year there has been no change in the official prices of Hiram Walker brands except for the new federal excise tax in 1942 and the OPA adjustments in 1943.

The official OPA prices in this city are as follows:

Canadian Club — Blended Canadian Whiskey, 90.4 proof. 6 years old — $4.62 4/5 QUART — $2.90 PINT — OFFICIAL OPA PRICES

Signet — Bottled in Bond. Rye Whiskey. 100 proof — $3.42 4/5 QUART — OFFICIAL OPA PRICES

Walker's Bourbon — Straight Bourbon Whiskey, 90 proof. This whiskey is 4 years old — $3.40 QUART — $1.74 PINT — OFFICIAL OPA PRICES

TEN HIGH Bourbon — Straight Bourbon Whiskey, 86 proof. This whiskey is 4 years old — $3.22 QUART — $1.65 PINT — OFFICIAL OPA PRICES

There will be times when your dealer cannot furnish the brand you request. But in fairness to him, please be patient and remember that the whiskey shortage is real ... due to the war work of the distilleries.

PLAN 3 MORE MIDWEST HIGH OCTANE PLANTS

Others Being Built in Chicago Area.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28.—Three aviation gasoline plants being built in the Chicago area and Illinois will be completed within four months and three more are scheduled for construction in 1944, Ralph K. Davies, deputy petroleum administrator for war, said today in a progress report to the public on the government's 100 octane [anti-knock] aviation fuel program. The new plants will supplement three existing units in the area.

Davies said the project plants are part of a national program which the petroleum administration for war and the oil industry have had under way since Dec. 7, 1941. The program comprises 72 major plants of which 32 are completed, more will be completed by January and some are scheduled for 1944.

Cost Near 900 Millions.

The cost of the entire program, Davies said, is approximately 900 million dollars, of which more than 75 per cent is being financed by the oil companies and the rest by the Defense Plant corporation.

Capacity of the plants and their individual cost cannot be disclosed, Davies said. He said military authorities have permitted publication of the location of the aviation gasoline plants.

The midwestern plants now in construction are Shell Oil, Inc., Wood River, Ill.; Socony-Vacuum Oil company, East St. Louis, Ill., and two units of the Standard Oil company [Ind.] at Whiting, Ind.

Plan Three in 1944.

The 1944 schedule calls for another unit at the Shell plant at Wood River, and two Standard Oil units, one at Whiting and another at Wood River. Existing units are Cities Service Oil company at East Chicago, Ind., Shell at Wood River, and Socony-Vacuum at East Chicago.

Output of aviation gasoline currently is more than four times the production early in 1942 and in a few months will be about eight times the early 1942 rate, Davies said. He said current output already has outstripped the 1944 goal set by the government in the spring of 1942.

Davies said the aviation gasoline program has exceeded the synthetic rubber program in "size, scope, and cost." He said that in addition to the 72 major processing plants, the PAW has initiated more than 200 minor projects for changing or expanding existing facilities to increase output. The projects range from small conversion jobs of less than $10,000 to complete plants costing several million dollars, and two complete refineries, he said.

ASKS 'CARTEL' QUIZ

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28 (AP).—Representative Jerry Voorhis [D., Cal.] today called for a congressional inquiry into activities of the foreign operations committee recently established by the petroleum administration for war.

He told the house that establishment of this committee, which he said was dominated by major oil companies, might lay the groundwork for "complete cartelization of the oil industry in America under government sanction."

Under a directive issued by the petroleum administration establishing the committee, congress is "effectively by-passed," Voorhis charged.

"In other words," he said, "there will be no opportunity for congress to review its work. This committee can control the movement of oil all over the world, make arrangements and agreements with companies in other countries, and even, apparently, with their governments. It can control all shipments into the United States, and there is no way provided at all whereby public knowledge can be had of what it does or why it does it."

Deadline for National Refining Offers Nov. 2

Cleveland, O., Oct. 28 (AP).—Otis & Co., Cleveland investment banking firm, announced today it had extended to Nov. 2 at 11 a. m., eastern war time, its offer to purchase preferred stock of the National Refining company at $100 a share and common stock at $8 a share. The deadline was extended from Oct. 23 because less than the required amounts of stock have been deposited.

Machine Tool Maker Fights Renegotiation

Grafton, Wis., Oct. 28 [Special].—Grob Brothers, manufacturer of machine tools, asserting that only 12 per cent of its production is for war contracts, today defied contract renegotiation by the Chicago ordnance district. The company said, "We refuse any arbitrary assessment by a man, committee, or bureau without recourse to law."

The Chicago ordnance district contends that 90 per cent of the company's production can be considered government business and is subject to renegotiation because machine tools sold to other manufacturers may be used for the production of shell casings or other government contracted goods.

Cannot Trace Operations.

Theodore Grob, who, with his brother, Benjamin, operates the company, challenged the contention of the ordnance district that if the company makes a part, sells it to a motor manufacturer who puts it into a motor and delivers it to a machine tool builder, who in turn sells a machine to a company making shells, the Grob company is subject to renegotiation on that item.

"They want us to tell them what percentage of the tools we have sold is used for making civilian products and what is used on war contracts by other manufacturers," said Grob. "This is impossible, for many manufacturers are using their machines part of the time on one activity and part on the other.

Demand Legal Judgment.

"We refuse any arbitrary assessment by a man, committee, or bureau without recourse to law. This is supposed to be a government of laws and not of men, and we want to be governed by law. We are prepared to turn our business over to the government for the duration and let them operate it. Meanwhile, we will produce machine tools to the best of our ability as long as we can."

Benjamin Grob, in a telegram to the ordnance district office, said:

"We will defend this as a principle of freedom to the last, even tho it may mean losing our business."

The brothers said the district had been "nagging" them about withholding information ever since July 7, when the subject of renegotiation was opened; that they invited officials to examine their books, and that when the invitation was ignored they conferred with officials in Chicago, only to be told the bulk of their business was subject to renegotiation.

Breaks Down Profit.

Benjamin said in a letter to the district that of the company's profit dollar last year 65 per cent went for taxes and 22 per cent for new equipment, leaving 13 per cent for the partners, of which 5 per cent was donated to the Red Cross and other organizations, leaving 8 per cent for the four partners [their wives are partners].

"Any renegotiation money cannot possibly come out of this 2 per cent, nor shall we borrow money," he said. "It will have to come out of the 22 per cent for new equipment. In short, we will stop growing."

INDUSTRY GROUP CHARGES WLB IS TROUBLE MAKER

The war labor board was accused of fomenting industrial disputes in resolutions adopted yesterday by the Illinois Manufacturers' association, asserting the board "is building up a permanent union labor leader burocracy, which will undertake to dominate our political and economic system."

Congress was urged to prohibit the board or any other federal agency from requiring workers to join unions and pay dues before they can obtain employment in war plants. The association said the board, thru its many "union maintenance" and "union check-off" orders, had sought to "direct, manage, and control the affairs of and relations between employers, employes, and labor unions."

Altho the "sole justification" of the board is to prevent strikes, the association said the WLB had "caused an enormous increase in the number and extent and frequency of labor disputes, and has thus developed a 'feeder' system that is bringing all American employers and employes under its jurisdiction and control."

ONE RAIL WAGE HEARING ENDED; STUDY FINDINGS

Eastman Expects No Strike.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28 (AP).—Moving with unprecedented speed, a special Presidential board concluded hearings in a one day session today on one of the two major railroad wage disputes. The members said they would proceed to immediate consideration of the case affecting nonoperating rail unions, but asked the parties to keep themselves available in event further information is needed.

Altho 20 railroad unions are taking strike votes among their 1,450,000 members, Joseph B. Eastman, director of the office of defense transportation, expressed personal conviction that there'll be no strike.

Predicts Terms Will Hold.

He told the Presidential board that he believed workers would accept whatever decision President Roosevelt makes on the basis of the board's recommendations.

The case before the board is that of 15 nonoperating unions—the boilermakers, machinists and other railroad employes not engaged in operating trains—who for more than a year have sought 20 cents an hour wage increase. An emergency board recommended last May an 8 cent increase, but this was set aside by Fred M. Vinson, stabilization director. President Roosevelt then appointed the new board to reconsider the case.

Railroad managements, meantime, had agreed to an 8 cent increase and Jacob Aronson, vice president of the New York Central, appeared before the board today to urge that it be approved.

Contract Held Binding.

Donald R. Richberg, counsel for the unions, argued to the board that the agreement with the railroads for an 8 cent increase "is a valid and binding contract which is legally enforceable regardless of any action or nonaction of approval or disapproval by any governmental authority."

Asked why the railroads had not put the increase into effect, Richberg said he assumed they believed the government's approval was necessary.

"You haven't even asked us to put the contract into effect," Aronson broke in. "You know perfectly well we need the approval of the stabilization director."

Richberg said two courses were open to the unions, a strike vote and a court appeal, and that they could use either or both.

Suggests Mandamus.

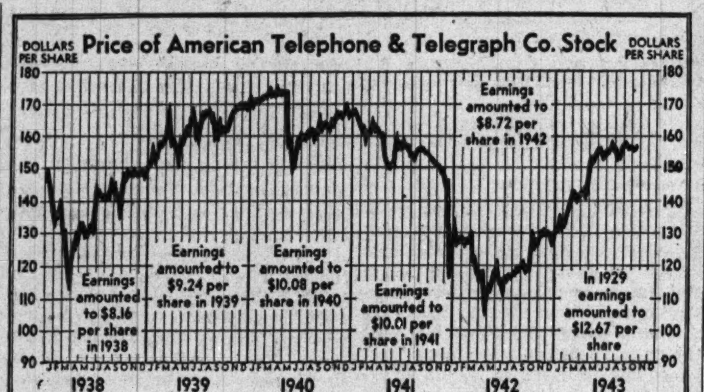
Elwyn R. Shaw, who is chief justice of the Illinois Supreme court, told Richberg the unions could petition the court for a mandamus directing the railroads to pay the increase and probably get a decision quicker than the unions could tabulate the returns from their strike ballot. He said the unions, if necessary, then could take their case promptly to the United States Supreme court.

Richberg would not discuss the purpose of the strike ballot and did not say directly whether the unions would or would not appeal to the courts. The nonoperating unions' strike vote is to be completed Nov. 25. The five operating brotherhoods also are taking a strike ballot expected to be completed about the same time.

DEMAND FULL RAISE

The Big Five railroad operating brotherhoods yesterday informed representatives of the railroads they will pay no attention to a railroad statement that the carriers considered the 4 cents an hour pay increase granted by an emergency panel legally effective as of Oct. 26.

"It is our position," the heads of the five unions telegraphed the railroad representatives "that no executive order or law effectuates the emergency panel's report so as to preclude our organizations from continuing to prosecute our demands in full. Any payments made pursuant to the recommendation of the emergency panel will not be considered as a satisfaction of our notice of Jan. 25, 1943."



NewPricePlan for Furniture Is Explained

Increased production of commodities in the lower price line is the objective of a proposed plan to change the price control of consumers' durable goods, Roscoe R. Rau, executive vice president of the National Retail Furniture association, said yesterday. He addressed 200 dealers from nine midwest states in the Knickerbocker hotel.

Rau explained that the plan had been evolved last week in New York at a meeting between representatives of retail trade groups and office of price administration officials headed by Reagan P. Connally, director of the consumers' durable goods division, OPA.

Timed to Fill Out Lines.

"Retail stores are exhausting their inventories of low-end merchandise, and manufacturers, because of the scarcities of raw materials, are not producing any but the medium and higher priced ends of their lines," Rau said. "Under this plan the OPA officials hope production can be stimulated to the point where goods will again be available in all price ranges."

Commodities, with the exception of foods, would be listed in three major classifications by the government, with the first two calling for rollbacks from existing retail price levels. About 100 to 150 commodities regarded as critical to the health, comfort and well being of civilians would be placed in class I. The government would fix a dollars and cents retail price for each item a little above actual delivered cost to retailers.

"Essential" and Top Lists.

Class II would be known as the essential list, commodities which the public should have, but which under a bedrock economy it could do without. These would be sold at regulated and specified mark-ups at prices below present retail levels.

Class III would be a larger list than the others and would include all goods not listed in the others. It would include commodities of better quality. These would be sold at prices involving individual store mark-up practices.

SEC SANCTIONS REGISTRATION OF OHRSTROM & CO.

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 28 (AP).—The securities and exchange commission today permitted the broker-dealer registration of George Lewis Ohrstrom of New York, dealing as G. L. Ohrstrom & Co., to become effective.

Ohrstrom's registration was revoked in 1939 for "wilful violations" of the securities act of 1933 and the securities act of 1934. His application for reregistration was denied in May by the SEC on the grounds that he had "failed to disclose his control over Gordon & Co., a securities house by which he was purportedly employed subsequent to the revocation order."

In approving reregistration today the majority decision said, "No suggestion is made that Ohrstrom's customers have been injured since 1939 by his participation in the securities business."

Department Store Sales 4 Pct. Above Year Ago

Department store sales in the 7th federal reserve [Chicago] district in the week ended Oct. 23 were 4 per cent higher than a year ago and 2 per cent above those of the preceding week, the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago reported yesterday. Chicago sales were 3 per cent above a year ago.

NO EXCUSE FOR COAL PINCH THIS WINTER, INSTITUTE ASSURES

New York, Oct. 28 (AP).—The policy committee of the Bituminous Coal institute today declared at the conclusion of a two-day conference that "there is no excuse for a coal shortage this winter."

A statement of producers represented by the institute said more coal was produced in 1942 and the first nine months of 1943 than in any similar period in history, "despite the fact that 70,000 of our trained men had gone into military service and war plants, and strikes in 1943 caused a loss of 30 million tons."

"Today," the committee statement said, "coal above the ground, in people's homes, and available for industrial requirements is more than twice that of normal years."

CARTEL CHARGES FILED AGAINST DRUG COMPANY

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28 (AP).—The justice department announced today the filing of a civil complaint in Trenton, N. J., charging Merck & Co., Inc., of Rahway, N. J., described as the largest producer of pharmaceutical chemicals in this country, and E. Merck Chemical Works, Darmstadt, Germany, with maintaining a cartel agreement in violation of the anti-trust laws.

The suit, filed in federal court, named as defendants Merck & Co., George W. Merck, president, and Powers-Weightman-Rosengarten corporation, a Merck subsidiary with offices at Rahway.

The German company and three of its members, including Dr. Karl Merck, were named as co-conspirators.

The complaint charged that Merck & Co., Inc., of Rahway and its subsidiary conspired with Merck of Darmstadt to divide world territory into noncompetitive areas by means of what they themselves described as a "treaty" dated in November, 1932.

Cost of Living Climbs Slightly During Month

The cost of living index increased 0.7 per cent from Aug. 15 to Sept. 15, Harold H. Grothaus, deputy price economist of the bureau of labor statistics, reported yesterday. The cost of living index for wage earners and lower salaried workers during the period was 23.7 per cent above the 1935-'39 average and 18.1 per cent above January, 1941, the base date for the "little steel" formula.

DEMANDS FREE FLOW OF GOODS IN PEACE TIME

Blood Asks for End of Political Curbs.

Political interference with the free movement of goods must be halted to preserve free enterprise, Howard E. Blood, president of the Borg-Warner corporation's Norge division and chairman of the National Association of Manufacturers' committee on post-war distribution, said yesterday. He spoke before the Chicago Federated Advertising club in the Hotel Sherman.

Howard E. Blood.

Before the war this political control was reflected in numerous federal, state, and local laws, codes, and regulations "whose passage was obtained by groups seeking 'protection' against competition," he said.

"There is reason to believe that the trend toward such laws, temporarily stalled, will be revived after the war," Blood said. "Every such law, unless genuinely justified on the ground of public welfare, is a blow at free enterprise. Eventually all business suffers."

Refers to Trade Barriers.

He listed these laws as follows:

1. State and local trade barriers, intended to protect enterprises inside their areas. Examples are state and local load limitations on trucks, state and local licenses restricting the work of salesmen, and local building regulations which restrict the inflow of "outside" materials even tho cheaper.

2. Those that used tax powers to restrain competition. Notable examples were chain store tax laws.

3. Those intended to preserve so-called "fair competition." The outstanding examples were the state price maintenance laws, and state unfair sales acts which prohibited sales below "cost."

He said post-war adjustment will be adversely affected "if the government permits its own distribution agencies, conducted for the benefit of the armed forces, to sell directly to private consumers."

Predicts More Buying Power.

Blood predicted that total purchasing power "will probably be greater than pre-war, especially in the low-income brackets, which will enjoy a higher percentage of total national income than before the war. This will mean a larger production of semi-luxury items than before, with a corresponding increase in the importance of distributing outlets handling such semi-luxury items."

"It also means a definite increase in the proportion of the so-called protective foods—fruits, vegetables, meat, dairy, and poultry products, with a corresponding need for distributing outlets for such products," he said.

Chicago Mail Order to Get Lehman Cash

Chicago Mail Order company, third largest in its field, yesterday announced a plan under which Lehman Brothers, New York banking firm, would acquire a substantial interest in the company and collaborate in a post-war expansion program.

Edgar L. Schnadig, president of the Chicago firm, called a meeting of stockholders for Dec. 7 to vote on a contract permitting the bankers to purchase 5,000 shares of stock at once at $15 a share, with an option to buy an additional 53,000 shares at $17 to $21 within nine years, beginning July 1, 1945.

Bought at $11 Average.

The stock closed on the New York exchange yesterday at 14¾. Schnadig said the 5,000 shares to be sold at $15 had been acquired by Chicago Mail Order at an average price of $11. The shares under option would be made available from authorized but unissued stock.

A joint advisory committee "to coöperate with the company's management on post-war problems and policies" would include Paul M. Mazur and Morris Natelson, Lehman partners. Schnadig told the stockholders the directors had considered it advantageous to coöperate with "an organization with broad merchandising and financial experience."

Covers 500 Mile Radius.

The Chicago company specializes in wearing apparel and transacts most of its business by mail within a 500 mile radius of Chicago. Seventeen catalog order stores are maintained in large urban communities. The company was founded in 1889 as a millinery house and currently lists more than 12,000 articles in its catalog.

The banking firm is interested in and has representatives on the boards of a variety of large department stores, food chains, and other retailing organizations.

RWLB Approves Bounty for Worker Recruiting

The regional war labor board in Chicago yesterday approved a plan of the W. F. Hall Printing company to pay bonuses to employes for bringing in new workers. If the new employe stays one week, the recruiting employe will be paid $2; if he stays a month, there will be an additional bonus of $5, and after four months a bonus of $10 will be paid.

COAL DISPUTES HELD BLOW TO FLOW OF STEEL

Bethlehem Income Dips in Quarter.

A shutdown in coal production resulting from the current "no contract, no work" attitude of miners would "raise hell" with the steel industry, President Eugene G. Grace of the Bethlehem Steel corporation declared yesterday.

Eugene G. Grace.

"We have been losing on our coal inventory in the last few months, and coal production has not supported the current high rate of operations in the steel industry," he told a press conference in New York in issuing the corporation's financial report.

Quarter Profit Dips.

September quarter net earnings were $6,573,892, equal to $1.65 a share on common stock, against $7,444,870, or $1.94 a share, a year ago. During the nine months of 1943 earnings totaled $19,416,795, compared with $19,656,471 in the 1942 period, equal to $4.86 and $4.95 a share, respectively.

Bethlehem produced steel at the record rate of 101.6 per cent of rated capacity during the third quarter, and currently is operating at 102 per cent, Grace reported. The nine month billings set a record at $1,442,226,813.

Grace said the Bethlehem ship building program he outlined at the start of 1943, "a ship a day including Sundays and holidays," was being substantially fulfilled, and added the yards were nearing their peak production capacity.

He urged a speeding up in the scrap collection drive and warned that "if there's any letup it won't be

PROFIT SELLING FORCES STOCK PRICES LOWER

Some Utility Preferred Issues Strong.

New York, Oct. 28 (AP).—Scattered stocks, particularly utility preferreds, continued strong in today's market, but profit taking affected recently soaring liquors and specialties, with a depressing effect on leaders as a whole.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was off 0.1 of a point at 51.1. Of 851 issues traded, 322 were down, 282 up and 247 unchanged. Transfers of 714,510 shares compared with 877,040 yesterday.

The lately popular American Distilling dropped 3 points at 62. United States Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Santa Fe, Western Union, United States Rubber, Anaconda, Westinghouse, Schenley, National Distillers, Distillers Corporation-Seagrams, and United Aircraft, all sold slightly off.

New 1943 peaks were scored by J. I. Case and senior stocks of Electric Power and Light and American Power and Light.

BONDS IRREGULAR.

New York, Oct. 28 (AP).—The bond market was irregular today with pluses and minuses about evenly divided in the active rail group.

The Associated Press average of 20 rails stood at 77.4, down 0.1 from yesterday. Volume aggregated $9,738,900, face value, compared with $11,050,700 in the preceding session.

Buying among carriers caused advances for Atlantic Coast Line 4½s, up ½ at 67¼; Central of Georgia Consolidated 5s of '45, up 1 at 41½; Illinois Central refunding 4s of '55, up ⅛ at 60⅛, and New York Central refunding 5s of 2013, up ¼ at 63¾.

CHICAGO LIST HIGHER.

Prices on the Chicago Stock exchange advanced again yesterday altho volume of transactions was reduced. Four new 1943 peaks were registered: Central States Power and Light, 9¼, up 1¾; Interstate Power $6 preferred, 5½, up 2⅜; Interstate Power $7 preferred, 8½, up 5, and Standard Dredging preferred, 17¼, up 1⅜. Volume leaders included Swift & Co., up ⅛; General Finance, up ⅝, and Chicago corporation down ⅛.

ALL GRAINS RISE AS MILLERS BUY WHEAT HEAVILY

OPA Says Wheat Top to Be Fixed Monday.

Mill buying of wheat futures developed on a broad scale yesterday on the Chicago Board of Trade, carrying prices up ⅞ to 1⅛ cents with the close at the top. May and July sold at new seasonal highs. Oats advanced ⅛ to ⅝ cent, rye ¾ to 1 cent, and barley ¾ to 1⅝ cents.

At no time was there pressure to sell wheat, and outside interest was exceptionally large.

Ceiling Expected Monday.

After the market closed the OPA said that the ceiling on soft winter wheat would be announced next Monday and become effective Nov. 6. It also predicted that ceilings would be set for hard winter and spring wheat, if prices advanced to parity. Western soft wheat will not be affected by the new order, OPA said.

No sales figures were given on flour, but brokers said the buying of futures suggested that chain bakeries had made substantial purchases. Minneapolis led the advance and gained 1⅛ to 1¼ cents.

Report Rains Needed.

Dry weather reports from the southwest increased. Recent rains were said to be spotty, and a large area in western Kansas and Oklahoma was reported in need of moisture. Where rains fell the outlook for winter wheat was said to show improvement. The acreage in the two states was estimated to show an increase of 10 per cent or more compared with last year. The western two-thirds of Nebraska was reported in need of rain, and part of the seeded area was in a critical condition, the weather bureau reported.

LAYS BREWSTER FAILURES TO LAX NAVY PAYMENTS

Shift of Management Is Also Censured.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28 (AP).—F. William Zelcer, who handled the Brewster Aeronautical corporation's export business in pre-war days, blamed the navy today for Brewster's production failures. He told a house naval subcommittee that the navy "arbitrarily withheld" advance and progress payments necessary for working capital in violation of the terms of its contracts with Brewster.

"Incidentally," Zelcer said, "today the navy is more in arrears than ever, and it is costing the company over 1 million dollars a year in interest on loans exceeding 55 million made necessary by this arbitrary refusal on the part of the navy to live up to its contractual obligations."

Blames Shift of Officers.

A stockholder in the aeronautical company and former president of the Brewster Export company, Zelcer testified that production began to lag only after James Work, first president of the plane company, was "removed" and other managements installed by James V. Forrestal, undersecretary of the navy, and Artemus Gates, assistant secretary of navy for air. He contended that at the "root of all of Brewster's troubles" was the failure on the part of management to provide a continuous flow of work for its employes.

Zelcer angrily denied any part in an "underhanded deal" to smuggle arms to Japan before the war and told the subcommittee that arms salesmanship was like any other kind—"a matter of knocking on doors."

He was asked to explain what part and what influence, if any, he and A. J. and I. J. Mirandas—his associates in the export business—had in the affairs of the corporation.

Produces Government Report.

The inquiry was focused, in large measure, upon the munitions export business as Rep. Robert A. Grant [R., Ind.] produced what he described as a secret government report—for more than a year in the hands of the justice department—on the activities of the Mirandas brothers and Zelcer.

The report as read by Grant said the export concern, in the late '30s, maintained resident agents in 47 countries, attempted to "purchase influence" to make sales in South American countries, "lavishly entertained" Japanese buyers.

It asserted the concern participated in a deal to circumvent a government ban against selling munitions to Japan in that period by shipping a cargo of guns to London, whence they were transshipped to a "legendary consignee" in Siam. The report said that the guns actually were unloaded at Yokohama.

"That report certainly isn't based on fact," protested Zelcer. "And I deny every intimation and dirty allegation on it. It's all sheer dribble as far as I am concerned."

CATTLE TRADERS REMAIN WARY OVER SUBSIDIES

Supplies Are Sold at Wednesday's Decline.

Despite the fact that important provisions in the live cattle subsidy program do not become effective until Dec. 1, all steer and heifer buyers were cautious in making bids at the stock yards yesterday, with the majority refusing to give even the $16 "ceiling" for the best lots. Most stock sold in line with the preceding day's decline.

The highest sale was at $16.00, with the majority of steers bringing $14.00 to $15.50. Several loads of choice cattle were received but none of them was as good as Wednesday's $16.40 kinds. Most good cattle showed 25 to 50 cents loss in the two days. Cheaper classes, such as cows and bulls were stronger, with some higher. Calves held steady.

Receipts were augmented by several thousand head of cattle carried over from the preceding day. The aggregate supply, however, was under Thursday of last week.

The hog market rose 10 to 15 cents in a brisk session, with the average at $14.40, 10 cents above the lowest since August. Top loads advanced to $14.60, within 15 cents of the OPA ceiling. Supplies ran heavier than usual for a Thursday. The 20 markets handled 100,000, compared with 98,000 the week before and 63,000 the same day in 1942.

Steady to 15 cents higher prices prevailed for most fat lambs. The $14.25 top was paid for western range stock.

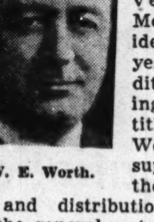
BUY MORE WAR BONDS TODAY!—3rd War Loan

People and Events

W. E. Worth, director of purchasing and traffic for the International Harvester company, has been elected vice president in charge of supply and inventory, Fowler McCormick, president, announced yesterday. In addition to retaining his former title and duties, Worth will have supervision over the company's order and distribution department and the general material control activities of the Chicago office.



W. E. Worth.

Ray W. Turnbull, executive vice president of the Edison General Electric Appliance company, yesterday was elected president, George A. Hughes, chairman of the board, announced. Turnbull, who has been in the organization for 33 years, replaces A. D. Byler, who is retiring because of ill health. Byler will remain with the company as consultant to the president.

Ray W. Turnbull.

Thomas D. Griffin, executive vice president of Local Loan company, has been reëlected president of the Illinois Association of Small Loan Companies. Other officers are Clarence Wyckoff, vice president; Albert P. Snite, secretary; John A. Breen, treasurer, and James H. Cronin, attorney.

Renegotiation and cancelation of war contracts, federal taxation, war labor board and man power problems, roll back subsidies and political railroad rate making, are among subjects that will be discussed by the Midwest Manufacturers' Associations, Inc., today in the Palmer House.

Ripley E. Bowden has been elected vice president of the General American Life Insurance company, St. Louis, Mo., Walter W. Head, president, announced.

LET WAR UNITS TERMINATE OWN JOBS, LAND ASKS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 28 (AP).—Rear Adm. Emory S. Land, chairman of the maritime commission, urged today that congress enact legislation to speed up procurement agencies' settlements with contractors on terminated war contracts. Advocating that contracting agencies be authorized to make advance payments to contractors pending final settlements, and that procurement agencies themselves handle terminations rather than a central federal agency, Land told a senate military subcommittee:

"If we've got brains enough to negotiate the contracts in the first place, we should have brains enough to terminate and settle them."

Land suggested, however, that congress lay down general principles to guide contract terminations, and that some such agency as the office of war mobilization be authorized by statute to act as a policy review board to pass upon cases involving fraud.

Meet Wally Welder from Factory 9
Wally needed extra money to buy his Christmas presents for Jean and Mom in particular. After looking around he found Wards the ideal spot for several good reasons. First . . . the work is clean and pleasant after a hard day at plant 9. Second . . . the pay is good and he has met a lot of other swell fellows there earning money for Christmas, too. Last, but not least, Wally finds his money goes further with the liberal employe discount he receives on all merchandise he buys.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC
OFFERS YOU
A GOOD PAYING RAILROAD JOB IN CALIFORNIA, OREGON, NEVADA, UTAH, ARIZONA, TEXAS.
FREE TRANSPORTATION FROM CHICAGO TO THE JOB.
HERE'S WHY IT PAYS TO WORK FOR SOUTHERN PACIFIC.

1. S. P. is a "front line" war industry. It serves more military and naval establishments than any road in the United States.
2. S. P. is a big progressive company. S. P. is the longest railroad in the nation, biggest railroad in the West. A big company means big opportunities.
3. S.P. is in business to stay. S.P. helped build the West. It intends to continue.
4. S. P. offers you the benefits of the Federal Railroad Retirement Act, the advantages of a fine Medical and Hospital service.
5. S. P. has the kind of job you'll like where you'll like to live.
6. S. P. is a good company to work for.

Winnie Was a Wallflower
Until She Blossomed
Into a Willing Worker

She had an eye for pretty clothes, but nothing in her purse to buy them. She had had no business experience and feared there was nothing in her head to comprehend it, then she visited GOLDBLATT'S streamlined dress shop and overheard the manager say that even inexperienced saleswomen were making good today. Willing Winnie began selling at once, and she's happy now because she's won security, a fuller purse, personality and friends!
